Akins Candidate For House As "Wet"

Urges Repeal Of The Eighteenth Amendment

To the Voters of Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton:

At the fall elections I intend to seek the Democratic nomination for one of the chairs in the Mass. House of Representatives. This fall we can and will elect two Democrats to the House from this district. I am making this announcement early because there is a lot of work to be done. I would appreciate the opportunity to meet and express my views to any group or organization.

On the liquor problem I favor the repeal of the 18th Amendment, but in stating this I am not appealing for the votes of drunkards, wife beaters or home destroyers. I believe that any decent, law-abiding and temperate person has the right to drink provided they do not abuse that right or interfere with the rights, happiness and property of their fellow citizens.

I know that my stand on this problem will not appeal to any hypocritical dries who sneak a drink in their club or cellar. And I hope it won't and I don't intend that it shall appeal to the human tanks or degenerates.

I am making my appeal to the temperate, law-abiding citizens, Democrats, Republicans, or Independents, who are as much disgusted with the present conditions as they were disgusted with drunkenness and its evils under the old saloon system.

(Signed) JAMES P. AKINS,
48 Lewis street, Ward 1, Newton.

West Newton

As the result of the appearance of a delegation of West Newton citizens at the Mayor's office on Wednesday morning in protest of the granting of the much discussed motion picture theatre license in West Newton Mayor Weeks has deferred announcement on the matter a few days. Prior to making his decision the executive office will take another poll of Ward 3 residents. Recently a poll was taken under the Mayor's direction with post cards being sent to every sixth name on the polling list. Of the one thousand cards sent out those returned showed a great majority in favor of the project. In Precinct 1 the vote was 128 in favor and 14 against; in Precinct 2, 134 voted in favor and 28 against while in the third precinct of the ward there were no dissenting votes in the 31 cards returned. The total figures of the cross-section vote thus obtained were 293 advocating the granting of the permit and only 42 opposed. Some of the ministers have objected to the theatre because of the fact that Sunday afternoon and evening performances will be necessary. One of the principal arguments in favor of the theatre is the resulting benefit to the merchants of the village through increased patronage.

Many clubs, and organizations opposed a similar project two years ago and have taken no vote since. The Mayor, who is known to be favorable to the matter, informed the delegation Wednesday that he would make every effort to determine the sentiment of the community and would be guided by these facts rather than by his personal feelings.

Want Newton Milk To Be Pasteurized

Small Dealers Object At Hearing
On Monday

A hearing was held Monday afternoon in City Hall by the Board of Health on the proposed order which will compel all milk sold in this city after August 1st to be pasteurized. Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Board, states that the proposed change will affect only a few of the smaller dealers, as all the milk sold in this city is pasteurized except about 1300 quarts. The Board of Health contends that raw milk is dangerous as it is apt to spread disease. The only milk which would not have to be pasteurized is certified milk. Present at the hearing to object were Allan McNeil, a Wellesley dealer, Mrs. Jeremiah Sullivan of Dover, whose husband is a milk dealer in that town, Frank and John Hurley of Newton Centre who have been milk dealers for over 40 years, and Gustave Ulmer of Newton Centre who has been a customer of the Hurley Brothers during that long period and who still wants to obtain milk in its natural state.

Mr. McNeil argued that if the small dealers who produce milk nearby are compelled to pasteurize their milk, "Certified Milk" should also be pasteurized. Mrs. Sullivan contended that the proposed rule will be a hardship on small dealers. The Hurley brothers called attention to the fact that their milk has been of high quality and has never been responsible for any sickness to their customers who have used it during the more than two-score years it has been sold in this city.

BISHOP MCCONNELL AT CHANNING CHURCH

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, President of the Federal Council of Churches in America will deliver the sermon in the Union Lenten Series, next Sunday evening at the Channing Church.

Bishop McConnell is recognized as one of the foremost religious leaders in the world today. His name is known in all religious circles, and like all great leaders he is not thought of as a member of any particular denomination, but of the whole church.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, when asked to name the two greatest preachers in America, named the late George A. Gordon of Boston and Bishop McConnell. When the Christian Century took a canvass among its readers to name the twenty-five greatest preachers in America, Bishop McConnell was among the very first named.

When a leading Rabbi introduced him in Pittsburg recently he said, "Bishop McConnell is the most influential man of the present age, and more than any other represents the prophets of God."

To Break Ground For New South Side Junior High School Soon

For Use In September, 1931

Newton's new South Side Junior High School, the first of the major building projects put forward by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, will be started soon. Ground will be broken this spring and the school, which is designed to accommodate more than 1100 students, will be ready for the opening of the 1931 school season.

The new Junior High School will be located in the heart of a fine residential district, about midway between Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. The site covers an area approximately 11 acres of well drained, nearly level meadow and on the southwesterly end of this lot the new school will be erected. A standard football gridiron and an equally large girls' hockey field, at least one standard baseball diamond and four tennis courts will be laid out on the remainder of the land.

Two well equipped Junior High Schools—the Levi Warren School in West Newton and the Frank A. Day School in Newton—have a prominent part in Newton's extensive school system and the new Junior High School on the South side of the city will meet the demands of the section of the city which is growing fastest.

The new school is being designed by Messrs. Henry & Richmond, Architects, successors to Guy Lowell, under the direction of the City's Public Buildings Commissioner, Cecil C. Chadwick. In describing the new building, the architects state that the structure will be "shaped not unlike a truncated letter V", the two principal streets adjacent to the building, Rowena road and Hereward road, converging toward the main front of the building. The two lateral wings containing class rooms extend, one northerly, the other, easterly paralleling the streets, and the large central wing containing the auditorium, gymnasium, cafeteria and locker rooms, extends northeasterly between the two.

These three diverging wings assure copious lighting of all rooms, many of which receive their light from a northerly direction. The equable quality of northerly light has long been considered the most desirable for class rooms where the student work requires optical concentration. The eye strain is at a minimum under these conditions.

The main entrance is at the central key location of the plan and is marked by the dominating tower. The angle entrances are nearest the public highway approaches and serve to distribute the students to their home room locations by the minimum travel. All rear entrances open directly upon the playground area; no through streets lie nearby and great freedom of movement between the building and any part of the play field is assured at a location entirely remote from vehicular traffic. This obviously promotes the safety of the children and minimizes the difficulty of supervising their recreation in the open spaces.

The architectural style is a simplified form of English Scholastic Gothic, perhaps best exemplified in England at Magdalen College, Oxford, and elsewhere at Oxford and Cambridge.

The walls are of waterstruck brick trimmed with the minimum of warm buff colored stone and accented with vertical elements as demanded by the architectural composition, here and there by buttresses, occasionally by gables and simple turrets. The roof is of asbestos tiles of rough texture and in a variety of shades, harmoniously blended. The floors and all principal partitions are of fireproof construction based upon a steel frame.

The interiors are, for the most part, extremely simple, as is fitting. The main entrance halls and stairways are treated with architectural dignity and such rooms as the Auditorium, the Library are given treatment in panels and simple moldings to such extent only as is essential to a well-groomed aspect.

Linoleum prevails as a floor covering because of its many and well-proven advantages, among which are cleanliness, resiliency, quiet, durability, and dignity of appearance.

A young man came to us asking what we could do for him toward his ambition to own his own home. We asked him if he could save $25 a month. He said "Yes"—and he's kept his word. That was four years ago. Last month he and his family moved into their new home, now partly paid for. We are financing the balance due. He is paying it off monthly, like rent. In a very few years, that home will be his, free and clear.

We are pleased to talk over matters of saving and home ownership and give our advice which is free for the asking.

NEWTON HIGH NINE GETTING READY

Coach John L. Sullivan of the Newton high school baseball team is rapidly getting the 1930 nine in shape for the opening of the season next Saturday afternoon on the home field with the West Warwick High team of West Warwick, Rhode Island. It is uncertain at the present time whether it will be possible to use the new diamond at Clafin Field. If the new diamond is not in shape the game will be played on the old diamond, which is now available because of the shifting of the portable stands in left field to the Newton Centre playground for the coming season, or at one of the playgrounds in the city. Definite announcement will be made next week.

The Newton team will play a practice game at Clafin Field tomorrow morning with the Wellesley High school team and faculty manager Dr. Martin is trying to arrange another practice contest for next Tuesday. During the past few days games have been played by teams chosen from the varsity squad. For the present Coach Sullivan has twenty-five lads on the squad but will cut this number to about eighteen within a few days. No batting order has yet been determined but the Newton mentor and his assistant, "Jeff" Jones, will make their choice to the position for tomorrow's affair with Wellesley.

Six pitchers are working out with the varsity squad. They are Bernard Chipman, Robert Dalton, George Kraber, James McAdams, Frank Giles, and Tom Rhodes. Chipman and Dalton have a slight edge on Kraber with Dalton's stickwork making him a favorite for the outfield if the need arises. All three are in their last season of high school sports. McAdams, a sophomore, went on the ineligible list recently and will have to postpone his bid for a place on the team for another year. Rhodes, a left-hander, and Giles are freshmen and have shown much promise.

Rhodes can also play the outfield and will probably be retained on the squad while Giles will get more benefit by regular service with the intermediate or junior varsity team.

Behind the bat Milton Fine, a hurdler and high jumper on the track team, has the inside track although closely pressed by Norbert Champagne. Fine is a senior while the latter will be available another year. Lyons, another promising catcher, is ineligible.

At first base Charles Butler, end on the 1929 football team, will probably start. He stands six feet five and is a mark for the infielders that they can hardly miss on a hurried throw. Butler fields the ball well and under the tutelage of assistant coach Jones, a former Harvard first baseman, should improve in this respect as well as in his batting. Hennessey and John McCarthy, football end and basketball forward, are staging a close race for the substitute berth. Hennessey hits the ball and, like Butler, has another year to play.

Joe Doucette, the pepper box of the team, is holding down second base with Harold Stromborg, football captain-elect, in reserve. Being small but quick he may make an ideal lead-off man.

John Barry is the leading shortstop candidate with Norman Appleyard in reserve while George Bennett and Bernard Litchfield are at the hot corner. Appleyard is also being used as utility third baseman. Bennett is the outstanding prospect on the squad, with an arm similar to that of Arthur Wilson, the 1929 third baseman, and the fielding ability of Edgar Warren, the 1928 third baseman.

Captain Perry Elrod will play center field. In the practice sessions he has given every indication of coming through with the bat. His specialty is dragging bunts as he bats from the left side of the plate. His speed is enabling him to beat out many a tap that would otherwise be an out at first. George Hildreth, hockey captain-elect, and Warren Colby will probably start in left and right fields respectively. Both are hitting the ball hard and will be looked upon, with Bennett, to carry the brunt of the offense. With Doucette and Elrod batting first and second and Colby, Hildreth and Bennett the three next batters, although this trio might not be in any order, the orange and black nine may develop an attack that will not equal that of last year but will cause many a schoolboy pitcher considerable trouble. Walter Blackler and James Shorten, utility outfielders, round out the squad.

SPORT NOTES

Awarded Letter at Tabor

Richard Patey, N. H. S. '29, of Newtonville, who played on the Tabor Academy hockey team the past winter was recently awarded his letter.

In B. A. A. Marathon

Augustus Signore of Newton Centre, entered in the annual B. A. A. marathon representing the St. Rose Club of Chelsea. Signore was on the Newton high track team the past two years and with his brother comprised a 1000-yard pair that won several points in the dual meets. Both have also made quite a name for themselves in various 10-mile road races.

Cronin Hits Well

In one of the closing games of the Braves-Athletics pre-season series in Florida Bill Cronin caught the entire ninth inning. The Braves won out in the ninth inning, 15 to 14, by cutting off a four-run athletic rally in the nick of time. Cronin got two hits out of four times up one of which was a two bagger and was directly responsible for several runs, scoring twice himself.

Warren Going South

Edgar Warren, former Newton high third baseman, and now a sophomore at Yale is one of the 19 players now on the annual southern trip. Warren, a star on the freshman team last year, has the hot corner position on the varsity all to himself. Aldrich, a two-year veteran, was shifted to the pitching staff when Warren reported and has now gone behind the bat where he will probably stay as a regular.

Three Retained at B. U.

The three former Newton high athletes on the Boston University baseball squad were retained when the final cut was made last week Friday. Carleton McCullough will hold down centerfield in the opening game of the season with Harvard this afternoon while Victor Stout has been retained as a utility infielder and Leslie Church as one of the pitching staff.

Reilly Gets Letter

Bill Reilly, captain-elect of the 1931 St. John's Prep school hockey team, was among those awarded letters recently for the past season's play. Reilly was a three-sport star at Newton high before his graduation in 1929.

Kelley Loses At Lawrence

Charles Kelley of Newton, amateur state title holder in the 147-lb. class, lost the decision in a semi-final round boxing bout at Lawrence last Friday evening. Al Zappala of Lawrence gave a great exhibition in winning the award over the Newton boxer and then going into the finals to win over Tuccolo of Haverhill.

De Wolfe Wins At Providence

Wallace De Wolfe won the award in the 160-lb. class at the golden glove boxing tournament at Providence last week Friday night.

On Brookline Nine

"Doc" Timmins a former Newton high student, is expected to hold down the shortstop position on the Brookline high school baseball team this season. As a freshman two years ago Timmins looked promising to Coach Sullivan but when his parents moved to Brookline he was not available for the Newton nine. Timmins' younger brother, William, will play second base for the Brookline team.

Whitmore With Tennis Team

Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high athlete, who has starred in hockey for Boston University the past two years, has reported for the Terrier tennis team. There are ten veterans available for the net team and Whitmore and a few other newcomers expected to make the going lively.

Harold Andres has been playing left field for Dartmouth during the games played on the present southern trip. He has been getting his share of hits and runs although the Dartmouth nine has been having a tough time getting on the winning path.

Hill Back with Net Team

Malcom T. Hill of Waban, after a year's layoff, is back with the Harvard tennis team that leaves on its annual southern pilgrimage tomorrow. Hill, who is a junior, will probably play number one on the team as Captain Ingraham and two other members of the squad will not be able to make the trip because of examinations or injuries. Hill is expected to make the Crimson team a contender in the collegiate matches as he is a player of much ability. He and his cousin, Henry Johnson, now of Dartmouth, were the national junior doubles champions a few years ago.

Harvard Hockey Letters

Letters in hockey were awarded to varsity players of the past season this week. Among those receiving them were the four Newton youths on the squad, Wilson H. Crosby, '32; John B. Garrison, '31; Guy C. Holbrook, '30; and Frank Stubbs, Jr., '32.

RED CROSS SWIMMING CONTESTS

Much interest has been shown in the coming inter-city life-saving and swimming contests to be held Saturday, April 26, at 8 p. m. at the Brookline baths under the auspices of the Red Cross. New York, which holds the lead at present, Boston, Providence and Worcester will compete. Newton Red Cross examiners, juniors and seniors are eligible to join the Boston contestants since Newton is within a 15-mile radius of Boston.

Troyes for men will be held at the University Club, Boston, tomorrow (Saturday) evening at 7:45. The time and location of the tryouts for women will soon be announced.

Entries may be made through the Metropolitan Chapter, Red Cross, 35 Newbury street, Boston, telephone Kenmore 6227. For further information call Newton Chapter, Red Cross, Newton North 2717.

Y. M. C. A.

The talk by Dr. E. P. Leonard, Optometrist, brought together an interested group at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening. Dr. Leonard told about the structure of the eye and the ways of caring for it so that its usefulness would not be impaired. After his talk the film, "Through Life's Windows," was shown.

A very enjoyable time was spent on the bowling alleys last Saturday evening when ten men from the Community Club of West Newton came to bowl with a group of Newton Y. M. C. A. bowlers. The Y. M. C. A. was successful in both matches. Those who represented the Newton Association were: Louis Bills, Hugh D. Chase, Tom Wallwork, Walter Cooper, John Ward, Fred Townbridge, Hugh Boyd, Cameron Rae, Leslie Russell, and John Irving.

Physical Department Notes

CHEVROLET BUSINESS INC.—CREASING

A marked indication of increasing business activity and excellent proof of the purchasing power of the country at the moment, is seen in the announcement by the Chevrolet Motor Company this week that sales of used cars alone by its nation-wide dealer organization are proceeding at the rate of a million dollars a day.

Used car sales by the Chevrolet retail organization during the first 20 days of the month totaled 105,907 cars, representing an investment of more than $21,000,000.

This showing exceeds by a wide margin the best previous 20 day record in the history of the company and at the same time is the greatest 20 day volume of used cars ever sold by any automobile manufacturer.

Factory officials predict that the total for the month will exceed 150,000 used cars, which would compare with 130,000 for May 1929 the best previous month in Chevrolet history.

At the same time used car stocks in the hands of dealers are being reduced to a minimum, placing the dealers generally in excellent position to handle a large volume of new car business this spring.

OUR NOBLE EXPERIMENT

When President Hoover characterized the 18th amendment as "an experiment, noble in its character" he stated a fact more clearly than it has ever been stated before. That is just what it is, noble because it was conceived in a desire to further the progress of mankind. Viewed from any standpoint the motive behind prohibition was the sincere desire to better the country and to abolish an evil which has been recognized for centuries.

Anything intended to ameliorate suffering, poverty, brutality and corruption is noble whether it succeeds or not. Man has drunk alcohol in some form or other since the world began. Regrettable as it may be we must admit that the love of alcohol is ingrained in the human race and that love cannot be eradicated in a decade.

The act was passed as a war-time measure when people were willing to make sacrifices. That willingness has not continued. The sacrifice is no less desirable on account of peace but the necessity of making it seems more vague. There are men who enjoy drinking occasionally who are willing to give it up entirely if it will benefit the race. There are men who have given it up for that very reason. But there are other men who put whiskey before America and their own gratification before their duty.

It is evident that if the people desired prohibition they could have it. It is evident that there is a considerable class of people who are determined that prohibition shall be a failure even if the United States fails along with it.

There are those who charge that prohibition is unenforceable. And they are determined to prove their charge by making it so. Even to the extent of shaking the faith of the people in their own government are they willing to place all the difficulties possible in the way of enforcement. They are willing to see our courts besmirched, our police corrupted, our bootleggers and gangsters unmolested.

Our noble experiment is being made a mockery of, it is becoming a football of politics and a danger to the minds and morals of men and women.

Prohibition is a new element in life but it cannot be abandoned without abandoning principles which have made this country great. It cannot be abandoned without admitting that we are impotent as a nation against the cohorts of rum; that we have met the enemy and we are theirs. Its abandonment means a breakdown of our government.

Half through the Civil War Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the freedom of the slaves. Thenceforth there was no turning back. We had to free the slaves in fact as well as by proclamation. Failure to do so meant disruption and a broken government.

We are in just as great a crisis today. Onslaughts against prohibition, based on nullification, are treason. It may have been a mistake in the first place, but it was an honest mistake and we can't turn back. The experiment must succeed or chaos will reign.

Make no mistake about it. Take sober thought. If you value your country above your appetite, if you want to see government by the people prevail, if you want law and order upheld, have no traffic with those who counsel disobedience.

After all how important is it that liquor be obtainable? Isn't there more important things in life than that? We can survive without it and be better off without it, but when we fail to support government by putting stumbling blocks in its way we are truly endangering our lives, liberties and happiness.—Wareham Courier.

Over 100 credits were awarded at the close of the Norumbega District Training Schools this year. Each credit represents regular attendance at one term—a term being 10 sessions—and passing grade in the assignments given by the instructor. A large majority of credit students have received high marks. More than 350 different persons have been enrolled during the season 1929-30 in the several branches of the work, 200 of whom were new persons not previously reached by the District Training program.

Easter plans in the District centre around Sunrise Services. The Watertown Young People's Council has such a service. The Y. P. Councils of Newton join for their service, at 6:30 a. m., at Waban Hill Reservoir, the place used for several years. Rev. Dwight Bradley of Newton Centre will be the speaker. All young people and older friends are invited. This out-of-door event is always an interesting and inspiring occasion.

The Y. P. Council of West Newton Churches held a Vesper Service last Sunday afternoon in the Lincoln Park Church, with the president, Lydia Albee, presiding, and Rev. John Shad Franklin as the speaker. The subject was "Speculating in Futures." Young people who took part on the program were Walter Abbott, Hazelle Lomax, Clayton Foster, Jean Taber, Frank Balstone, Anna Kovitz and W. K. Bowers.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Next Tuesday, April 8th, at 6:30 the young people of Norumbega Union will meet at the Newton North Congregational Church, Chapel street, for their pre-convention rally. Conferences and the Progressive Endeavor class will follow the supper. A surprise speaker will be the feature of the evening. The Progressive Endeavor assignment for the month is as follows: (1) Write a plan for a series of three missionary programs to be presented in April, May and June. (2) List existing committees in your C. E. society and also other committees that you think might serve the society, the church or the community.

The annual Easter sunrise service of Norumbega C. E. Union will be held at 6 a. m., Easter morning near Waverley Oaks Reservation. Rev. Harry Upton, pastor of the Waverley Baptist Church, will be the speaker.

Plans have now been completed for the annual County Convention in Framingham on Saturday, April 13th. The afternoon session begins at 2 p. m., with Hon. Frank G. Allen as the speaker, followed by conference periods, banquet, and the evening session with an address by Mr. E. P. Gates, general secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavor. The intermediate convention will be held the same day in Framingham. The County Junior Convention will be held in Natick on Saturday, April 12th. Full details will be

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, March 31st, at the Woodland Golf Club, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

Visiting Rotarians were welcomed at this meeting from Watertown, Boston, Quincy, Somerville, and Rumford, Maine.

Irving O. Palmer introduced as the speaker at this meeting Dr. D. Brewster Eddy of Newton, who is well known to most of the residents of this city. Dr. Eddy took as his subject, "America's Leadership in the Orient," and explained that the good will of the people of the Orient toward the United States was due to our policy of fairness in our dealings with those people and their realization that the United States was not trying to acquire any additional territory as many other countries have done.

In speaking about World Peace, Dr. Eddy said, "More has been accomplished in the last seven years toward promoting World Peace than was done in the last five centuries before." The motto, "Never Again," he suggested, would be well to adopt in this World Peace movement.

The Washington Conference seven years ago between the United States, Japan, and England was the first real step toward World Peace.

The Kellogg Pact, outlawing war, was achieved for America's leadership in this World Peace movement.

The London Conference, which is now going on with the five leading nations of the world, represents 85% of the world's population, and Dr. Eddy believes that considerable progress will be made at this Conference toward World Peace before they adjourn.

Dr. Henry Watters has just returned from his spring vacation in Bermuda.

The production of one-act plays and the dramatic workshop for stage-making, designing and painting scenery, stage lighting, costume and make-up, is the comprehensive program of the early group of forty young people of high school age. At every meeting a one-act play is given, and in addition miniature stages are made, and control lighting demonstrated or a makeup lesson given.

The directors, all of whom are generously giving their time, are Mr. and Mrs. Freethy, Commander and Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Mary Ann Noetzel, Mrs. Roscoe Packard and Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Varney. Such an enterprise is deserving of community cooperation and to that end, the club is sponsoring the delightful and unusual travel lecture by Dr. Dewitt G. Wilcox on Saturday evening, April 12 at 8 o'clock in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. The colored sections and motion pictures were taken by Dr. Wilcox. He shows the glories and perils of the west through his own experience, by his inevitable manner, and with the viewpoint of the scout grandson who accompanied him.

The Association maintains a field staff of six workers who last year helped 318 communities with their family welfare work.

NEWTON FIRMS WIN COMMENDATION FOR HELPING MAKE HIGHWAYS SAFE

The Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety has issued its report for the month of February. There was a 3% drop in automobile accidents in Massachusetts from the preceding month among commercial vehicles. Buses and taxicabs led in the number of accidents in proportion to their numbers. The poor showing of the taxicabs was caused by the cabs of one concern; otherwise the taxi group would have had the best record of any line of commercial vehicles. Among the Newton concerns operating fleets of trucks, and which had clean records during the month of February are—B. S. Hatch Coal Company, C. F. Eddy Coal Company, Crystal Lake Ice Company, Riverside Sand & Gravel Company.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Domenic Mendola of Cross street, Waltham, reported to the Newton police last Friday that an unknown man ran in front of his truck that morning at Newtonville square and was hurled to the street, apparently receiving some injuries. The man was running across the street to board a bus. Mendola endeavored to obtain the man's name and address but the victim of the accident refused to give this information.

Miss Mildred Moore, Newton Field Captain, and Captain of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, sails for Europe on Saturday, April 5th. She will be gone for two months, but will return in time to once more be Miss Freeman's assistant at Camp Mary Day. At her troop meeting last Friday, the girls presented her with a Thanks Badge, to show their appreciation of all she has done for the troop. During her absence, Miss Betty Skelton will be in charge of the troop, although the girls will run the meetings themselves.

On Monday, March 31st, the Hostess Class of Troop 11, Newton Highlands served tea; Miss Freeman was a guest, and talked to the girls on "Responsibility."

Mrs. George Reche, Chairman of the Troop Committee, was in charge. Troop 10, the Senior Troop, kindly gave over their meeting to this Get-together, held in their meeting place. Mrs. Wrye of Newton Highlands was present and taught the Scouts the "Twenty-first Century Hymn"; to learn this hymn, which will be sung at the Newton Rally and at the State Review, was the chief motive of this Get-together. Judith Andrews, a former Scout, played the piano for them. The Scouts then gave a playlet, "Courtesy." Mrs. Louis J. Steitz coached this little play and did the costuming for it; the results were most gratifying. Mrs. Harry Brown took the part of the Mother in the play, while Julia Flagg of Troop 22, did a very fine bit of acting, as Marjorie, the Girl Scout. Ten other girls represented the ten Girl Scout Laws.

Following this, Miss Ruth Andrews gave a cello solo, accompanied by Miss Judith Andrews. Ice cream and cookies were served, and the party broke up at an early hour.

On April 12th, the Annual Spring Rally for Newton Girl Scouts will be held in the gymnasium of the Newton High School. This is to be a Competitive Rally; Senior Troops will compete in Judging and Signalling, and Junior Troops in Observation. Comps and an Obstacle Relay. Newton now has three Brownie Packs, one at Nonantum, under the leadership of Miss Helen Sandstrom, one in Waban, with Miss Margaret L. Clear as Brown Owl, and the third in Newton Lower Falls, where Miss Elsie Stephen is in charge. The Brownies will be present and will put on a brief program of their own, showing just what Brownies are.

On this same date, the April Antics, annual spring Fete, will be held at Cedar Hill, Newton Girl Scouts regret that it is the day of our Rally, but our date was set in the fall and could not be changed. We hope all Scouts and friends of Scouts who can get over in the morning will do so, as a most attractive program has been planned. There will be many good things to sell, and games. Folk Dancing, Corps music, and a three-act play will be presented, providing amusement for all. The proceeds of this event will go toward the support of Cedar Hill.

HEARING ON NEWTONVILLE ZONING CHANGE

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen met Monday night and held hearings on several matters. On the petition of John T. Burns to change a lot of land owned by him from general residence to business zone, Robert Burns appeared for the petitioner. He explained that the land in question is located on a private way which runs from 22 Austin street, Newtonville. This land Mr. Burns stated has no value in its present zone as it is located back of the business block and stable and cannot be used for residential purposes. For 11 years its owner has been paying taxes on land that he cannot use.

Carl Miller of 21 Austin street objected to the change. He stated that the Newton Welfare Bureau brings many cars onto Austin street, as many as 40 being parked at times on both sides of the street. Some cars are parked all night long on this street and as he understood a garage will be erected on the lot in question if the zone is changed, a worse traffic situation would develop. Mr. Miller advocated making Austin street a one-way street.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knight of 34 Austin street objected to the petition. Mr. Knight stated that there is now too much noise from a large public garage located on Washington street across the railroad tracks from his property. John Olcott of 16 Austin street also objected to the petition being granted.

CHILDREN + MATCHES = FIRE

Box 322 Wednesday night at 9:12 summoned firemen to 29 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, where a fire was in progress in the home of Salvatore Giordano. The blaze was caused by children playing with matches.

A still alarm on Wednesday night brought Engine 1 to Herman terrace, Newton, where an automobile owned by Angelo Cughetti had caught fire.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

"Welfare Day" was observed last Wednesday, with the making of surgical dressings and sewing for the Newton Welfare Bureau during the morning hours. Luncheon was served at one o'clock. Mrs. F. C. Bassett, chairman of the serving committee, The tables were decorated in a seasonal manner with a suggestion of Easter in the little chicks and the purple and white bouquets. Mrs. C. G. Edwards played for the singing of the hymn, "Oh, Master, let me walk with Thee." Miss Chapin of the Welfare Bureau was introduced by the president, Mrs. Chambers, and spoke of the "High Spots" in the work of that organization. Seeing children improve in health through the efforts made for their betterment is one of the most satisfying features among the many activities. Unemployment is especially burdensome on those families who are still in debt owing to the hard times of two years ago. The children show these conditions in their clothing and more serious still their physical condition. The health camps for which funds are provided through the sale of Christmas seals, and the providing of milk for needy families are among the practical and promising means of assistance. Miss Chapin spoke of the valuable help rendered by volunteer workers and urged that confidence be placed in the judgment of the officers of the society who know conditions in the families they are aiding and understand better than those who may see what appear inconsistencies. Only in 23 families out of 408 was the poverty due to their own fault. Although but one third of the families receive financial

THE CENSUS

Thirty-four enumerators set out this week upon the task of taking the fifteenth ten-year census of the United States. Sometime during the month they will visit every residence in the city. The 1930 census introduces several new features which will furnish much worthwhile statistical information. The first census, taken in 1790, when Washington was President, was merely the task of counting the people in the United States but each decade thereafter saw an increasing number of questions added to the list. The question of age is the basis of life tables, birth and death rates for different ages and other information indispensable to medical science and sanitation. Our birthplace and nativity provide a basis for intelligent action in legislation and business. Our occupation gives information as to the growth of different industries, professions, and so on. The 1930 census will tell us how great the industrial expansion has been in the South, the growth of population in the West, the tremendous advancement of radio and the like which had but little place ten and twenty years ago but are now in the front rank.

The woman in the home will bear most of the brunt of answering the two dozen or more questions and it will aid the enumerator if she has prepared herself in advance. The enumerator is under oath not to reveal the information he gathers and if the 1930 census is to be a success the co-operation of the individual is necessary.

THE PEOPLE SHALL DECIDE

The General Court this week voted not to repeal the so-called "Baby Volstead" law in this state and thereby left the question to the people to decide at the coming fall elections by a referendum vote. The vote of the House does not necessarily mean that the majority of its members are "drys" as many of them rightly feel that it is a matter of public rather than legislative concern. We trust that the voters will know their duty when the time comes and that the resulting figures will be convincing.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION

The issue between the wets and the drys will evidently come to a crisis at the Republican primary next September over the nomination for United States Senator between former Senator Butler and Mr. Eben F. Draper. We are very certain that the Republican party in this state is dry and will stay dry for many years to come. The only doubt we have is over the result of the election in November, when thousands of Republicans will vote as they drink and not as their sound business judgment dictates. Mr. Butler would make a first grade senator but is a poor candidate to go before the electorate.

THE NEW CODE OF MOVIE CONDUCT

The directors of the Motion Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., ratified a new code of movie conduct this week that, according to announcement, will determine the character of most pictures exhibited in over twenty-two thousand theatres in this country, serving a world audience of more than a quarter of a billion people weekly. The eleven new tenets were described by Will Hays, president, as self-discipline of the industry. Much has been said and written about the motion picture industry and especially of those pictures which are considerably below an accepted moral standard but which, somehow or other, appeal to many. If the new code is thoroughly observed it will react to the benefit of the industry as well as to the public at large but there are many loopholes through which the unethical producer may escape.

COLLEGE PROHIBITION POLLS

The wide publicity given by the larger newspapers to the polls taken in the various colleges on the question of prohibition is evidently part of the policy of such newspapers to belittle the enforcement of the liquor law. No one who carefully studies the matter will pay much attention to the views of the young men, most of whom are not voters and whose knowledge of affairs cannot be of value to any one except their own intimates.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Newton Senator and three of the city's four Representatives voted "dry" this week on the question of repealing the State liquor law commonly called the "Baby Volstead" act. Speaker Sulzberger was not recorded. This, however, is not unusual as a presiding officer seldom has his vote recorded except to break a tie. The House refused, by a roll call of 123 to 110, to enact the initiative petition to repeal the existing law and the Senate refused to enact, 26 to 11. The fact that a number of Republicans in both branches voted for repeal was the most sensational feature of the proceedings. The question of repeal now goes to the voters, providing the petitioners file 5,000 additional signatures, which, of course, they will have no difficulty in obtaining. Only one of the Newton delegation, Representative Luitwieler, took part in the debate. He made one of the strongest arguments offered for the retention of the present law. If the voters should vote to repeal, the present law passes out of existence, in part at least, at the expiration of 30 days after the State election, Nov. 4. Should such a state of affairs come about the Federal Government will have to handle alone through its agents violations of the law as regards transportation, manufacture, importation and exportation. The State will still prosecute through cities and towns and the Senate police cases of alleged sales.

This is the first time in years that at this point in the session of the Legislature there has not been some approximate date set for prorogation. Everything is now decidedly "up in the air," all due to the investigation Attorney General Warner is conducting of the pensioning of Oliver B. Garrett as a member of the Boston Police Department. There doesn't seem to be any idea as to when it will end. Although Mr. Warner has been granted an extension to May 1, there is no assurance that he will finish by that time. He can easily ask and obtain further extension. Then when his report is made it will have to be considered and that will consume days and probably weeks. Another matter which will consume time is the legislation recommended by the special commission on gas and electric light companies. Hearings will begin April 8 and continued from time to time until all the numerous phases have been gone into. Then there are the taxation measures which call for a number of drastic changes in the present law. These will have to be given public hearings and that will consume much time. The proposed State fund for compulsory automobile liability insurance is still another matter that is hanging fire. An opinion has been requested of the Supreme Court and this will be taken up when received. Altogether there is much to be done before prorogation—something that one hardly dares give a thought to because it seems so distant.

Consideration of the "Baby Volstead" act was the only matter before the House Tuesday and before the Senate Wednesday. Therefore, there hasn't been much done this week regarding other matters.

During the debate in the House on the bill to provide for the stamping of prison goods Representative Baker, as a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, opposed such legislation. He said that State Prison and the Concord Reformatory as well as the Sherborn Reformatory for Women are the only places where such goods are made. Last year, said he, over 80 percent of the goods were sold to cities and towns, leaving only about $30,000 to be sold outside. Much of this was disposed of outside of Massachusetts. The bill, he declared, would only make the sales more difficult. At Sherborn, Mr. Baker declared, flags are made. The Federal law prohibits any lettering on the flag which would mean that flags cannot be made at Sherborn if stamped as the bill provides. Furthermore, said Mr. Baker, the bill would not prevent the shipment from outside the State of prison made goods to be sold in Massachusetts. Although the bill has a number of supporters and the Ways and Means Committee report was overturned by the House there is a possibility that the Senate will kill the measure or the Governor veto it.

Hen stealing has become so common in the State that legislation has been passed increasing the minimum penalty. Instead of a fine of $1 for the first offense a person found guilty may be fined not less than $100 and sentenced to serve not less than six months. Senator Hollis argued a person who steals an automobile may be placed on probation. He thought the same should apply. Supporters of the legislation, all from rural districts, argued that something must be done to put a stop to hen racketeering. They said that as far as they knew a person convicted might be placed on probation.

"Home rule for Boston," one of the pleas that has been heard year after year on Beacon Hill from Boston members of both branches, seems to be becoming nearer a reality as regards Mayoral appointments at least. There has been enacted and signed by the Governor a bill which repeals the law under which the State Civil Service Commission has to approve all major appointments submitted by the Mayor. It has been a source of newspaper comment for a long time as the Mayor's candidates for certain positions were never sure whether they were going to be approved by the Commission or not. The new legislation gives the Mayor a free hand. Inasmuch as the matter has been the subject of hearings and debates every session of the General Court it appears that as far as the legislators are concerned one "hardly annual" bill out of the way. Furthermore, the city of Boston can say that it is not being interfered with by the State in this particular. The bill becomes operative at once.

To the Driver:

31,500 people were killed in 1929 in the United States in automobile accidents in 31 states. This is 13% more than in the previous year. More than half of the victims were pedestrians. For how much are you responsible due to encouraging the bumper of rides through giving lifts. Such action on your part causes more and more persons to stand in the streets and gives more occasion for accidents.

Help stop the danger! Don't help bidders.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A large industrial establishment in this vicinity in past years employed thousands of workers and paid good wages. Not so long ago this big factory was absorbed into another great corporation in the same line of business. Much of the work formerly done in the plant nearby was transferred to the big plant of the absorbing corporation hundreds of miles distant. Many of the former employees lost their jobs. Others, who were retained, instead of earning $40 and over weekly have been earning less than $20. When a man with a family dependent upon him earns less than $20 a week that family is going to suffer and eventually the country where such wages are paid will suffer.

Because there is a deficit of $50,000,000 in the post office department of this country it is proposed to increase the rate on first class mail matter from 2c to 2½c. There are many ways in which economies may be effected without increasing the rate on letters. Millions of dollars can be saved by ending the expensive, inefficient practice of appointing politicians and their friends to the positions of postmasters with high salaries. These "amateur" postal officials know next to nothing—or less—about the postal business and pull good pay for work done by subordinates. More millions are being wasted on fat contracts for mail transportation to favored steamship companies. Many millions of dollars are squandered on ornate, unnecessary costly postoffices throughout the country. There are plenty of ways to economize in the postoffice department without raising the rates.

William E. Brosnahan of 282 Watertown street, Nonantum, submitted a bill last week to the city for $32 in payment for a few hundred square feet of land which the city has seized on his property. This land was taken a couple of months ago for sidewalk purposes. Really, this land was taken by right of eminent domain in September 1895 but the city did not actually convert it to public purposes until recently and Mr. Brosnahan cannot be blamed for not realizing the front of his small lawn had been transferred to the postoffice department without raising the rates.

Thirty-five years ago the city started to widen Watertown street, the main highway at Nonantum. A number of parcels of land were taken. Some of these were entered upon and used for sidewalk purposes. Other frontages were left as they were, they remained to all appearances parts of the lots of which they were the fronts, even though owned by the city. Watertown street at Nonantum was widened in places and not widened in other places. It jogged in and out in a bizarre fashion. Last autumn a granite curbing was laid along the street with the result that little or no sidewalk remained where the jogs protruded. Then it became necessary to convert the front of Mr. Brosnahan's yard into a sidewalk.

The reason the widening of Watertown street was not completed 35 years ago was because of the expense which would be involved in the setting back of a couple of small frame houses located at 274 and 278 Watertown street. These houses project out into the street line giving the main street of the Nonantum district an effect not duplicated in any other village of the city. Residents of that district are wondering how much more time will be added to the 35 years already elapsed before these houses will be moved back and the street improved, which was begun in 1895, completed.

Recently as we rode by the intersection of Watertown and Walnut streets, Newtonville, we observed a sedan tipped over at the southwest corner of the intersection. The driver of the wrecked car had been buried under when it capsized but had very fortunately escaped injury. There is a signal at this dangerous intersection which formerly flashed but which was stopped flashing because it interfered with some radio sets in the neighborhood. Within the past few days it was set flashing again. On this signal when it was first installed was printed the warning "Slow." Because a certain State official does not believe in instructions on traffic signals, the caution warning on this signal was obliterated. A few months ago as we approached this signal on Watertown street, an autoist driving southerly on Walnut street stepped on the gas and shot across in front of us at a speed of about 35 miles per hour. Asked why he pulled this reckless stunt, he answered that the signal no longer bore the warning to go SLOW. The caution warnings have been replaced on many of the traffic signals throughout the city. It would be well to have them painted on the base of the signal at Watertown and Walnut streets before someone else is catapulted through a sedan window.

and sound absorbent media used to reduce reverberation to a minimum everywhere. It would be difficult to forecast accurately the saving in nervous energy, both of teacher and pupil, through this elimination of noise by absorption, but this desirable expedient has fortunately passed the experimental stage and is indispensable to the equipment of any well-conducted, modern school.

The school is designed for the immediate accommodation of 945 pupils in home rooms, but many of the rooms designed for special classes will be equipped with wardrobes and other essentials of home rooms so that a growth of 200 in student population making a total of 1145 pupils could be accommodated without enlargement of the structure.

The ground floor, which is entirely above outside grade, and is therefore as well lighted and ventilated as the two upper floors, contains the laboratories, the shops for metal working, printing and wood working, the special rooms for cooking and sewing, class rooms, girls' and boys' shower and dressing rooms, the cafeteria, a separate teachers' dining room, the boiler rooms, and the usual toilet rooms.

The first floor contains the auditorium, with fixed seating, a separate standard gymnasium for boys and one for girls separated by folding doors, permitting these two gymnasiums at any time to be thrown together as one continuous room or into the auditorium as well, on such occasions as demand the space occupied by all three rooms. This floor contains also the special rooms for typewriting and bookkeeping, eleven class rooms, the library, the administrative offices, emergency rooms for boys and girls with a room for the nurse and doctor in suite, rooms for men and women teachers, well-lighted storage and the customary toilet accommodations.

The second floor contains fourteen class rooms, a large study hall, special rooms for the teaching of mechanical and free-hand drawing, storage rooms and the usual toilets.

This is the first large public building initiated in Mayor Sinclair Weeks' administration and is being designed by Messrs. Henry and Richmond, Architects, successors to Guy Lowell, under the direction of the City's Public Building Commissioner.

ENTERTAIN FOREIGN-BORN

Monday evening at the Franklin School on River street, West Newton, members of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, cooperated with the Americanization Committee of the Newton Community Club in furnishing a program. This is the first time in history that an affair of such a community nature has ever been held at this school. The Franklin School is one of the oldest in the city of Newton. A record gathering of one hundred turned out which was beyond all expectation. Of particular consideration was the number of men in the audience.

Miss Callista Roy, head supervisor of all Americanization work in Newton, opened the program with a few words of welcome. Mrs. Estelle Seaver, the Americanization teacher, then introduced the various members on the program.

Some short exercises were furnished by about a dozen pupils from the fourth grade under the direction of the principal, Miss G. Doran. These consisted of violin solos and duets, and a group of English and Italian songs. Miss Puccinarello, from the West Newton Music School, accompanied at the piano for the children. The group singing was led by Miss Budlong.

The next thing on the program was a group of Italian songs of a classic nature by Mrs. Richard Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Bowley. This was followed by a tap dance in costume by Miss Catharine Lawrence, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lillian Peirce.

Through the courtesy of R. Sherburne Whitney & Co., Mr. Hubert Jenkins next projected four short movie films: "Vigor & Vim";

POLICE NEWS

Anthony De Rose of Hawthorne street, Newton, was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. He was found guilty of stealing brass pipe from a construction job where he was employed and selling it to a Newton junk dealer. De Rose appealed and was held in $1000 bonds for trial before the Superior Court.

Mary Turbett of 87 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, was in court Wednesday charged with driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Her case was continued to April 16. She was the driver of the car which recently hit an aged man at Newtonville, seriously injuring him.

Frank Pupa, 19, of 99 West street, Nonantum, was fined $5 in the Newton court Wednesday, and $10 for using obscene language. Patrolman Charles Walker was the complainant against Pupa, testifying that the latter used the obscene language in the presence of younger children.

Autoists fined in the Newton court on Wednesday for violating laws and ordinances included Walter Murray, Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, speeding, $10; George Marsh, Hotel Lenox, Chester street, Waltham, speeding, $10; and Edmund Cheverie, Channing street, Newton, parking so as to obstruct a street, $5.

Judge Bacon filed the cases of four autoists haled into court on Wednesday for failing to STOP before entering Washington street from Centre avenue bridge. He took this action because of conflicting ordinances. The State laws compel autoists to come to a full stop before entering a through street from a side street.

Notices have been posted of examinations to be taken by members of the Newton police department for advancement to the ranks of captain, lieutenant and sergeant. Vacancies in these ranks will occur when Captain Mullen will retire on a pension in the near future. In the past only patrolmen who have served at least five years and sergeants who have served at least one year have been eligible to take the examinations. This time policemen who have been only three years on the force may take the examination. This change is causing criticisms from the older men on the force who were compelled to wait the five years in the past. The one year rule applying to sergeants has also been waived this time and this change is also meeting with criticism.

Harry Fifth of 19 Fenno road, Newton Centre, was fined $25 in the Newton court yesterday for driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. The complainant was Motorcycle Officer Dowling who testified that as Fifth approached him from an opposite direction on Beacon street he made a sudden left turn causing Dowling to be compelled to drive on to the sidewalk where the motorcycle fell on top of the officer. Dowling also testified against James Redgate of Charlestown who was fined $15 for speeding and $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by the policeman. Elmer Drew of Everett was fined $5 for allowing his motor to run when the car was parked with no person in it.

Charles Lazaro of Hammond street, Waltham, was fined $25 for speeding. Bruno Rizza of Alden road, West Newton, and Gerald Davis of Claverly Hall, Cambridge, were fined $10 each for speeding.

Hyman Shelman of 94 Dalby street, a junk dealer, was in court yesterday charged with buying old metal from a minor. His case was continued to April 5.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI F. WARREN JR. HIGH

At the Assembly of March 26, we had the pleasure of seeing the pictures which were taken at the Boy Scout Jamboree in England last summer.

Mr. Bruce, Scout Executive of the Norumbecque Council, told of some of the happenings of the Jamboree. There were 50,000 Boy Scouts from 42 countries. The English camps were perhaps the most original and the American most colorful.

Gymnastic Meet

On March 28th the girls of Warren held a gym meet.

The program was as follows: first—a grand march, a line of three hundred and fifty girls in gym uniforms with a colored ribbon on their bloomers representing their teams red, green, yellow or blue. After marching in an "endless" march they formed a "V". Then followed the salute to the flag, singing of America, School song and cheers.

Each grade then did a novelty march. First, grade seven, then grades eight and nine together.

Each grade then gave a display of exercises which they have learned this year.

A group of girls representing each team performed exercises on the apparatus such as climbing a rope from the floor to the ceiling, swinging from one ring to another, four rings in a row. They also did stunts on the horse and back.

More stunts without the use of apparatus then took place, again with each color represented. The stunts were cartwheels, forward rolls, backward rolls, elephant walk, aeroplane, diving, hand stands, and pyramid building.

Then each team entered the games for their grade. Grade seven teams were in the stunt relay which was running up around a post carrying a ball, coming back they lay down and arose without the aid of hands at a certain spot, then returned to the starting place. Grade eight teams were in the block relay which was picking and laying down wooden blocks at the proper place and running around a post back to the starting place.

Grade nine was in the run and catch relay. This was to carry a ball, run to where a rope is extended across the room, about ten feet from the floor, throw the ball over the rope, catch it on the other side without letting it touch the floor and run back to the starting place.

The last event of the program was folk dancing. Members of grade seven did the "Irish Lilt" and the "Hungarian Dance." Members of grade eight did the "Dutch Dance" and members of grade nine did a "Pickaninny Dance." These dances were very amusing and well done.

Esther Merchant of grade nine accompanied the marching, singing and dancing on the piano. Songs and cheers were led by Carol Hansen also of grade nine.

All the games, dances and stunts were done excellently and Miss Leavitt, gym teacher deserves praise for the fine progress of the girls. The girls, too should be praised for their ability and co-operation.

There were three judges to judge the winners of each event. The final scores were Red, 86; Green, 69; Blue, 65, and Yellow, 37.

Thrift

On March 27, all the home rooms had 100% except 134 and 204 which had 97%. $150.53 was banked. There were 698 pupils present that day, 696 banked.

McCORMACK SUCCESS ON SCREEN

With his first talking and singing picture "Song O' My Heart," John McCormack has leaped to the very front rank of screen celebrities. No singer, whether from the operatic or concert stage, has scored with motion picture audiences as the golden-voiced tenor from Ireland.

The New England premiere of "Song O' My Heart" took place two weeks ago at the Majestic, Boston, and since that time the theatre has been packed to the doors at all performances. This will be the only showing in all New England until next September when the Fox-Movietone "special" is released for general runs in other cities.

During the run at the Majestic Theatre in Boston, which should continue for some weeks to come, two performances are given daily, at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m., and every seat in the house is reserved and on sale two weeks in advance. On Sundays but one performance is given, at 8:30 p. m. Prices range from 50c to $1 for the daily matinees, and from 50c to $2 for nights.

Never has the press of Boston been so enthusiastic over a talking-singing picture and the praise accorded John McCormack, the great cast, Director Frank Borzage, the marvelous mechanical reproduction and the beautiful Irish scene incorporated in "Song O' My Heart."

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

The Assessors are coming. Hooray! hooray! No use of our running. Nay, nay; Nay, nay. The Assessors are coming. Their pencils are humming. Our values they're summing. We'll pay, we'll pay.

Doggone it, this talk of census-taking must have put everything else out of my head. After I made up my mind that I would have to answer a lot of questions and sort of had everything ready for the quizz, I found that I had forgotten the Assessors.

Now we've got both the census-taker and the Assessor to satisfy. Both are going to ask embarrassing questions. I don't know as I should say "embarrassing," but rather "personal." In any event it will be necessary to tell the truth and that sometimes upsets folks.

It looks as if before we got through with the census-taker and the Assessors we'll come pretty near putting all our cards and other belongings on the table. If we don't they'll be put there for us, including the table, as I understand it.

Time flies and so many things have occurred since the last census that it will probably be more difficult to tell the story of your life unless you can recall what you said the last time. Just how they can check-up I am not certain, but I am going to stick to my original story with the hope that it coincides with the facts in the case. So, let the census-taker come and "Welcome, stranger."

Not that the Assessors are less welcome. Most of them have all the information obtainable about me. For that reason, if for no other, I shall conceal nothing. As a matter of fact I haven't much to conceal, but nevertheless I don't think I should try to put anything over. It has been my observation that while our Newton Assessors are invariably courteous and make their calls pleasant in every way, they come pretty near having a thorough knowledge of their business. Any attempt to "kid" them is a joke on the would-be "kiddier." I've never tried it myself but I have heard of such people who did try and they've always failed and with a bump.

A good motto for taxpayers. "Tell the truth, be it ever so painful! If you don't you'll have worse pains later, with complications."

Not long ago this column had something to say about speechmakers and the methods they employ. It never occurred to me that experts attach so much to oral expression, as they call it. Unwittingly I had wandered into a field that scientists have ploughed pretty thoroughly. There is, of course, no reason why I shouldn't enter it, too, but in such company I confess I should be completely lost. Therefore, I think it prudent to stay outside and make observations on whatever I may comprehend.

From the sidelines I recently heard a discussion of the value of oral examinations for candidates for appointments to various positions under the civil service rules and regulations. The proposition, it appears, was to do away with the present system of asking questions. In case you are not aware of it written and physical examinations are not all which an applicant must pass. He is tested also by oral expression.

Several of the critics of the oral examination were emphatic in their declaration that "a lot of foolish questions were put to each applicant." They further contended that the applicant was quizzed on subjects which had no bearing on the job he sought. Technical knowledge, they said, should be the principal concern of the examiners. In reply it was stated that such questioning revealed an applicant's breadth of mind, his capacity for learning things and his possession, if such existed, of a considerable amount of general knowledge.

With the two sides so well presented I was sitting in wonder, trying to determine which was right and which wrong, or whether both were wrong or both right. There I sat, balanced, so to speak, when an official of high standing was requested to voice his views.

"In handling applicants for all sorts of positions, clerical, manual labor, executive and other kind I can find out more about an applicant from one minute of oral questioning than from a whole sheet of written questions or examinations," this man declared.

There was an eye-opener. At least it revealed to me a new angle of examination. Possibly it makes a difference what kind of questions are asked. And I venture to say the critics themselves have a lot to do with it. Intelligent questions must be more readily answered than those which are distant from the matter in hand. Again, there must a lot in the way a question is asked. When "fired" at one it may upset the most erudite. I guess, however, that after all, it pays to keep one's vision as broad as possible and to gather as much useful information on the way as one can.

The most interesting book I have read in a long time deals with the subject of sleep. Elusive at times and easily obtained at others I don't know of anything that concerns us all so vitally as does sleep. The book, it appears, is based on a series of experiments and these are worthy of close study. But it is not of the helpfulness of the volume or the success of its authors that I am concerned at this moment, but with assertions that please me. I suppose we all like to have our own views supported by eminent people. Possibly that is the reason I read with much glee. "Some people may irritate, or bore us, others actually make us tired—psychologically tired."

Samples of such folk are given thusly: "The egocentric tires us because he interferes with our independence, preventing us from doing what we wish to do. When we want to read, he tries to engage us in conversation. When we would like to play solitaire, he wants us to take a hand of bridge or watch him do parlor tricks."

Who hasn't met that very person. But listen to how he was put in his proper place. "A self-contained woman was made excessively tired by several egocentric in her set," says the book. "She planned a dinner bridge and invited exactly four, manning—ing—as woman can—so that all four ate and played at the same table with no one else near to interfere. The plan was a success. Each made the other tired!"

Others listed are, "Those solicitous mortals," "The helpless individual," "The lethargic one" of whom "it requires persuasive powers to get him to do any work" and the "fault-finder" who "has a grudge against anything that comes up for discussion."

"Snobs are tiring," says the book and "so are nervous and fidgety people." Then come the most comforting of any words in the volume, "After all, there is considerable consolation in being just an ordinary person. For ordinary people are least fatiguing, unless infested with small annoying traits, such as whispering in your ear when conveying perfectly obvious information or telling the same stories over and over again."

I couldn't drop that book once I had started reading, and it is difficult to stop writing of it. It explained so many things for me that I feel that readers of this column will find a few of them as absorbing as I. For instance, it takes up briefly a class of people whose conduct I have always felt was lame and yet I wondered how they did it. The book says "Marathon dancers, who contest for weeks get sleep—the sort that other simple forms of life also take—but not completely human sleep."

"For fifteen minutes in every hour, they are quiescent, thus getting six hours' rest a day, which is as much as many of us take in sleep. Since dancing is an habitual performance, it is further possible that the participants rest mentally on their eternal tour of the polished floor."

More informing still is the extended reference to the drinking of coffee and its effects. The book says, "If any one thing has been blamed more than another for keeping American citizens awake at night, it is coffee. Yet just what effect coffee has on a good night's rest, is still to be completely understood. It has been found in foreign laboratories that animals given caffeine are more restless in their sleep, so it may be that coffee does somehow affect the sleep of human beings."

"There is little doubt that coffee is relatively innocent of much blame put on it for disturbing sleep. When a bridge game ends with a midnight lunch at which coffee is served and there is later difficulty in going to sleep, coffee is thoughtlessly found guilty. Whereas it is more likely that mental exertion is much more potent in causing the wakefulness. Being set one hand at a time is worse as a disturber of the serious bridge player's sleep than three cups of coffee."

"If bridge players, banquet attenders, and theatre and lecture goers would calm down emotionally before going to bed, coffee would have a lighter load to bear. You cannot get excited and get to sleep quickly."

The volume to which I refer is called "Sleep" and was written by Donald A. Laird, Ph.D., Sc.D., and Charles G. Muller and is published by the John Day Company of New York.

It would please me greatly if only I numbered among my friends some inventors. Of course many people whose friendship I claim can readily invent excuses, but that isn't what I mean, for it doesn't require any vast amount of ingenuity to that. I refer to real out-and-out men or women of genius with a facility for developing mechanical contrivances that will be useful.

We read about the sending of messages over the air and learn that pretty soon it will be possible to conduct a telephone conversation from a moving train or a steamship in mid-ocean. That's going pretty far, but not far enough for the purposes I have in mind. I have in mind a situation that occurs far more frequently and which would hit a larger number of people. Although many travel and may want to telephone back to their offices or their homes, a majority stay right where we are. These latter I would like to see benefited.

Here's what I am getting at. Often-times somebody in the office or the home will say, "I'm expecting a telephone call. If it comes while I'm out, will you call me, will you?" and they will say that there will be no other room and asked to be called when the bell jingles.

That, to me, is sort of shifting the responsibility. If you happen to be the one who is expected to stand by and wait for somebody's telephone call you are charged with something that you cannot escape. You must stay right where you are. Suppose the call does come. All you can say, "Wait a minute, please. He (or she) has just stepped out and I'll see if I can find him (or her)."

My wish is for one of those inventions that would make it possible to locate the person who has gone out of the room. Better still, if that person could receive the call while running down stairs to the candy and cigar counter, or chatting with somebody in the next office or attending to some household duty. How beautiful it would be—not only for the one called but for the one with the job of "take that call for me if it comes while I'm out."

CLEANING UP FOR CELEBRATION

All over Greater Boston the coming of spring is heralded by activities on the lawns and gardens surrounding the homes of thousands of people. The fact that this is the Tercentenary Year has impressed upon Bostonians the necessity of cleaning up and making a good showing for the thousands of visitors who will come here this year. The Security Fence Co., 22 Kent street, Somerville, Mass., has assumed a position of public benefactor in offering to erect fences around the homes of the city at extremely reasonable prices. In building their famous Cyclone Chain Link Fences, the homes of the people can be enhanced in value to meet the requirements of the owner and the civic pride of the community.

The Security Fence Company has specialized in fences for homes, factories, playgrounds, tennis courts and large industries. An expert from the office of the Security Fence Co. will visit your home or place of business, without any cost to you, and will suggest the right kind of fence to give the best appearance to your property.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Women In The Census

Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation, calls attention to the importance of the co-operation of women in answering the questions of the Census enumerators who will shortly be knocking at the doors. She speaks of this census as being of particular significance to the women of the nation. Her reasons include: it is through the reports of the Census Bureau that Clubwomen find out about school attendance of children; about citizenship status of the people; and about the condition of women in the United States, and the changes in their occupations and activities.

Reports this year will answer such important questions as: Is the age at marriage in the United States becoming older than it used to be? Are families becoming smaller, and, if so, how much? This year, for the first time, women who are responsible for the care of the home and family, whether wage-earners outside, also, or not, will be classified as "homemakers," for the first time dignified with status that befits this highly specialized service. What will be the percentage shown this year under this heading, as against those who go forth to gainful occupation? The comparison of such figures with those beginning at 1870 should be most enlightening as to the progress of freedom of women, as years go on.

Mrs. Sippel explains the question as to the value of home, if owned, or of the monthly rental, if rented, as making possible a classification of families according to economic status, or perhaps one might say of buying power. These replies will not in any way be made public. In the same way, the question as to ownership of a radio, will give a direct indication as to how large the potential radio audience is. Answer as to age at time of marriage will serve two enlightening purposes: relative age in different racial and economic groups, and the number of children in a stated number of years. The questions as to unemployment will separate those who are absolutely unemployed, and those who have a job, but for a time are being laid off, without pay. Both phases of the unemployment situation should receive benefit through this definite knowledge. Provision of classifying the foreign-born, by country of birth, by mother tongue, which is sometimes a better indication of background, by year of immigration, by citizenship, and by ability to speak English, should give valuable data upon which improvement and aid may be planned and worked out.

Mrs. Sippel reminds Clubwomen that they gladly pledged aid to the census department, when they gained from them the great forward step of having women classified as "homemakers."

State Federation

JUNIOR CONFERENCE. The year has rolled around again to the Annual Junior Conference, which, like last year, is to be a delightful all-day affair, with picnic lunch and its attendant informal sociability. The Dorchester Woman's Club is once more to be hostess at the Club House, on Centre Street, Codman square. As there are now 36 senior Clubs reporting Junior membership, 25 of these being organized Clubs, there is sure to be a large attendance. The morning session opens at 10:30, and both will have reports of local activities, and interesting entertainment numbers. There will be special guests—the State Federation president, Mrs. Azel A. Packard, of course—Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, Fourth District director, has District hostess; Mrs. Edwin Priddy, who will bring greetings from the Girl Scouts, which organization is her "pride"; and probably, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole.

INTER-RACIAL UNITY CONFERENCE. Attention is again called to this Conference, full program for which was given in this column last week. Mrs. C. H. Danforth is in charge. There will be many interesting speakers; among them, those of races who can tell of the problems as seen from the foreigners' eyes, which should be most valuable in giving the viewpoint of those who come to our shores. The hostess Club is the Woman's Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial, and they will entertain at the Children's Settlement, in the Auditorium, 85 Shawmut avenue, Boston, on Tuesday, the 8th, with the morning session opening at 9:45 o'clock, and the afternoon session at 2 o'clock.

RADIO. The next radio broadcast, arranged by Mrs. Leon E. White, is of special interest, in that Clubwomen will hear the leader whose name has just been announced by the Nominating committee as the next president of the State Federation, and on the literary topic that has come to be known as her delightful hobby. Then, too, for those in Newton, there is the pleasure of hearing their own District director, who has made many friends among them in her visits to the Clubs of the city. Tune-in for the "Book Lady," Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, first vice-president, who will broadcast "Our Garden of Books," from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, April 9th, at 11:30 o'clock. At 11:40 Mrs. M. G. de la Haza, General Federation Music chairman, has arranged a program of Spring Songs which will be interpreted by Mrs. Mildred Kerrigan, Soprano. Mrs. Horace B. Gale, director, will be on the air at 11:50 with a broadcast on "Club Activities in the Twelfth District."

Newton Mothers' Club

The Mothers' Club will meet on April 7th, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Norman Bingham, of 125 Prince street.

John Drinkwater's play "The Bird in the Hand" will be read by Club members. This is the annual "home talent" meeting and will be most interesting.

The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. H. N. Glover, Mrs. R. E. Hatch and Mrs. F. S. Hoyt.

Waban Woman's Club

On Tuesday evening, April 8th, the Music committee of the Waban Woman's Club, Mrs. Charles B. Jones, chairman, is sponsoring a Lenten Recital to be held at the Union Church, in Waban. The talent will consist of Norma Jean Erickson, Soprano; Irma Sordel, Violinist; Virginia Stickney, Cellist; Artiss de Volt, Harpist, and Francis Snow, Organist.

The Art committee of the Club, of which Mrs. Austin G. Bourne is chairman, is planning an Historical Art Pilgrimage, for Wednesday, April 9th. This trip will include historical points of interest in Boston, such as the Paul Revere House and Old North Church, the Navy Yard and Bunker Hill Monument; the Longfellow House, and Agassiz Museum in Cambridge; the Adams House in Quincy, and the Fairbank House in Dedham. Luncheon will be served at the Blue Ship Tea Room, on T Wharf, Boston. Club members have the privilege of visiting the Boston points of interest only, or of taking the entire trip. Mrs. George W. Souther is hostess for the day.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Miss Eunice H. Avery will speak on Current Events to the members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, on Tuesday, April 8th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Parish House of the Congregational Church.

At the Workshop, on April 9th, at 2:30 p. m., will be held the last of the Garden Talks under the auspices of the Garden Unit. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Walter B. Godsoe, and devoted to the subject "Annals." The Art committee will have their Annual Exhibition of the work of local artists and craftsmen, at the Workshop, on April 12th, and 13th, from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

This is the ninth year of this most interesting exhibit. The committee will be glad to have work from new exhibitors, and exhibitors from all parts of the Newtons are cordially invited to exhibit. Those wishing to do so are asked to bring their work to the Workshop on Columbus street, Newton Highlands, not later than 10 a. m., on the morning of the 12th, Saturday. For further particulars they may telephone to the chairman of the Art committee, Mrs. Ernest Weaver, Centre Newton 1999.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club has extended an invitation through its president, Miss Hannah L. Bond, to the members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club to the "Mothers' Day" meeting—a gala occasion—on Wednesday, April 9th, at 3 o'clock. Reverend W. L. Stidger will be the speaker. Tea will be served.

On April 10th, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give the last lecture in the Current Events series, which have proved so interesting and educational to an unusually large number of members this year.

Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, chairman of the Music committee, announces that plans are under way for a concert to be given by the Glee Club for the Club members and their friends. This Club Chorus was formed this year and has been greatly enjoyed by those who have participated.

Social Science Club

Miss Alice Cary, of Osaka, Japan, will speak to the members of the Social Science Club, and their guests, on Wednesday, April 9th, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club. Her subject will be "The Changing Status of Women in Japan."

Mrs. Irving U. Townsend and Miss Grace Weston will serve as hostesses.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, April 10th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Underwood School hall, Mr. Sunder Joshi, of India, will speak on "Yesterday and Tomorrow." Mr. Joshi comes of a long line of high caste Brahmin ministers of the Hindu Faith, and holds degrees from the University of Bombay, and from Harvard, as well as having been a student at Oxford, and at the University of London.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Miss Lois Wilson, reader, a graduate of the Leland Powers School, will entertain with readings at the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, April 11th. Eleanor Vaughan will provide the music. The program is sponsored by the First and Second vice-presidents. Tea and a social hour will conclude the afternoon.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. William B. Blakemore, president of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club, entertains its members and guests at 22 Berwick road, Newton Centre, on Saturday, April 12th, at 2:30 o'clock.

In view of the fact that Mrs. Alfred L. Pratt is in charge of the "Review" of "The Merchant of Venice" for the afternoon, anticipations of unusual pleasure are justified.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Federation

The Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, held in the library of the Technical High School on Tuesday March 25th proved to be of unusual interest. The president, Mrs. Phister Cowin, presided during the business meeting. During this session Mrs. Harold O. Cook, chairman of the committee on Conservation of Natural Resources, spoke of need of conservation, just now, in Newton. She said that electric car tracks are to be taken up on Commonwealth avenue, from Lake street to Norumbega Park, as double double-decked buses are to take the place of cars, and that all possible effort should be made to preserve the centre of Commonwealth avenue, perhaps for horse back riding; in any case to prevent having trees removed, to turn the avenue into one broad insight street.

Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, chairman of the Special committee in charge of sale of Health Christmas Seals, read a most interesting report of the result of the Seal Sale of 1929; also, a detailed account of the income from seal sale each year, since 1926, when the Federation voted to be responsible for the Seal Sale for a term of three years.

The returns from seal sale have diminished each year, although there has been a substantial amount, always, to turn over to the Newton Welfare Bureau, to be used by the Health committee of the Bureau. Reasons for the smaller return seem to be, the fact that the American Red Cross drive proceeds immediately the Seal Sale; misunderstanding concerning the different purposes of the two drives; and that both American Red Cross, and the Anti-Tuberculosis Association are represented by red crosses, causes some confusion, although the crosses are entirely different. Effort was made to correct the misunderstanding.

Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, reported the good work accomplished by use of the Seal Sale income, in preventive work, especially among children. Milk is placed in both homes and schools, and District Nursing Association paid for bedside care of tuberculosis patients. In the summer of 1929, 49 children were sent to summer camps. Following these reports a motion was made that the Federation (Continued on Page 11) tion should assume the care of the Christmas Seal Sale for another three years. The vote was unanimous in favor of continuing that good work.

Attention was called to the fact that the Federation would co-operate with the City in a "Clean up Week" campaign; also, in observation of "World Good Will Day."

The president stated that the Federation had agreed to sponsor an Art Exhibition, this to be of works of art, music, and literature, of residents of Newton. Motion was made and carried that a Loan Exhibition of valuable articles of historical interest be added to the Art Exhibition.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. William Bedford, chairman of the Public Health committee, who spoke on "The Function of a Public Health Committee," mentioning needs in Newton of constant watchfulness of health conditions, even though both Board of Health and School conditions are of the best.

Mrs. Bedford introduced Dr. F. Louise Dietz, director of the Division of Child Hygiene, of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Health. Dr. Dietz took as her subject "Health Insurance for the Child," and she spoke convincingly of the relation between mental and physical health. As she has spoken in several Newton Clubs on the same subject, her talk does not need repetition.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, March 27th, at the Underwood School Hall, members and guests of the Newton Community Club had the privilege of viewing a most artistic and attractive showing of fashions. Mrs. Lindon, stylist of Hollander and Co., presented the fashions in three groups. The first group consisted of negligees, pyjamas, and bathing suits. The second group included sports clothes, afternoon frocks, and suits. The third group contained evening dresses, and was followed by a large group of children's models.

Mrs. John W. Crowley gave two groups of songs in the intermissions, and Mrs. James J. Bosdan entertained with a group of violin solos. Among the members of the Club who acted as models were Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Edward O. Gruener, Mrs. Bertram Urban, Mrs. A. B. Hinkle, Mrs. Clinton Brown, Mrs. James Moyer, and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield. The junior group included Miss Katherine Sprague, Miss Alice Schofield, and Miss Margaret Pitts and Miss Elizabeth Pitts.

The fashions were displayed on a most artistically-decorated platform, and to Mrs. Robert Emerson and her committee great credit is due for the very successful and finished production.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mr. Dows Dunham's lecture on "Egyptian Art" before the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday last brought out very interestingly the early Egyptians, as a very religious people who produced works of art because the urge was related to their religious beliefs. They believed that after one died one passed into another world, which was a duplicate of this, and that the statue which they made was the artificial body for the soul to take possession of, to live in. They believed also, that the drawings on the stones were made for the enjoyment of that one who would occupy it. He went on to explain that only kings or people of wealth, could have these statues made, since it cost a great deal to employ a sculptor, and it took a long time to make the statues, as the tools which they used were very crude, and the stone very hard. He stated that the essential reason for the compactness of the statues was a question of utility.

Slides were shown of statues which were centuries old and in a wonderful state of preservation. Other interesting slides depicted the life of those early people.

A musical program was given, when Mrs. Bertha Carter Flinn sang "Sylvia" and "A Tree," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

At the monthly meeting on Friday, March 28th, the Club was honored by a visit from Mrs. Horace B. Gale, director for Twelfth District of the Massachusetts State Federation. She congratulated the president, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, and the Club members on the achievements of the past year, mentioning particularly the monthly bulletin, the Glee Club, and the remarkable increase in membership.

The speaker of the afternoon, Miss Amy Sacker, of the well-known Sacker School of Design and Interior Decoration, was introduced by Mrs. Chas. Allen Riley, chairman of the American Home committee. Miss Sacker presented a most interesting illustrated lecture upon "Antique Furniture."

She stated that an international royal marriage usually establishes a period of furniture, such as the Tudor period, the Jacobean period or the Charles II period. One interesting illustration was of a museum piece showing a chair made in 3000 B. C., which was a perfect fore-runner of the cane-seated chair. Her advice to women who are interested in buying antiques is first to study furniture more; saying that if one recognizes and knows French furniture, one will know English. If one knows English furniture one will know early American.

At the close of the lecture tea and sandwiches were served.

Shakespeare Club

"The Merchant of Venice," Acts IV and V, was presented as the program at the home of Mrs. Alfred L. Pratt, by the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club, on Saturday last. Mrs. Frank S. Keith led a Quiz of rare excellence, which reflected the influence of many years of intensive study, in which she brought out the interesting episodes which enlivened the play; and the tolls, wrapped around Antonio by the evil Shylock were released, and "all was well."

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Arts and Crafts Exhibition of the Newtonville Woman's Club was held on Tuesday, both afternoon and evening, at the Central Congregational Church. This annual showing of the work of the artists and craftsmen residing in the Newtons has become almost an institution and an increasing interest is shown both by the exhibitors and by the large number who attend.

Outstanding among the pictures were four oils, by Fred Daniels; etchings of ships, by C. J. A. Wilson; water colors, by Carl Cutter; oils, by Leighton Cram; and photographs, by Herman C. Lythgoe. Harriet Patey showed two original drawings of a school of Eurhythmics rendered in color. There were several pieces of Charles J. Comuck's stained glass, one in the process of making and some of his water colors of European windows.

Many of the crafts were represented. Ruth Pratt showed very lovely batik wall hangings; Viola Walden, hand wrought jewelry; Josephine Estes, exquisite weaving; Marion Pearce, tool-leather; Charles Sladen, wood carving; Alice and Olive Jenks, pottery; and Bobby Jenks, ship's model. The Class in Book Binding also exhibited many of their portfolios.

Mrs. H. L. Sawyer showed most exquisite darned lace; Mrs. J. E. Hicks, embroidered wall hangings; Mrs. Charles Cabot, crocheted spread; and Mrs. Herbert Blair, quilted spread.

The Peabody Home had a most interesting display of basketry, and articles made by the crippled children.

During both the afternoon and evening, refreshments were served, by the Hospitality committee, with Mrs. Clayton Pearson, and Mrs. Robert C. Kelley as hostesses.

This exhibition was assembled and arranged by Mrs. Orin Skinner and her committee to whom much credit is due for a very successful affair.

Auburndale Review Club

The last morning of study of its assigned topic for the year was held last Tuesday, April 1st, at the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, of Central street when "Our Foreign Policies" were brought down to current dates. First on the program was a study of "World Politics in the Pacific," read by Mrs. Madison Cannon, in her enforced absence, by Miss Florence Bridgman. Three phases of these politics were presented: the acquisition of Hawaii, as a result of the misrule there, and the active efforts of resident Americans for betterment of conditions; the control of the harbor of Pago Pago, the best in the Pacific, in the island of Tutuila in the Samoan group; and the subsequent control of the whole of that island; and the annexation of the Philippine Islands, a direct outcome of the war with Spain, but arousing much protest from many Americans here, and from Filipino leaders at home.

Mrs. Amos R. Wells next read a most interesting paper on Ambassador Herrick, whose death, strangely enough, took place just a year ago, within a day. Like all famous men, he worked his way up from a poor country boy, through various positions of trust, to the rank of ambassador to France, serving twice in that capacity. But before he held that position, he did great service at home as first architect of the Rural Credit System of inestimable value to the rural population. His services in France during the opening days of the World War caused Pershing to describe him as "the first American volunteer," and he took over so many offices of the warring nations that it was said his office might be dissolved, on complaint of its being a trust. In 1929, broken in health, he undertook his second term as ambassador, and died in France, loved, respected and mourned more than can be adequately described, by French and Americans alike.

Mrs. Otis Cary discussed the topic of "Our Foreign Policies since 1924." Giving first a brief summary of phases touched upon in other papers of the year in regard to our guiding hand in South American affairs, Mrs. Cary, looking ahead, pleaded for a closer co-operation, which is absolutely necessary for world understanding and peace. From forty years' knowledge of Japan, she presented their attitude of sensitiveness at a discriminating treatment, their worship of many of our heroes, and asked how many present knew of their return of thirty three millions indemnity to China—a fact never commented on or emphasized. She stated that the exclusion act, which keeps out only 146 immigrants a year, according to quotas established, has hurt them much.

A pleasing innovation in the musical program of the morning was the singing of a few familiar songs by all the members present, ending appropriately with "America the Beautiful."

WILLIAM DAWES, JR., CHAPTER, D. R.

At the home of Alice Scofield on Vernon street, Newton, the Junior Sons and Daughters held their March meeting on Saturday evening. Twenty-five high school boys and girls were present.

Royal Tuthill, the president, presided. The meeting was opened with the singing of America and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. After the secretary's report, the annual reports were given as this was the annual meeting. Letters were read from the Northampton Veterans Hospital and the Bedford Hospital thanking the members for the year's subscriptions to the magazines which were sent last month. Fifteen dollars had also been sent for the Valley Forge memorial. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Hazel Moore; Vice-President, Robert Fernald; Secretary, Janette Houghton; Treasurer, Marshall Barnes; Historian, Eleanor Whitney.

At the close of the business meeting a very fine program of readings was given by Mrs. Walter Steinbauer, a graduate of Emerson College of Oratory.

Mrs. Dorothy Fernald Lehrer, regent of Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., told of the work which her chapter was doing, for the foreign born. Refreshments were served in the dining room and a social hour followed.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"The American Indian" is the subject of the discussion meeting led by Professor Frederick K. Morris of M. I. T. at the Children's Museum of Boston Saturday, April 5, at 3:00. This marks the close of Professor Morris' monthly talks on the origin and the races of men. Regarding the Indian, Professor Morris does not agree with many of the accepted theories, and promises to upset quite a few of them in his discussion. The audience is invited to inspect the extensive collection of North American Indian articles in the Museum, which include some of rare value.

The Museum spring bird walks will begin next Saturday, April 5, at eight o'clock. Bird lovers of all ages are welcome on these walks, which last about two hours. Registration should be made on or before Friday, April 4, at the Museum. During school vacation week, which begins April 14, the walks will be taken daily from eight and nine o'clock. Later a bird naming contest will be held, with prizes to those best in bird remembering—the beginner as well as the one who has had the head start of previous bird study.

The popular Tercentenary talk "Famous Scenes and Men of Greater Boston" by Miss Madeline B. Sawyer of the educational department is repeated on the April schedule. The Museum is open daily from 9 to 5; Sundays 1:30 to 5. Admission is free.

Where Are the Passengers?
Half a Day in Mexico.
Surprising the Greek.
The Billion Dollar Age.

OFFICIALS of the Santa Fe road, recently gathered in convention, in San Diego, California, were told by their president, Mr. Storey, who invited prominent citizens to luncheon at the El Cortez Hotel, that something is happening to the railroad passenger business in the United States.

In 1922 the Santa Fe carried fifteen million passengers. In 1928, the number had dropped to four million, two hundred thousand.

That means a good deal to railroads, to owners of railroad stocks, and to the automobile industry.

Automobiles, privately owned, and public automobile bus lines, have made the change.

And Mr. Storey's figures will change again, soon, when fully developed air travel takes 90 per cent of long distance travel from railroad and motor bus lines.

Do not hurry to sell your Santa Fe or other sound railroad stock, however. Railroad now is really railroading, not stock jobbing. And better methods, bigger locomotives, longer trains, better yards and a thousand improvements, including especially co-operation by railroad union workers, have more than made up for the drop in passenger travel. Freight is the thing now, and that depends on prosperity.

Years ago, when the late Mr. Ripley was president of the Santa Fe, Mr. Storey, then the road's chief engineer, built the Santa Fe line through the Texas Panhandle, and told Mr. Ripley it was a good line. Some thought it would not pay. Now it is the chief freight route, and the most profitable part of the Santa Fe's long trackage.

Agua Caliente, Mexico.—In this part of the world and just north, across the border in San Diego, U. S. A., they show and tell you more interesting things than 1,000 eyes and 1,000 ears could see and hear adequately.

On this new and amazingly successful resort, created almost over night just south of the United States border, many millions have been spent to create conditions that will compete with anything in Europe.

Whatever your ideas of horse racing and other amusements, with betting attached, you find comfort in the fact that this place will keep American money in America. Wide roads, bus and air lines enable the American who feels cramped by prohibition and other restrictions to cast them off here.

It is not necessary to go to Europe, spending all his income there.

Sixteen miles from San Diego, one of America's most beautiful cities, the American finds here everything that he would find at Deauville, Monte Carlo, Nice or any resort in Europe. The place is well managed, well policed, well patronized. Ask Foxhall Keene, who has just gone by looking younger than ever.

This place is extraordinarily beautiful, with a perfect hotel, golf, all sports, hot sulphur and mud baths, famous in Aztec days, and the visitor is in Old Mexico, a land as foreign to him as as fascinating as though he were in Spain, yet near to his own land, no ocean to cross.

Below this place, the peninsula of Southern California, property of Mexico, stretches for 1,000 miles. The wealth of that peninsula cannot be exaggerated. Its beauty cannot be described.

High rock walls, going straight down to the ocean, innumerable sheltered coves, with white sand beaches, great flocks of sheep on the round green hills, herds of seals, plunging through the water close to shore, quail innumerable, a wonderful empire.

The House of Representatives recently voted to increase the national contribution to good roads from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year for three years, beginning next July.

This will mean, in three years, three hundred and seventy-five millions for better roads alone, good news for all citizens, for the automobile industry, its employees and for the unemployed.

A Greek philosopher was exiled because he said the sun was probably bigger than all of the Greek islands. We know now that the sun is a million times bigger than the earth. And in distant space, other suns are a million times bigger than ours, making them one million million times bigger than the cosmic grain of sand we live on.

An Italian, Professor Bendani, announced discovery of the fact that our solar system is fifty times bigger than astronomers thought. What would the old Greek have said to that?

This is the billion dollar age. The old plain million, once revered, is as unimportant as the extinct hansom cab.

General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, foresees expenditures by his company in the next ten years amounting to ten billions of dollars.

Ten thousand millions is a good many dollars.

POLICE NEWS

Emil Caouette of Cook street, Norantum, was in the Newton court Friday charged with forgery. He pleaded guilty and promised to make restitution. Judge Weston continued the case to April 29th and held Caouette in $500 bonds. He was ordered to pay $20 weekly to the probation officer, who will turn it over to the Newton Trust Company. Caouette's wife and daughter had $900 in the savings department of the Newton Trust Company in a joint account. He forged his wife's signature on three occasions and drew $400 from the bank. Much of this money he turned in to support the house, pretending he was working when he was unemployed.

Leland Cushman, employed at the Westboro State Hospital, was fined $50 in the Newton court last Friday when found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor, and $10 for driving without his license in his possession. He was arrested early Friday morning by Patrolmen Marron and Barr. The same day in court Herbert Feinstein of 170 Thorndike street, Brookline, was fined $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman. Mild Rose of the Napier road, Brookline, was fined a like amount for a like offence. Feinstein was also fined $15 for driving without his license in his possession. Others fined in court that day for violations of automobile and traffic laws were—Roy Sullivan, Boston, driving without his license, $10; Frank Casarotto, Roslindale, driving without a license and failing to STOP at Washington street, $10; Roger Bryer, Needham, speeding, $10; Castor Soliven of 51 Pontiac road, Waban, $10 for speeding, $5 for driving without proper lights.

Two students who, according to the testimony of Motorcycle Officer Hammill, raced along Beacon street from the reservoir to Newton Centre square at a speed which reached 60 miles an hour, were fined $50 each in the Newton court last Saturday. The "speeders" were James G. Wallace residing at Braelock House, Andover, and William J. Horan, a student residing at 245 Brattle street, Cambridge.

Hammill testified that the pair informed him that the reason for their haste was the desire to be first at the home of a young lady residing on Chesley road, Newton Centre, and that during the race the cars whizzed almost abreast along Beacon street, passing to the right and left of automobiles travelling at normal speeds.

Emil Caouette of 33 Cook street, Norantum, who obtained $400 of his wife's savings from the Newton Trust Company by means of forged checks was bound over to the Grand Jury in $2500 bonds by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Saturday. Caouette had been in court a couple of days before and the judge had continued his case on the promise that restitution would be made at the rate of $20 each week, bonds of $500 being placed on him. Caouette was unable to secure the $500 bail so he was bound over to the Grand Jury as forgery is an offence outside the jurisdiction of the local court.

John P. Gateley of 144 Summer street, Watertown, was fined $50 in the Newton court Monday for stealing an automobile in Newton on the night of March 25. He was captured in Wellesley a short time after he took the car. The fine was suspended on condition that Gateley pay for damages to the car after he stole it.

Nancy Adams of Worcester was sentenced to 30 days in jail in the Newton court on Monday. The woman was arrested in Newton sometime ago for passing worthless checks and placed on probation. Subsequently she had been arrested for not paying hotel bills in Boston. She was sent to the psychopathic hospital for observation and declared sane. The jail sentence resulted from the woman violating the terms of her probation.

Twenty-nine autoists appeared in the Newton court Monday. Twenty-four were assessed $5 each for failing to STOP before entering Washington street. Several of these should have known better as they reside in this city, Wellesley, Weston and Watertown. The others were out-of-town folks. Rolando Cole of Westboro was fined $5 for driving without proper lights and $10 for driving without a license. Fines of $10 for "speeding" were imposed on John Sullivan, Bigelow street, Brighton; Lawrence Visco, Adams street, Waltham; Guy Curry, 66 Greenough street, West Newton; Louis Hannauer, 137 Monadnock road, Newton Centre.

ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT

Next Tuesday evening will be the annual Ladies' Night of the Men's Club of Newton at the Second Church. A social half-hour will be held prior to the dinner which will be served at seven o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. Christian A. Herter, who will take for his subject, "Current Political Problems—National and International." He is president of the Foreign Policy Association and has long been identified in international relations. Graduating from Harvard in 1915 he became attaché to the American Embassy in Berlin during the exciting period from 1916 to 1917. From 1917 until 1919 he was special assistant to the United States Department of State and in the latter year was secretary of the American Commission to negotiate peace at Paris. In 1920 and 1921 he was executive secretary of the European Relief Council, virtually carrying out Hoover's policies of relief. He has been decorated by the Belgian Government with the order of the Crown and by the Poland Government with the order of Polonia Restituta. He is associate editor and co-founder of the Sportsman.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The All Newton Music School has held "Visiting Days" which have been of great interest. The last of these is scheduled for tomorrow morning from 9 to 12 at the Clafin and Pierce schools. At both schools visitors may see the Ensemble Classes and at the Pierce school class work also.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We do not enthuse over the proposed rule of the Newton Board of Health which will compel all milk sold in this city after August 1st to be pasteurized. There are some persons who prefer raw milk to pasteurized milk and they have a right to be able to obtain such milk if they desire it. While the pasteurization of milk acts as a safeguard against the spread of diseases through germs carried in milk, it also has tended to drive out of business many small dealers who produced high quality milk nearby. A large percentage of the milk delivered in Greater Boston touted as being absolutely safe because it is pasteurized, has been produced hundreds of miles from here and is two and three days old when delivered. Milk which has attained such venerable age may be free from live germs but it is of doubtful value.

"Bawdy Boston."

"Law and Order."

The lid has not been blown off yet but it is being gradually lifted.

What a fine mess with the Tercentenary Celebration at hand.

And the insistency of a poor man to collect $87.50 a month is responsible for this embarrassing situation.

Street Commissioner Stuart has acquired some mixers and in the future will use cold asphalt patches to repair the streets eliminating the use of hot tar. After the thawing spells of this past winter the hot tar method of patching was used and these patches will become oozy as the weather gets warm. But, with the change to the asphalt and cold patches, there should be no more trouble from sticky tar after this year.

The "open season" for curbstome cruising sheiks is on again along Washington street between Newton Corner and Newtonville. Women and girls walking along this street evenings are accosted and insulted by cheap Lotharios who attempt to lure young women into automobiles. The activity of these pests cannot be attributed to any negligence on the part of the patrolmen on the routes which include this section of Washington street. These policemen have other streets to patrol and cannot be on Washington street all the time. Moreover, when one of the vamping sheiks spots a policeman's uniform at a distance, he drives away. A policeman in plain clothes occasionally assigned to Washington street could effectively assist in stopping this highway from being used as a resort by roving rakes.

A petition, signed by a large number of Abundale residents, has been presented to Mayor Weeks asking that the reservation now used for the electric car line on Commonwealth avenue be set aside for decorative purposes when the tracks will have been removed after the electric cars will be replaced by busses. The petition requests that the trees on the reservation be preserved.

The replica of the old frigate "Constitution" was recently floated from the drydock at the Charlestown navy yard. The work of reconstructing the historic warship has received unusual publicity. Little of the original ship remains. The information is given that the $400,000 raised to rebuild the "Constitution" has been all spent and it will cost $300,000 more to complete the job. We don't know much about the cost of constructing or reconstructing ships. But, this seems to be a very expensive job, even for an antique.

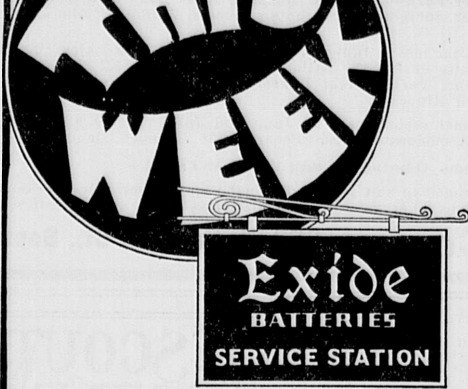

Engineers from the Massachusetts Department of Public Works are surveying Boylston street preparatory to the construction of this street as a main traffic artery between Boston and Worcester. One phase of this project which is of vital interest to citizens of Newton is the proposal to make a detour from the present straight line of the street starting at a point near Canterbury road at Eliot to a point near Chestnut street. This detour would be made to avoid the steep grade at this location. It would mean the taking of a large number of parcels of property. According to law such takings must be paid for by the City of Newton and the cost would run into a large sum. There is no good reason why taxpayers of Newton should be heavily burdened to pay for an unnecessary expense in connection with the construction of the new Boston to Worcester automobile highway.

This trunk line traffic artery will be rounded comparatively little to the benefit of Newton. Mostly, it will be for the benefit of autoists residing in other places. Let the State engineers keep Boylston street in its present straight line and avoid creating a dangerous curve. Let Massachusetts and not the City of Newton bear the principal part of the burden. The grade on the Boylston street hill can be reduced by cutting. The Commonwealth is obtaining enough revenue from the gasoline tax to do this work.

From W. S. Wagner of Abundale, who is in Los Angeles, we have received a clipping from a newspaper showing a photograph of a huge device used in that city to plane the surfaces of highways. The heavy plane, drawn by a big tractor, eliminates the "wash-board" effect on street surfaces. Probably Newton will be financially able, some day in the future, to emulate Los Angeles in obtaining streets with smooth surfaces.

Among the objects viewed by the Public Works Committee of the Aldermen on the recent tour of the city was the wreck of the small structure on California street, Newtonville which was burned last year. The burned ruins of the former temporary real estate office have long been an eyesore to the neighborhood and the people of the district cannot be blamed for their desire to have the city take some action on this matter.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

The public performances of "The Country Cousin," a comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, will be presented by The Village Players for their Spring production on the evenings of April 23, 24 and 25, at the Unitarian Parish House in Newton Centre. The play is an excellent one, and an especially talented cast has been chosen for its production.

The winter season has been a very active one for the Village Players. The members have held regular monthly meetings and the programs have been surprisingly varied, interesting, and instructive. Mr. Towne, of the Cambridge Laboratory Theatre, gave a very helpful lesson in the art of theatrical make-up. "The Broom," an Irish folk play, written by a new member, Mr. Ernest Cobb, was produced, and enthusiastically received. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dynes gave a splendid performance of Susan Glaspell's "Suppressed Desires." The finesse with which this play was produced was exceedingly fine. Mrs. Montague Ford was in charge of a "reading-walking" rehearsal of that very interesting play "The Road Back."

Mrs. Frank Mason, President, states that the club is growing in its scope. All forms of dramatic art are discussed and worked out on a practical scale. The year has been a good one. Attention is now centering on "The Country Cousin" to be produced on April 23, 24, and 25. Remember the dates!

"MAMBA" IN SECOND WEEK

While blasé New Yorkers are storming the Gaiety Theatre, New York, where "Mamba" is being shown for a third week, Boston bids fair to equal the attendance records of that city, judging by the enthusiastic reception it is receiving at the Modern, Beacon and Egyptian, where it will be held over for another week.

"Mamba," representing the first all-Technicolor drama to be made for the "talkies," features Jean Hersholt, Eleanor Boardman and Ralph Forbes. Unlike most pictures of today, "Mamba" boasts no theme song, backstage plot, nor murder mystery, but, instead, a stark drama woven around a cruel rich planter, his purchased bride and a handsome soldier lover; the action takes place in a German possession in East Africa, and the Technicolor process, by which the picture has been filmed, serves to bring out the beautiful colorings that may be found in an African jungle.

Legion To Hold Annual Concert

Large Committee Working For Affair
On May 23rd

Newton Post No. 48 American Legion, will stage their Fifth Annual Welfare Concert at the Newton High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 23, 1930.

During the past fall and winter Newton Post has had numerous calls upon their Welfare Fund, and the only method which the Post uses to secure funds for their welfare and hospital work is by staging their annual concert in the spring.

A large committee is now working to make this year's affair the greatest which Newton Post has ever staged. In addition to high grade professional acts, several members of the Post, under the direction of Dr. Thomas Dowd and Henry Dath, are planning to appear in an act the scene of which will be laid in France, shortly after the signing of the Armistice.

The Honorable Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of the City of Newton is the Honorary Chairman. Francis J. Barry, who has been active in the previous welfare concerts and who has held many offices in Newton Post is the chairman for this year's show, and he is being assisted by the following members: J. Edward Theriault, Treasurer, Herbert L. Woodman, Dr. Thomas F. Dowd, Patrick J. Lehane, Joseph J. Cavanaugh, Edric B. Blake, more, Irving W. House, Russell J. Viles, Irving W. Ireland, Donald M. Hill, Frank R. Gaw, Joseph Brady, Ashley Q. Robinson, James F. Murphy, Daniel Wilkins, Roland H. Allen, Leo Nolan, William A. Davidson, John Geraci, Richard Capstick, Paul Mullen, Edward Cannon, Henry Dath, Herbert W. Gleim, and Joseph Beattie.

BABIES SLASHED AT NEWTON CORNER

Three babies were slashed at Newton Corner yesterday afternoon by some unknown person. They were Warren Monahan, six months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Monahan of Dalby street, Newton, who was in his carriage inside the doorway of a store, Ira Rubin, 15 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Rubin of 52 Pembroke street and another child whose identity was not made public were also slashed. The cuts were made on the faces of the babies extending from their eyes to their chins and appeared to have been made with some instrument such as a nail file. Attention was attracted by the cries of the children while their mothers were in the store making some purchases, but no one in the vicinity was able to give any clue as to who may have caused the injuries to the children. The police are of the opinion that it was a person who was mentally deranged.

Businessmen Hear Of Present Conditions

H. M. McGill Looks For Improvement
Late In Year

The April meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last evening at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. Herbert M. McGill, president of the McGill Commodity Service Co., Inc., of Auburndale.

Mr. McGill gave a concise and interesting review of the business of today and the outlook for the immediate future. He cited several of the amazing developments of the past fifteen and twenty years and stated that the average person today takes little notice of the great strides that have been made in certain developments in recent months. Inside of the next ten years he predicted that television would be a common thing in many homes and that the transmission of power on the same principle as that of sound waves will be of practical value. These rapid changes are due

Refuse Highlands Permit
The petition of Benjamin Sands for a permit to conduct a filling station at the corner of Floral and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands, was refused by the Aldermen at the Board meeting on Monday night. The Licenses Committee was divided on this question. Chairman Hawkins and Alderman Temperley favored the granting of the petition. Aldermen Mansfield, Woodcock, Prior, Smith and Holden opposed the petition being granted.

Grant Cemetery Permit
At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted to accept the unanimous report of the Licenses Committee favoring the granting of a permit to the Newton Cemetery Corporation to establish a gasoline filling station at the northwest corner of Walnut and Beacon streets, Newton Centre. This petition had been opposed by George M. Heathcote as attorney for Mrs. Mary O'Connor who owns adjoining property. He has taken an appeal to the State Fire Marshal.

MAY BUILD NEW STADIUM THIS YEAR

The first definite step towards completion of the proposed new stadium at Claffin Field, Newtonville, was taken last Monday night when the Board of Aldermen appropriated the sum of $1000 to engage an architect and ask for bids on the project. It is hoped that a portion of the proposed stadium can be built this year but in order to make it ready for use this fall the drainage system must be completed at once. It is possible to have a grass surface in readiness for the 1930 football season if work is begun without delay and a special turf seed used. Otherwise in order to have the ground ready it would have to be sodded at an expense of about $9,000. It is also proposed to erect a portion of the stadium with enough seats to accommodate about 4000 spectators. These and some of the portable stands now available would provide adequate facilities for the 1930 home games.

The new diamond at the corner of Lowell avenue and Hull street will be dedicated tomorrow when the Newton high and West Warwick (R. I.) High School teams cross bats in the opening game of the season. The Newton and Wellesley teams played a practice game yesterday afternoon there in order that the local boys might get the feel of the new diamond. Coach Sullivan has staged several such practice games this week with a team of ineligible and others and has about settled on a batting order and line-up. Joe Doucette will start at second base and head the batting order. He is small but fast and will have a fair chance of scoring once he gets on base. Captain Perry Elrod, center-fielder, will bat second. He is especially effective at dragging bunts and his speed enables him to beat many such a tap to first base. Bob Dalton, who will probably start in the box tomorrow, may bat in third position. He is an aggressive player who takes a good cut at the ball. George Bennett, third baseman, will follow Dalton and in turn will be followed by either Warren Colby, rightfielder or George Hildreth, leftfielder.

John Barry, the shortstop, will bat seventh and will be followed by either Charles Butler, first baseman or the catcher. The catching berth may not be definitely settled until this afternoon as both Irving Fine and Norbert Champagne are staging a close race for the position.

It is understood that West Warwick has an almost entire veteran nine and if true the orange and black will be called upon to show their best in order to open the season with a victory.

SPORT NOTES

B. U. Beats Harvard

Boston University and Harvard ushered in the 1930 collegiate baseball season last Saturday with the Hub team taking a 5 to 3 verdict over the Crimson at Soldiers' Field, Cambridge. Carleton McCullough, former Newton high captain, played in left field for the Terriers, made one hit in four trips to the plate, scored one run and made two putouts. He batted third in the line-up. Norman George, now a resident of Newton, batted fourth and made one hit in five attempts. He had two putouts in centre.

Newton League Bowling

Final matches in the Newton league were bowled Wednesday evening with Maugus furnishing the surprise of the evening by blanking Weston, league leaders, on the Wellesley alleys. The loss of four points did not affect Weston's standing as they have enjoyed a comfortable lead over the other teams most of the season. Hunnewell, entertaining Waban, blanked their guests and by so doing maintained their hold on second place which was reduced to a one point margin through Maugus' shutout of Weston. Maugus landed in third place when Middlesex dropped one point to University Club on the Arlington team's alleys. In the other match Newton took three out of four from Commercial to forge ahead of University. Highlights of Wednesday night's matches were the 1664 and 1645 totals of Hunnewell and Maugus. Richardson of Maugus hit 136 and Dexter of Hunnewell 133 for the two highest strings of the evening. Dexter, with 122, 133, 112—367; Willey of Maugus with 115, 117, 127—359; and Geisley of Middlesex with 114, 121, 127—362 were the high three-string totals. Hunnewell hit 567 and 565 and Maugus 566 and 563 for the highest team singles of the evening. The final standings:

| | Won | Lost |
| Weston | 36 | 20 |
| Hunnewell | 33 | 23 |
| Maugus | 32 | 24 |
| Middlesex | 31 | 25 |
| Newton | 30 | 26 |
| University | 28 | 28 |
| Commercial | 24 | 32 |
| Waban | 10 | 46 |

KELLY WINS NATIONAL TITLE

Charles Kelly, Newton welterweight, won the national amateur 147-lb. boxing championship at the tournament in the Boston Arena this week. The local youth drew a bye in the trial round on Monday night and entered the quarter-finals against Hoyt Webster of Fort Eustis, Va., on Tuesday night. Kelly scored a quick knockout over the Army lad, who had also drawn a bye, with about twelve blows. A half dozen blows after the bout began and Webster went to the canvas from a left to the jaw for the count of nine. When he arose Kelly bore in again and a few blows later floored his opponent with a right to the jaw to enter the semi-finals.

In his semi-final match Kelly faced Ruben Edmans of Grand Rapids, Michigan. It was the latter's first bout in the tourney as he had drawn a bye in the opening round and entered the semi-finals when his quarter-final opponent, Charles Harting of Buffalo, had to default because of illness. For two rounds the Mid-westerner carried Kelly along even but in the third round the local lad got the range. After dropping Edmans three times the referee stopped the bout to put Kelly in the finals.

Meanwhile Joe Bernal of San Francisco was taking on his opponents and dashing their hopes in short order. Referee Brasil stopped the semi-final bout between Bernal and Eric Sonnicksey of the Washington K. of C. In the second round after the Frisco lad had greatly outclassed his rival. This brought Kelly and Bernal together for the title. It was a close battle with honors pretty near even. Kelly's rasping rights to the body landed more than once while Bernal scored several times with his left hooks. Kelly received the decision and with it the amateur welterweight title.

SPORT NOTES

Hoyt With Williams Squad

Franklin Hoyt of West Newton will be among the Williams athletes who have survived the final cut in the baseball squad that will go on the annual spring training trip to Princeton during the coming Easter recess.

Awarded Letters

Boston University awarded letters in winter sports the past week. Among those to receive hockey insignia was Holman Whitmore of Newton Highlands. Arthur Richards of Newton was named manager of freshman tennis at the same time.

Playing for Bridgton

Everett Scheinfain and Bill Sutcliffe, both former Newton high athletes, are on the Bridgton Academy baseball team which played several games around Boston last week during the spring vacation. Scheinfain played third base and Sutcliffe right field. In a game with the Malden City Club with Malden winning 15 to 5 Scheinfain collected two hits in four trips to the plate, one a two bagger. Sutcliffe did not get into the game until near the end of the game and on his only trip to the plate was hit by a pitched ball.

Win By One Point

The Newton Y junior basketball team which is entered in the intermediate division of the Boston Boys' Club tournament, played its first game last Saturday night against the strong Calvary Baptist Church five. It was an exciting game all the way with the Newton team winning 22 to 21. Gallagher, Newton left forward, was the high scorer of the game with ten points. Peterson, centre, with seven points and Capt. Earle, right forward with five points, brought the local team's total to 22.

At Third For B. U. '33

Arthur Wilson played third base for the Boston University freshman Wednesday against the Huntington School team, in a game which the Hub yearlings won 6 to 5. Wilson had eight chances in the field which he handled but one error despite the cold weather. He also tallied one of his team's runs.

Exeter Opens Tomorrow

The Exeter Academy baseball team, captained by Frank Spain, ex-Newton high star, opens its 1930 season tomorrow against Concord (N. H.) High. Spain will be at shortstop. With nine letter men available Coach Murch has little to worry about in choosing his line-up. The biggest loss by graduation was Ray Coombs, the outstanding prep school pitcher last year and a nephew of Jack Coombs, another former Newton high athlete, is running a close second in the battle for the catcher's berth. Bennett played in the outfield part of the 1929 season and may be shifted there again if the other outfielders stick work falls off.

Y. M. C. A.

For the purpose of deepening the spiritual life and increasing the consciousness of unity in worship among the people of all churches, a pamphlet, "The Fellowship of Prayer," has been issued by the Federal Council of Churches.

The author this year of these meditations is Rev. J. T. Stocking, formerly pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville. Thousands have been following these daily readings since the Lenten season began. Many others will join this larger group during Holy Week.

Copies of the pamphlet may be had for the asking at The Newton Y. M. C. A. and in many of the churches.

For those who would like to worship together during Holy Week a devotional meeting will be held at The Newton Y. M. C. A. from 9:15 to 9:30 each morning except Saturday. The leaders will be on Monday, Maurice R. Hodder, on Tuesday, Rev. Maurice L. Bullock, Wednesday, Rev. John Slade Franklin, Thursday, Rev. Charles H. Otto, and Friday, Rev. Robert L. Rae.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, April 14th will be Mr. Vernon W. Marr, Assistant General Counsel of the Boston Legal Association and Secretary of the Massachusetts Legal Aid Association. He will take for his subject, "Can a Poor Man Get Justice?" Any who are interested in hearing Mr. Marr are very cordially invited to come at seven o'clock.

There will be a meeting of The Round Table Club of the Newton Y. M. C. A. at Hotel Somerset on Monday evening, April 22nd. This Club is made up of former members of the Public Speaking Class.

Mr. Harold A. Wolff of the Department of Anthropology of Harvard University will be the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Wolff served on the Rockefeller Foundation on Criminal Survey. His subject will be, "How to Cure the Criminal." It is expected that a large number will attend.

SPORT NOTES

At Third For Yale

Edgar Warren, former Newton high star third baseman, is playing third for Yale. In the games on the recent trip south Warren has played an important part. His best day was on Tuesday when Georgetown turned back the Blue, 4 to 2. Warren collected two hits in three times at bat, one a double, scored one of Yale's two runs and handled five chances in the field without an error.

Last Friday against the Naval Academy with Yale winning 8 to 4, Warren's single, after Snead had tripled to score two runs, chalked up the third tally of the opening inning. Warren's record for the day was two hits out of four and three chances in the field without error. If he can maintain this start he will be close to duplicating his record of last year when he led the freshman nine with the bat.

Harvard Net Team Wins

The Harvard tennis team, now on its annual southern trip, shut out the William and Mary College net team Wednesday. Malcolm C. Hill of Waban, after a year's absence from the game, played an excellent game to capture his singles match, the most spectacular of the day, and aid in winning at doubles.

Another Marathoner

Nicholas Tambastio of Newton was among those this week who sent in their entries for the annual B. A. A. marathon on Saturday, April 19th.

Daniels Floors DeWolfe

Wallace DeWolfe, 160-lb. amateur Newton boxer, was knocked out by Joe Daniels of Milford in the final round of the golden glove tourney at Providence which was completed Tuesday night.

The Girls' Basketball League is now a tie between the girls of the Newtonville Methodist Church and the Immanuel Baptist Church. The game last Monday between the Methodist girls of Newtonville and of Newton Upper Falls was one of the finest ever seen in the League, with the result in doubt till the fourth quarter, and the final score 35 to 32 in favor of Newtonville.

A recent number of the International Journal of Religious Education carries an article by Myron C. Settle, formerly of Newton Centre, on "The Curriculum of the Vacation Church School." Friends of Mr. Settle will also be interested to learn that he is the author of a leaflet on "The Week-day Church School."

SPECIAL PALM SUNDAY SERVICES

At the morning service at eleven, the Combined Senior, Intermediate and Junior Choirs of Auburndale

Methodist church will sing Charles Gounod's "Gallia" with Mrs. Marion A. Graham as soprano soloist. The Junior Choir will sing the offertory anthem, "Hosanna" by Parker. Organ numbers will be "Fete Dieu" by Dubois and "Hosanna" by Wachs. Mrs. Franklin E. Leland is the organist and director of choirs. The minister, the Rev. Maurice L. Bullock, will preach on "The Easter Preparation." There will be a reception of new members into the church fellowship during the service.

At the evening service at 7:30 the Centenary Senior Choir of thirty-six voices under Mrs. Franklin E. Leland's direction will sing Sir John Stainer's great motet, "The Crucifixion." Mr. Arthur O. Wellesome will be the tenor soloist, and Mr. Luther O. Emerson will be bass soloist. This service marks an outstanding event of the year by this choir, and a large congregation is anticipated.

These services mark the beginning of a series of special services at Centenary Church in observance of Holy Week. The minister will preach Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30. On Thursday evening the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. On Good Friday the congregation, minister and choir will participate in a union service of the Auburndale churches at the Church of the Messiah on Commonwealth Avenue at Auburn Street.

WANT MUSICIANS FOR TERCENTENARY ORCHESTRA

Musicians of nearly every type are being sought by C. Clark Macomber, Chairman of the Musical Committee, for the formation of the orchestra which will play a prominent part in Newton's Tercentenary Pageant Drama to be presented on the Newton Centre Playground June 2, 3 and 4.

Players of wind instruments who will volunteer their services are needed especially. Mr. Macomber says there is room for four French horns, four base viols, two oboes, two bassoons, two trombones, and two tubas.

The Committee, which Mr. Macomber heads, hopes to obtain voluntarily from the citizens of Newton all of the players in the Pageant orchestra and all of the chorus for the singing. Groups of singers who are interested in joining the chorus as a group, and orchestra players with a reasonable degree of proficiency should communicate at once with Mr. Macomber.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

to the introduction of labor saving devices which in turn increase production and reduce cost. During the past ten weeks production has been one of the most important factors governing business conditions but in the immediate future the big problem will be that of distribution.

Business in this country is now going through a difficult period following the stock market crash last fall. A year ago today business was running on high because production was being taken up by distribution but the decline of the financial market stopped buying and caused overproduction. Mr. McGill likened business to a toy balloon. When the pressure put upon business by production that cannot be absorbed by distribution becomes too great the balloon must burst. Installment selling, the speaker stated, was one of the evils that caused the ultimate crash. Today there are over a million and three-quarters used automobiles on the market while every automobile dealer in the country has an average of twenty-four new cars on hand. The building program which enjoyed such a great expense started to crumble in 1928 and is still on the decline. These conditions are not confined to any individual locality but exist everywhere. Readjustment is the nation wide and the whole world inactive in a business sense through reactions on international trade.

But Mr. McGill sounded a note of optimism by stating that in the last analysis he believed the worst was over, that the low point was reached in December. Since then savings bank deposits have grown rapidly so that as a whole they are back to the stage of last September and that the financial situation in the country has a promising outlook. But it will take time for the economic situation to get back to a normal level and it will be the closing months before businessmen note the rapid advancement in this respect.

The question of employment has a great deal to do with the subject in that when people are working, their purchasing power increases and in turn production is increased through the demand thus created. There is nothing to be pessimistic over and in a few years we will look back on the present and laugh at our fears. With the resources that this country has at hand and the rapid strides being made in science we should be on the upgrade for a century. But if we go at too fast a pace reactions will occur which will set us back momentarily. Mr. McGill warned the business men that over extension of credit should be guarded against while purchasing power was low.

LECTURE ON SWISS ALPS

Bradford Washburn lectures to the men and women of Eliot Church on Saturday evening, April 26, at eight o'clock. All men and women who are interested in thrilling moving pictures of rock and snow climbing in the Swiss Alps, in tales of this life and in demonstrations of the necessary equipment, will find this distinguished mountaineer a captivating personality and his adventures hair-raising.

Competent judges claim that Mr. Washburn has procured the most remarkable motion pictures ever taken. He has just returned from Washington where his lecture was delivered before 4500 members of the National Geographic Society.

All Boy and Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls appearing in uniform will be admitted for 25 cents each. The general admission to all others is 50 cents.—Advertisement.

MUSICAL

On Saturday evening, April 5th, a reception and musicale was held in the studio home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland A. Arnold of Warren street, Newton Centre. The list of invited guests numbered two hundred and fifty. Mr. Arnold presented three of his pupils, Mrs. Mildred Sircorn, soprano; Miss Alma Field, soprano; and Mr. Richard A. Newman, baritone. They were assisted by two well-known artists, Miss Irene Forte, violinist, and Miss Mary Clark, harpist.

Flickering candle light and floral decorations made the interesting and unusual background of the spacious studio a picturesque and veritable stage for the performers. The vocal selections were beautifully rendered and the tonal qualities and personalities of the three singers were such as to call forth much enthusiasm from the guests. Miss Clark and Miss Forte played in their usual pleasing manner and responded graciously to numerous encores. Refreshments were served in the drawing room.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

A truck owned by Felice Oliveri of 115 Jewett street, Newton, and operated by Henry Beltrami of Washburn street, Newton, hit Harold Murphy, 13, of 64 Gardner street last Saturday. According to the complaint made to the police the truck ran onto the sidewalk at Waban park. Patrolman Walker, in investigating the accident, learned that the regular driver of the truck was Fred Bonaci of 102 Los Angeles street, Nonantum, who is under 18 years of age. Walker obtained a complaint against Oliveri for violating the labor laws.

Cars operated by Thomas Matthews of 16 Broadway, Newtonville, and Daniel Antonellis of 28 Adams street, Nonantum, collided Tuesday afternoon at Crafts and Watertown streets, Newtonville. Mrs. Margaret Barry of 462 Watertown street and Margaret Pitts of 462 Watertown street received injuries.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A service in memory of Professor Mary Whiton Calkins, who died in this city February 26, 1930, will be held in the Houghton Memorial Chapel of Wellesley College on Sunday afternoon, April 13, at 3:30 p. m.

This service has been arranged by the president and faculty of Wellesley College. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of Miss Calkins to attend.

ROTARY AND KIWANIS CLUBS
HOLD JOINT MEETING

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Tuesday, April 8th, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, the Rotary Club being the guest of the Kiwanis Club of Newton.

President Clement Hernandez of the Kiwanis Club called the meeting to order at 12:15 and also introduced to those present Charles D. Ansley, President of the Newton Rotary Club.

Bert Clark of the Waltham Kiwanis Club led the singing in his usual enthusiastic manner and favored the meeting with several popular selections himself. Much Boyd of the Newton Kiwanis Club introduced as the speaker of the day, Warren Bishop, First Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County. For seven years Mr. Bishop has been connected with this Department, four years as Second District Attorney and the last three years as First Assistant to District Attorney Bushnell.

His talk on "The Crime Wave" was most interesting and he explained that the activities of his Department have made Middlesex County the safest County in the Commonwealth to live in. He explained that most of the crimes today were attributed to young men and boys and that the probation system, now in practice, was turning many of them in the right direction instead of giving them jail sentences.

He spoke very highly of the juries and the character of the men serving on them in Middlesex County and stated that the quality of these jury men was a great help to the District Attorney's office.

As the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club is usually held on Monday, a Round Table meeting was held as usual at the Woodland Golf Club, fifteen members of the Rotary Club being present and two visiting Rotarians joined with us from Watertown and Lexington.

FILLING STATION PERMIT REFUSED

men on March 3rd, no opposition appeared, and that if the people of Newton Highlands believed the location a dangerous one, they certainly would have protested as they are usually alive to any such situation. He argued that instead of creating a dangerous condition, the filling station would make the corner more safe by causing the removal of the house now located there. The Ward 5 alderman remarked that he had been approached by a not disinterested person who was opposed to the granting of the petition.

Alderman Bail, of Newton Highlands, asserted the location is very dangerous for a gasoline station. Automobiles travel rapidly over the bridge at this place and cars coming out of a filling station would not have clear vision because of the bridge. He commented that he could not understand where Alderman Temperley obtained the information that Newton Highlands residents are not opposed to a filling station at this site, as every Newton Highlands resident he had interviewed on this matter voiced opposition.

Alderman Woodcock stated that he was not influenced by anyone in posing the petition. He drove up to view the proposed station site and one look was enough to convince him that a station next to the blind bridge would be very dangerous. Alderman Fowers said that he would vote against granting permits for filling stations on sites adjoining any of the railroad bridges in this city which have closed sides.

POLICE NEWS

A civil case in the Newton court Tuesday was that of Mrs. Gertrude Hayden, 27 Albion street, Newton Centre, against Mrs. John Boyce of Albion place. Mrs. Hayden complained that a fence had been erected between her house and Mrs. Boyce's as a spite fence and that it spoils the view from her house. The fence is 6 feet, 10 inches high and 46 feet long. It is of lattice work construction. Judge Weston asked Mrs. Hayden if she would withdraw her complaint if the fence were lowered in height by one foot and received an affirmative answer. He announced he would visit the place and look at the fence.

A teletype machine was installed this week in police headquarters. This machine will enable the Newton police department to send and receive typewritten communications to and from Boston and a number of cities and towns in the metropolitan area which possess similar machines. When automobiles are stolen, robberies committed or any news is desired to be transmitted from one police department to surrounding places, teletype machines provide a means for very rapid communication. They work practically on the same system as the telegraph.

Three colored men were in the Newton court Monday and fined $25 each for disturbing the peace and $10 for drunkenness. The three were Edward Gasden, 19 Gerard court, West Newton; Charles Shearer, 27 Dunstan street, West Newton; Carl Roane, 20 Clarendon park, Boston. The three became involved in a scrap Saturday night and were summoned to court. When Sgt. Moan and Patrolmen McGrath and Stevens answered the call they found Shearer knocked out and he was removed to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

NEWTON SYMPHONY CONCERT

The Newton Symphony Orchestra concert will be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School on April 24. There will be a snappy program with a baritone soloist. There will be a detailed announcement later.

FILLING STATION PERMIT GRANTED

the meeting. James P. Gallagher, as attorney for Horace W. Orr, asked for a permit to make changes in the plans of the service building to be erected at the gasoline station which is to be started at 241 Walnut street. The proposed building would have a frontage of 41 feet and would be of brick construction. A written protest against the proposed changes in the service building was received from Peter Turchon, owner of the Colonna Apartments located across Walnut street from the filling station site.

John H. O'Neill, attorney for James C. Heffron, asked for a permit to alter the garage building at 965 Watertown street, West Newton, so that an outside filling station can be conducted in connection with this garage. This permit is needed to make the garage a paying proposition. The building would be cut back and part of the low cement wall adjoining Davis court removed. Mr. John Enckess of 942 Watertown street stated he is not opposed to the change provided the drive is from the front and that part of the wall along Davis court remains so that traffic at this corner will be safeguarded. There was no opposition to the petition.

APPEALS TO STATE FIRE MARSHAL ON GASOLINE STATION

Former Alderman George Heathcote, as attorney for Mrs. Mary O'Connor of 875 Walnut street has appealed to the State Fire Marshal from the decision of the Board of Aldermen of Newton. The Aldermen on Monday night voted to grant the petition of the Newton Cemetery Corporation asking for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at the northwest corner of Walnut and Beacon streets, Newton Highlands. The protest reads as follows:—

Mr. John Reth
State Fire Marshal
Dept. of Public Safety
State House
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:
April 7, 1930, the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton voted to give a gasoline permit to the Newton Cemetery Corporation to store and sell gasoline at the corner of Beacon and Walnut Streets, Newton. The permit allows 4000 gallons to be stored at one time.

Mrs. M. O'Connor owner of adjoining residential property protests the granting of this permit for the following reasons:

1st.—That no need exists for another gasoline station at this site. There are already two large gasoline stations at this corner—the Jenney Filling Station with permit for 6000 gallons and the Standard Oil with permit for 3000 gallons. The Texas Company has a gasoline station 1-1/2 of a mile away, directly opposite Newton Cemetery on Beacon Street.

2nd.—That the proposed filling station comes within 30 feet of the residence of Mrs. O'Connor who is a widow with 4 children and has lived at that place since she was 8 years old. This filling station operated late at night and Sundays would be most undesirable for the O'Connor family and would depreciate her property.

3rd.—Judge Bacon, April 3, 1930, testified before the License Committee that the cemetery could not directly operate the filling station, but thought the same could be done indirectly. Chairman Hawkins of the License Committee agreed to have City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett rule on the legality of this phase of the situation, but never did so. The legality of the whole proposition should be cleared up before the gasoline permit is issued.

The Newton cemetery is very wealthy, some cemetery lots selling for many thousands of dollars. It has no taxes to pay, and ought not to be allowed directly or indirectly to go into the gasoline business. This is the first case in Newton where a cemetery has applied for a gasoline filling station permit; it is also the first time 3 permits have been issued for 3 of the 4 corners of an intersecting street.

4th.—The proposed site is not thickly settled. The Newton cemetery owns a great many acres of land that are devoted strictly for cemetery purposes. There are also near by a great many acres of swamp lands so that with the three large stations now there, no need can possibly exist for another station.

We respectfully submit that there is no need of another gasoline station at the corner of Beacon and Walnut street, Newton, and request you as State Fire Marshal to prevent the issuance of a gasoline permit at Beacon and Walnut streets, Newton, to the Newton cemetery.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of The Graphic:

During the past week several hundred citizens representing all sections of West Newton have registered with Mayor Weeks their disapproval of the erection of a motion picture theater in their village.

It is beginning to be understood that there can be, for practical reasons, no local censorship of the pictures, and that the theater will undoubtedly be open on Sunday afternoons and evenings.

Many have felt that a fair and impartial presentation of the matter has not been made, and that the cards for the first poll, which were sent out with a letter signed by three well known citizens that may have influenced many to favor the project, do not represent the real sentiment of the community.

Clubs and church guilds who voted overwhelmingly against the same project two years ago have not been again approached.

West Newton is a residential section of many children, and those who are most interested in their welfare, and in the future of this delightful neighborhood are vigorously opposing a commercial place of amusement which will draw to it an undesirable element, and tempt the young people from more wholesome forms of recreation.

The gain to local merchants, which is purely a matter of speculation would hardly seem to counterbalance the change in the character of the village, and the harm done to the children who live here.

It is to be hoped that Mayor Weeks will be guided in his decision by the best elements from all parts of the village.

KATHERINE P. COWIN.

ELKS' INSTALLATION

The Lodge presented to the installing officer a handsome pen and pencil set and a similar set to the Grand Esquire. The remembrances were received with expressions of thanks.

Honorary life membership was presented by the lodge to Augustus Heck, retiring esteemed leading knight.

Former Mayor Edwin O. Childs, P. E. R., presented to Judge P. S. Cunniff an attractive fountain pen in behalf of the new exalted ruler. It was Judge Cunniff who nominated Exalted Ruler Callanan for secretary of the lodge twelve years ago.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks delivered a short address, congratulating the newly installed officers and wishing them success in the administration of their duties.

Organization for the year will now be completed by the new Exalted Ruler with the appointment of the standing committees and then the work of the lodge will be continued with renewed interest.

RECEIVE DeMOLAY LEGION OF HONOR

At the annual meeting of the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay, held at Chicago in March, Charles R. Johnson, of Newtonville, and F. Carleton Black, of Wellesley Hills, members of Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, were designated for the DeMolay Legion of Honor. This is the highest honor in the gift of the Grand Council and is awarded only to those members of the Order whose character is outstanding and who have performed unusual meritorious service for the Order. Both these young men have been members of Newton Chapter for approximately five years, during which time each has missed but one regular meeting. Johnson was Scribe for two years and a half, afterwards becoming Master Councilor. Black served in nearly all of the chairs, including that of Master Councilor. The investiture of the Legion of Honor degree is made by a representative of the Grand Council and suite in a ritualistic ceremony which is usually public, during which the Legionnaire is presented with a Legion of Honor Ring, a Cordon with the Legion of Honor Medallion, and Diploma. Newton Chapter has an active membership of nearly three hundred, and these young men are to be congratulated on having been designated for this honor.

The action of the Legislature last week in refusing to repeal the Baby Volstead law, will undoubtedly result in having the question placed on the ballot for a referendum to the entire electorate at the November election. We hope our readers will note the names of the representatives and Senators who voted for repeal and those who voted to sustain the stand taken so courageously by Governor Allen. Let them ask themselves with which body they prefer to be aligned. Which side has the best interests of the Commonwealth at heart. If this is done we have no hesitation in predicting a vote against repeal.

We cannot understand why the bill authorizing the arrest without a warrant of drunken drivers of automobiles was killed in the Senate some time ago on a voice vote and with no explanation of the reasons for such action. Senator Hollis has thus far neglected to reply to our inquiry on this important matter. Drunken drivers are potential murderers and should be treated as such.

The Traffic Squad

The Traffic Squad composed of Boy Scouts has been increased to sixty members and a new Squad has been started at the Sacred Heart Church, composed of Scouts of the Troop there, 21 Newton Centre.

The Police Department, through Chief Burke, has provided the Scouts with new belts and new badges where necessary. The officers of the Squad, Chief Robert Lavery, Captains Wilson Noble and Austin Fisher, Lieutenants Stearns MacNutt, William Peterson, Hallie Crosbie and Joseph Leahy, have, through the co-operation and generosity of Mayor Weeks, been provided with gold-plated badges, as a mark of rank.

The work has proven so successful here in Norumbega Council that other Boy Scout Councils have been inquiring about the Squad, with the idea of starting it in their own respective jurisdictions.

Regional Conference

The Annual Conference of the Scout Leaders, Council members and officers of Region I, which is New England, started this week Thursday at Springfield, Mass. Dr. George J. Fisher, Deputy Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America and International Commissioner Mortimer Schidd will be the principal speakers at the luncheon and dinner meetings. On Thursday afternoon, group conferences in Court of Honor work, Leadership and Training, Health and Safety, Finance, what Commissioners and Council Presidents have as their job. Rovering, Camping and the many other matters which cover the work of Scouting in the various local Councils.

The Scout Executive of Norumbega Council was the business manager of the Conference. At the group meetings, Mr. G. D. Marcy, 1st Vice-President of Norumbega Council and Chairman of the Highlands Scout Committee spoke, on "Merit Badge Counseling—Whom to Get and How to Train them." Mr. Dana Sylvester, Scoutmaster of Troop 4 B, Newton Highlands, spoke on "Civic Service and Its Relationship to Council and Troop Programs." The Conference was also attended by Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer of Norumbega Council.

Seascope Division

On Sunday evening last the Committee of Ship 13, Seascope Division, met at the home of Chairman H. K. Wead, to discuss policies and program in regard to sailing and summer cruising and ship operation. The members of the Ship, now increased to thirteen in number, are already working on the big cutter, which lies on the banks of the Charles. It is planned to put her into commission as soon as possible. One of the duties is to ready to launch for the summer sailing and the other will be put into commission as soon as the demand arises. The Ship Committee is extremely active and every man is taking his full share and part in the work of the Ship. Skipper Julius Kohler and Mate Gerald Hudson are putting on attractive and appealing programs every Friday evening and great progress in the Ship this year is fully expected.

Commodore Fawcett of the Seascope Division has arranged for the Ship to take a cruise on a big yacht early this summer, probably immediately following the close of school.

Troop Activities

On Friday evening last the three Troops of West Newton, 7A, 7B, and 7C with Scoutmasters Chester Read, Oswald Cammann and Maxwell P. Gaddis respectively had a joint parents' night at the meeting place of Troops 7A and 7C and there was an excellent turnout of fathers and mothers. The three Troops already have a membership of over sixty Scouts, with more appearing for enrollment. The three Troops have each decided to limit their membership to 24 Scouts, as they believe in the small Troop idea, on the basis of National and International experience.

The program included the presentation of "The Eight Ages of a Scout" which very graphically shows the advancement of a Boy from the time he enters Scouting to the time he becomes an Eagle Scout. This was followed by game demonstration and then the Fifteen Year Veteran Charters were presented to Troops 7A and 7B, being received by Scoutmaster Chester Read of 7A and Scoutmaster Oswald Cammann of Troop 7B; they with their Assistant Scoutmasters, Alfred Payne and Russell, Taylor, were presented to the Scout Executive for presentation of Charters and Commissions from the National Council by Scoutmaster Maxwell P. Gaddis of 7C, who built up Troop 7 and created a staff that it might be made into three Troops.

On Monday evening last, Troop 14, Upper Falls, Mr. Homer Kelle, Scoutmaster held a Parents' Night and Fifth Birthday Party at their regular meeting place in that village. Messrs. A. P. Hartshorn, Chairman, Rev. Vaughan Shedd, Harry Young and Samuel Oldfield of the Troop Committee were present and spoke to the Troop and the parents, who turned out in good numbers. The program included opening ceremony with colors and report of Patrol Leaders to the Troop Scribe, presentation of the Five-Year Veteran Flag to the Troop by the Scout Executive. Following that, the Troop Committee was called forward, and the Scout Oath administered to them and Commissions presented to them from the National Council through Norumbega Council. The five-year Veteran Troop Charter was presented to Chairman Hartshorn. Then Scoutmaster Kestle and Assistant Scoutmaster Donald Ryder were called forward, the Scout Oath administered to them, with the Troop at the Scout Sign and their Commissions presented to them. The demonstration

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

Athens, Georgia, has passed a city ordinance making it unlawful for persons to ask rides. The danger and nuisance of the practice is thus recognized. A motorist has a right to have every possible chance for unnecessary danger in driving removed.

Some motorists increase the inconveniences of driving by encouraging bummers, through lifts, to impede traffic and increase accidents.

Team up by refusing rides to all bummers!

THANK YOU!

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Legislation has gone through this week which will make far more equitable the excise tax law on automobiles. The matter was new last year and it raised a chorus of protests from all parts of the State. There is little wonder that people objected. Everybody paid a full year's tax on his car and if he turned it in and bought a new one he was taxed all over again for balance of the year. There were said to be instances where six people paid taxes on the same car. If A bought his car in January he paid for the full year. If B bought it in February he paid the tax for 11 months on the same car. And so on, with the result that there was a fine revenue accumulated by the State on automobiles. Legislation was this year demanded so that now if a man pays a full year's tax and later sells his car he gets a rebate for that portion of the year during which the car was not his.

One subject that seems to have received far more attention than appears warranted is the bill providing for stamping prison-made goods. This week it was finally rejected by the House by a rollcall vote of 111 to 93. The Newton Representatives voted to reject the bill.

Now it looks as if cities and towns were to have the right to spend money for advertising "and other methods of promoting prosperity." The bill which seems to be going along without a hitch has been amended by the House to provide that such expenditures shall be limited to $50,000 annually.

The Governor sent in this week his first veto of the 1930 session. It was against reinstatement under civil service after a lapse of time which the Governor said would, in his opinion, "greatly prejudice the rights of both veterans and civilians on the eligible civil service list." His reasons for disapproval apparently convinced the House for the veto was sustained, 138 to 71. Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted to sustain the Governor.

Mayor Weeks' petition that the city be authorized to borrow money for the purpose of constructing and equipping a new City Hall is now before the Committee on Municipal Finance. It reads as follows:

"Section 1. For the purpose of constructing, originally equipping and furnishing a new city hall, the city of Newton may, from time to time, within a period of five years from the acceptance of this act, borrow such sums as may be necessary not exceeding in the aggregate seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and may issue bonds or notes therefor, which shall bear on their face the words 'Newton City Hall Loan, Act of 1930.' Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan and such loan shall be paid by the city of Newton from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds or notes issued therefor, but no issue shall be authorized under this act unless a sum equal to an amount not less than ten per cent of such authorized issue is voted for the same purpose to be raised by the tax levy of the year when authorized. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be in excess of the statutory limit but shall, except as provided herein, be subject to chapter forty-four of the General Laws, exclusive of the limits contained in the first paragraph of section seven thereof as revised by chapter three hundred and twenty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight."

"Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the city of Newton."

Last week the school had 99.2% in thrift. There were twenty-two 100% home rooms. $143.05 was banked. Of the 696 pupils present 690 banked.

The record of Senate rollcalls this week showed that Senator Hollis voted against the bill providing for the establishment of a working day of eight hours in eleven for street railway employees and against the bill to prohibit the employment of women and children in tanneries after 6 p. m. He also voted against the bill to require that fines received in Boston municipal courts from violations of the motor vehicle law be paid into the treasury of the city of Boston.

Senator Hollis was active this week in the interest of the town of Framingham and the city of Marlboro, both of which are in his district. He succeeded in getting a favorable committee report on a bill to enable Marlboro to borrow money for schoolhouse construction. He was on the losing side, however, when the Senate rejected a bill to provide that Framingham purchase the State muster held there, providing the voters so decided by ballot.

A humane measure which this week received the Governor's signature provides a penalty for scattering grain on the surface of water or on the shores or foreshores to attract wild birds for the purpose of shooting.

Taxpayers will be interested to learn that a bill signed this week by the Governor directs the State Tax Commissioner to investigate the advisability of passing legislation that will enable the payment of local taxes in two installments. For a number of years a bill to make semi-annual or quarterly payments of local taxes has been offered and rejected. This year the Legislature has gone as far as ordering an investigation of the proposal. That means that should the Tax Commissioner so recommend to the 1931 Legislature it will be at least 1932 before the proposal could be put into effect.

TO THE CITIZENS OF WEST NEWTON

A certain minority group in West Newton have been in active opposition to the granting of a license for a moving picture theatre in West Newton. We think it only fair that we be granted an opportunity to answer what they consider their most striking arguments against the permit.

Argument No. 1.—Due to the fact that there is no censor in Newton, pictures cannot be censored.

Answer—The Mayor has the privilege of banning any picture which he considers objectionable.

Argument No. 2.—The poll taken a few weeks ago was unfair because the letter

ALDERMEN MEET

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the outstanding feature was the hearing on the petition for a sewer in Bemuth road. Newton Highlands from where the sewer now is laid in that street for a distance of 140 feet. Leo Hamburger of Dickerman road, told of owning land which can be developed and made salable if the sewer is constructed. Arthur Curry of 12 Bemuth road favored the petition and told of the trouble caused by the cesspool on his property which must be emptied frequently and which is very disagreeable because of the odors from it.

Joseph Kerin of 18 Bemuth road argued with considerable heat against the petition. He contended that there is no need of a sewer, that the cesspools properly care for the sewage and are not odorous. Answering Mr. Hamburger's statement that conditions on Bemuth road resemble those in the "sticks," Mr. Kerin argued that the road should be allowed to remain in its present natural condition. He called attention to the burden of expense the construction of the sewer would place on a widow who resides on the street. Mr. Hamburger offered to pay part of the assessment which would be levied on this woman for the improvement, and Mr. Kerin asserted that no charity was being sought. Thomas Derr of the American Steam Automobile Company which has its present location on Elmwood street, Newton, appeared to favor the petition of John G. Gambera for a permit to conduct a repair shop at 13 Hawthorne street, Nonantum and to manufacture boilers there. Mr. Derr explained that the boilers will be manufactured for steam automobiles by a welding process and there will be no noise in this work. There was no opposition.

Frank Hurley of Hurley place, Newton Centre, opposed the laying of a sewer in Boylston street near property owned by him and his brother. It would be of no benefit to them and they would have to stand most of the expense. Hearings were held on a number of petitions to grade and accept streets. Residents on Capital street, Newton, who formerly desired this street accepted and improved have had a change of heart. A petition signed by 13 property owners on this street opposed the petition formerly signed by some of them. This makes certain that Capital street will not be improved until a majority of the property owners on it decide to change their minds.

John Finelli, representing Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coletti protested against the grading and accepting of Wiltshire road. He stated that his clients own lots on either side of Wiltshire road next to Adams street and will be put to much expense if this work is done. Also a high cement wall at the Coletti property would have to be cut down to round the corner of the street. Leo Riley of 173 Jackson road, whose property is on Wiltshire road, objected to the improvement unless the street is continued through to Jackson road by means of a bridge to be constructed over Laundry Brook. He called attention to bridges which had been built over this brook on streets at Newtonville which are not accepted. John Sullivan of 12 Wiltshire road favored the petition, stating that the street is in poor condition. Samuel Lippin, owner of three houses on this street also favored the improvement and thought the street would be continued through to Jackson road.

Mrs. Clark Reid, Joseph Womboldt and Richard Bergson favored the improvement of Whitlow road, telling of the unfavorable conditions on this roadway. John Collins, representing Sigvald Ramsland of 34 Whitlow road said his client should be awarded $500 if the street is laid out as reimbursement for a strip of land 43 feet wide and 1 foot in depth. This land was purchased in 1908 for $125. Alderman Murray inquired as to what rate of interest Mr. Ramsland was computing the increased value of the little strip.

Summer Robinson, representing J. Frank Wellington objected to the petition seeking the improving of Kilburn road, West Newton. He argued that the betterment that Mr. Wellington must pay will be $1710 which he could never get back from the sale of his land. Mr. Robinson contended that the Kilburn street area should be converted into a playground. Alfred Jepsen also protested against the improvement because of the expense involved.

Anstin Smith and E. C. Hagar favored the improving and accepting of Adams avenue, West Newton from Milton street to the Waltham line. Arthur Milkins of 27 Adams avenue opposed the petition because of the expense and because it would necessitate the cutting down of several trees and the removal of some of his lawn. He was informed that the street will not be made wider than it is at present so that the trees and lawns will not be disturbed.

Residents of West Pine street spoke in favor of the city improving this street and argued that the increased traffic on this highway because of the Auburndale playground warranted the work being done by the city.

The following men are the owners of the names drawn to serve as jurors at the Superior Court in East Cambridge next month:—Thomas Mitchell, 272 Watertown street; Michael Carroll, 9 Jones court; George Gammons, 31 Perkins street; George L. Reynolds, Jr., 34 Randall park.

Alfred Grebenstein, as chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee reported that leave to withdraw had been given to several claims for damages against the city. Those of Mrs. Ellen Passananti of Newton and Mrs. Solida Antonucci of Thompsonville will be contested in court. These women fell on sidewalks. Claims of John Piscopo, Charles Knight, P. L. Newcomb and John Cunningham which were disallowed, were for damages to their automobiles from flying rock caused by a blast during sewer construction on Valentine street. Mrs. Thomas Concannon was refused a claim for personal injuries which resulted when her car skidded on the slippery surface of Chestnut street hill. Margaret Toland was turned down on a claim for a coat damaged by brushing against a freshly painted traffic sign.

Reuben Kligman who was present in anticipation of a successful culmination of his long effort to obtain a permit for a filling station at 466 Watertown street, Newtonville, had hope again deferred when it was announced that the matter would be held temporarily in committee. The Licenses Committee had reported favorably on the Kligman petition, but because the name on the petition was changed from that of Reuben Kligman to Jacob Kligman, a legal technicality must be straightened out.

Chairman Hawkins reported that no action is necessary on the petition of John Zahos for a permit to operate an automatic phonograph at the lunch room at 258 Washington street. Asked by Alderman Powers to explain this matter, Mr. Hawkins stated that the City Solicitor has ruled that inasmuch as this music contrivance is not donated free by the restaurant owners, but is paid for by patrons who drop nickels into the machine, no permit is necessary. Alderman Powers remarked that this seemed an intricate ruling and that the mechanical music is just as noisy when paid for by customers as though furnished free.

The petition of Wheeler at 466 Watertown street, Newtonville, for a permit to build additions to greenhouses located off Beacon street, Waban was granted after Alderman Temperley had cautioned the Board against allowing the extension of business enterprises in residence zones.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included $2220 for drainage on Washington street; $7884 for a drain on Beacon street from Ashmont road easterly; $13,680 for water mains; $1000 for architects fees on the building of the high school stadium; $32,823 for the construction of the Crystal Lake bathhouse.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

There is to be a new bridge at Farlow Park. It will never have the same sentimental interest for me as the old one, no matter how attractive, how strong and enduring it may prove. I liked the old rustic span because it was linked with the memories of my boyhood days and ever since has been part of a picture that I shall always cherish.

When I saw the workmen begin their labors of repairing the other day it never occurred to me that there would be anything necessary beyond a little patching. Then they told me however, that the whole thing was "so far gone" it had to be taken down. Getting old, I thought—old and useless.

Then there came to my mind the days when, with other youngsters, I had scampered over it, in flight or pursuit, whatever the game of the moment demanded. A playground before there were places provided for play by scientific arrangement, a gathering spot for the juvenile population of Wards One and Seven who just "went out to play" and had no supervisor unless it was the man in the blue coat and brass buttons. He might be around or not and it might be that he didn't care just what we did providing nobody had telephoned a complaint to headquarters.

Or perhaps he was one of those who felt that "kids" were natural born devils and up to some kind of mischief. That kind of a policeman inspired the yell, "Cheese it, the cop!" and every man who defied the law in his early youth recalls the meaning of that cry.

The little artificial pond was an ocean to the kids with tiny sailboats. A wavering craft would receive a shove as it departed for the shores of Africa for a cargo of diamonds. Brave as its skipper's stout heart the boat was dependent upon the breeze as its owner was powerless to guide and patiently waited for the wind. Maybe there was a miniature gale and his ship tossed on the waves, causing him to worry for fear it would capsize. Or possibly there was no wind and the craft drifted until the mariner lost patience, took off his shoes and stockings and went out and supplied the necessary power himself.

How swiftly those days fled. Then came the afternoons and evenings of more sedate recreation in the shadow of the bridge of Farlow Park. Those strolls we big boys took always included, if it was in the rose-blooming season, an admiring view of the Chaffin garden. What dreams of the future were exchanged. The lucky fellow among us who was to be taken on a long trip by his parents would inspire everyone to a determination to travel. How certain were we that when we got old enough we would view the wonders of the Orient and sail the seven seas as lightly as had the dinky sailboats in the concrete-bottom pond.

What old-timer of Newton Corner, now one of the silver-threads-among-the-golden or barber-cure-my-baldness boys, who has not ten recollections of Farlow Park bridge and his fair young companion. "She" may not have been the girl he married but she was "the sweetest ever" then. If only she would "shake" all the others for you and let you lead her to the park how proud you were. And how you maneuvered to get her up on the bridge where both of you would hang over the railing and gaze down into the "forty-fathom" pond. Never for a moment did either of you think of the water or of the dry surface, had the pond at that time been drained for cleaning. It was merely a trysting place, with a rustic bridge, a moon, the majestic tower of Eliot church, the deep-toned clock, booming the hour that marked the time. "Come, I must be going home now, mother will be wondering where I am."

Then, with all that happiness many years behind, the solitary stroll, with possibly your faithful dog to keep you from feeling too lonely. The chimes of Grace Church softly sending out the notes of an old familiar hymn. The same trees, grown as yourself in height and circumference. The grass as green, the paths the same, but trodden by strange or younger feet. Yes, everything the same but fraught with a meaning so different.

Though it may produce a laugh, "wisecracking" is dangerous. Well, not always so, but often it hurts and when somebody's feelings are injured to the extent that public sympathy is aroused the "wisecracker" is the sufferer. That then makes it dangerous.

A woman legislator was taken to task by her colleagues because she said something in the debate on the repeal of the "Baby Volstead" act about the possibility of some of those who favored repeal having "wet their whistles" before the debate. The amount of indignation that was apparently provoked by this "wisecracker" seems to me to have been all out of proportion to the offense, if it may be called that. I think it showed a bit of sensitiveness that was hardly warranted.

Having had to listen to many a legislative debate I can testify that I have heard fully as harsh things said that were let go by unnoticed. But this was a woman and a "dry" and therefore she was called upon to explain. She did so, stating that she meant no slur or insult and regretted the utterance. Everybody was satisfied and the incident closed except for the story in the newspapers next day.

For fear I might find myself deep in a discussion of prohibition I'll not go further into the incident above related, though I reserve the right to chuckle to myself at the way some politicians flare up when somebody else seeks to be humorous at their expense. Let me say that it takes a genius to spring a "wisecrack" and get away with it. Some men I know can say the most outlandish things, personal in the extreme, and everybody,

Who pays the taxes?

It costs over $4,000,000 annually to run the City of Newton. Persons whose homes are in Newton must do their share in bearing the assessments levied to raise this large amount. Owners of independent stores in this city are taxed for the full value of their stocks and fixtures at the current tax rate; ($27.20 for 1929).

Chain stores pay no direct taxes to the city on their stocks and fixtures. The corporation tax they pay to the Commonwealth is at the rate of $5.

A large organization of Newton women will take part in the Service Continuation Fund campaign of the Boston Y. W. C. A., which will begin on Wednesday evening, April 23.

The Newton division of workers, which already numbers more than 450 women within its ranks, is one of 18 divisions all over Metropolitan Boston which will co-operate in an intensive effort to raise the $453,930 needed for the continuation of the service of the Boston Y. W. C. A. until 1932. Successful completion of the drive will enable the Association, with which the Newton Y. W. C. A. united last fall, to continue its work in behalf of Newton girls and young women as well as with girls in other local communities.

Mrs. C. Clark Macomber, of 26 Magnolia avenue, Newton, is chairman of the Newton division. Division vice-chairmen, in charge of the campaign organization in local communities in the Newtons, are as follows: Mrs. Roderic M. Blood, Newton Centre; Miss Marjory Pales, West Newton; Mrs. Sherman Baldwin, Newtonville; Miss Dorothy Simpson, Newton; Mrs. W. Kennedy, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Herbert Kimball, Waban; and Mrs. James Dunlop, Auburndale.

JANSE GETS GARBAGE CONTRACT

A contract for more than a quarter of a million dollars was given yesterday to John A. Janse of 443 Parker street, Newton Centre, by Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton, for the collection of garbage in the "Garden City" for the next five years. Janse has been in charge of the City's collection of garbage during the past three years.

The contract provides for daily collections of garbage at every store, hospital and public institution and weekly removal of similar refuse in all of the eleven villages of the city. For this work, characterized by Mayor Weeks, as the most regular and most thorough collection ever undertaken by the city, Mr. Janse will be paid an annual fee of $53,850.

The Newton system of garbage collection, now so widely copied, originated with Mr. Janse. His employees in this service are virtually part of an "honor system". Each squad is assigned to an automobile truck and is responsible for the collection of garbage in an assigned area. Every workman on the truck is equally responsible for the actions of the others in his squad. If any serious complaint arises in any section, the entire crew at fault is charged with the delinquency. The men agree to this and "make it hard" for any slacker who jeopardizes their jobs by his actions.

MALDEN MINISTER TO PREACH

Rev. Seth R. Brooks, dynamic young minister from the First Universalist Church of Malden will be the speaker at the Community Lenten services in Newtonville Sunday evening. This service will conclude the community services for the year. Reports indicate that the program of speakers has been one of the most pleasing and interesting of many years, and it is anticipated that the Rev. Brooks will bring the series to a fitting climax.

Mr. Brooks is considered one of the most successful younger ministers among the Universalists. He has done extensive work with college students, and is intimately acquainted with the youth point of view.

Next Sunday's meeting will be held in the Central Congregational Church, starting at 7:30.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT TRINITY CHURCH

On Tuesday evening, April 15, at 7:45, the Choir of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, of which Dr. Edward T. Sullivan is Rector, will render the Sacred Cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois. The Choir, under the direction of Leonard A. Arnold, Choirmaster and Organist, will be assisted at this service by Lawrence Thornton, tenor, and Walter Kidder, baritone, both well known soloists.

Trinity Choir has an excellent reputation of long standing. Last Autumn it sang the Cesar Franck Mass, at a special service, to a congregation which filled the church, and this promises to be an equally interesting and inspiring service.

LIVE KIDDIE REVUE

The Paramount Theatre, Newton, will offer a "Publix Kiddie Revue" all next week beginning Monday evening and continuing through Saturday's performance. This little revue, under the personal direction of the Dolan DePetro Theatrical Studio of Boston, will have some of Boston's fairest as well as Miss Jane Grant of Newtonville. This feature will be in addition to the regular picture program which starts Sunday next with "The Bishop Murder Case" heading the bill. On the same program will be Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Loretta Young in "Careless Age", a story of the younger set.

The last half of the week, "She Couldn't Say No" starring Winnie Lightner, who made such a great hit in "Gold Diggers of Broadway", is the feature. It is the first picture in which she is starred. On the same bill will be "In the Headlines", a newspaper story, with Grant Withers and Marion Nixon.

Next week will be the final week of the Pageant of Progress and some very interesting pictures are in store for the Paramount patrons. The organ solos by Mr. Edward Allen, during the fifteen minutes preceding each evening performance have grown quite popular. Many request numbers are being played.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

A Two-Day Art Exhibit, held on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, which permits business men and women to enjoy this quite worthwhile community event, is sponsored by the Art committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands for the 12th and 13th. Artists and craftsmen who have exhibits are invited most cordially to join in this affair, and should bring their work to the Workshop, on Columbus street, not later than 10 a. m. on Saturday. Particulars may be learned from Mrs. Ernest Weaver, telephone Cen. Newton 1999.

This is the ninth season when such an Exhibit has been sponsored by this Club, and its success and popularity has no further proof than it has weathered so many seasons. The display is really most fascinating and informative, for not only are the creations of the artists and craftsmen clever, beautiful, or unique, but it becomes an opportunity to learn of the many talented people living in one's midst.

The Exhibit promises to be the outstanding event of the week in the Club and community world.

Shakespeare Club

The president of the Shakespeare Club, of Newton Highlands, Mrs. William B. Blakemore, shows her Club the courtesy of entertaining them for the meeting of Saturday, April 12th, at 22 Berwick road, Newton Centre. The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock, and the program is in charge of Mrs. Alfred L. Pratt. This is to be the always enjoyable day of "Review". The play that the Club last studied is "The Merchant of Venice".

Monday Club

The interesting study of "American Literature," which has been the subject for the year's meetings of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands, reaches its climax and conclusion on Monday afternoon, the 14th, when "Some of our Present Day Writers" will be the specific topic of the subdivisions that have been taken in rotation from early days through the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the present moment. There will also be music. Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwieler and Mrs. George W. Barker are in charge of this program, and Mrs. Seward W. Jones opens her home, at 49 Columbus street, for this meeting.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Most appropriately with the coming of spring, by date if not by temperature, is the program of "Nature Study" which will be enjoyed by members of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands at their meeting on the afternoon of Monday, April 14th, with Mrs. Helen Ward, Miss Harriet M. Ward, and Mrs. Edward G. Swift in charge of the presentation. The hostess for this meeting is Mrs. C. Peter Clark, of 71 Pleasant street, Newton Centre.

Christian Era Study Club

Two of Massachusetts' own authors will be the subject of papers for the program of the Christian Era Study Club on the 14th. "Emerson," will be the author of whom Miss Mary Gould will write, and "Longfellow" will be the poet and writer of whom Miss F. Alice Ranlett will write. She will also read from his poems.

The Club will meet with Miss Blanche Noyes, of 16 Williston road.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. John S. Franklin will be hostess to the Travel Class, of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Monday, April 14th, at her home, 40 Lincoln park. Mrs. Alfred L. Day will give a paper on "Modern Greece and Its People"; and Mrs. H. C. Pearson, a paper on "Cyprus."

Auburndale Review Club

The last regular program for this year for the Auburndale Review Club will be held on Tuesday morning, April 15th, at 10 o'clock, at the Congregational Chapel, and members will be privileged to invite guests to this meeting. An unusual treat is offered, as Miss Alice Cary, daughter of missionaries of long service in Japan, and herself engaged in active work there, when not home on furlough as is now the case, will talk at 10:30 on "Japanese Art." She will be dressed in costume. She will also show most interesting slides, illustrating her talk.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Wednesday, the 16th, is the date for the Annual Meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton, and of their always enjoyable Luncheon, which will be served at the Unitarian Parish House at one o'clock. This will be followed by the business meeting and election of officers, and at 2:30 there will be a musical program presented by the Music committee, of which Mrs. Grace Felton Rice is chairman. Mrs. George P. Hatch is chairman for the luncheon.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, April 16th, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Joe W. Gentry will read a paper on "The Contribution of the Irish to American Civilization."

Mrs. Everett E. Kent and Mrs. Lucius H. Thayer will be hostesses.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. C. H. Danforth, chairman of Inter-Racial Unity in America, will broadcast "Ask Yourself Some Questions," from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, April 16, at 11:30 o'clock. At 11:40, Amy Young Burns, chairman of Music, will present as guest artists Mr. G. Roberts Lunger, Baritone, and Marion Aubens Wise, Contralto, in a twenty-minute musicale.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Thursday, April 17th, is the final meeting for the Auburndale Woman's Club, with their gala Luncheon combined with Annual Meeting. Polls will be open for voting at 11:30 a. m., at the Auburndale Club House. Luncheon, under the direction of the Hospitality committee, of which Mrs. John E. Carter is chairman, will be served at 12:30. Tickets for this may be obtained from Mrs. Hamilton Gav. A program, with an entertaining play, will be given at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Charles B. Floyd as chairman, after which the year's business will be concluded in reports of officers, and in election of officers for the coming year. The president, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, will preside.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. John F. Capron, chairman of the Activities committee, who is noted for doing things that are just a bit different, is offering with the help of her able committee, a "Spring Party" to Newton Centre Clubwomen and their friends, to take the form of a "Play-as-you-Please" Bridge, to be held in the Clubhouse on Wednesday, April 23rd. Single tickets are $1.00 each; or a table for $4.00. Members of the Activities committee will act as hostesses, and arrangements may be made with Mrs. Capron for one of these hostesses to make a fourth at an incomplete table. Playing will begin promptly at 2:00 p. m., and 4:00 p. m. there will be a short musicale in charge of Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian.

"The six 'Sing Song Girls', who sang so successfully in the 'East is West' production, given by the Mothers' Rest Association of Newton Centre in March, will entertain. They are: Mrs. Francis M. Ben, Benjamin Fawcett, Miss Carolyn McClellan, Miss Virginia McClellan, Miss Margaret Rising, and Miss Helen Stuart. Mrs. Gulesian will play her new song, the 'Hymn to America', written for the Tercentenary of 1930, a copy of which will be upon each table. The 'Sing Song Girls' will sing it first, and then the guests, in unison.

Tea, in charge of Miss Elizabeth Bartlett, will then be served with the assistance of members of the Junior Woman's Club.

April brings to the Newton Centre Woman's Club members the last Bulletin of the season. This interesting, and newsy, monthly leaflet is edited by Mrs. Harry C. Gibson, vice-president of the Club. It has contained pithy little editorials; outlines of various lectures, parties or meetings and speakers to come; paragraphs giving credit to this committee, or that, for some work well accomplished; and finally the monthly calendar of Club events. This bulletin, which was an innovation, this year, is one of the outstanding accomplishments of the season, and to Mrs. Gibson is due congratulations, as well as a great amount of credit.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

At the regular business meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, held in the Kindergarten rooms of the Emerson School, the Nominating committee reported the following ballot to be voted on at the Annual Meeting on April 21st: President, Miss Ethel W. Sabin, First vice-president, Miss Nellie M. Osborne; second vice-president, Miss Mildred L. Ryder; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold T. Sprague; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph H. Connors; treasurer, Mrs. William Dunham; auditor, Mrs. Michael Wiczorek; directors for two years: Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh, Mrs. John Temperley, Miss Clementine Vara.

The final report of the Community Food Sale, held at the Roadside Shop, showed a very creditable balance of $65.00 over and above expenses.

Miss Helen Cannon, who stands high in her chosen field, that of reader and entertainer, delighted her audience by her reading of the entrancing comedy play, "My Son," by Martha Stanley, the scene of which is laid in a small Cape Cod town, and depicts the life of the fisher folk and summer visitors in a very human way.

General Federation

MOVING PICTURES. The National Pre-View committee of the General Federation has reported three films that rank as excellent. They are: "The Cohens and Kells in Scotland", a Universal, all dialogue, for the entire family, and suitable for "junior matinee". This is a clever comedy of Irish and Scotch outstanding characteristics, in which a representative of each race is seeking a fashion expert and style dictator who is said to be favoring plaids for the coming season. The "luck of the Irish" and the business acumen of the Scotch make the amusing difficulties.

"The Light of Western Stars", a Paramount, all dialogue, is a clever presentation of western drama, depicting the adventures of a young man while trying to aid the sister of his murdered friend.

"Lone Star Ranger", a Fox, all dialogue, is also a western drama, in the melodramatic class, however; and the Review committee states that "It is too exciting for children". It is the story of the regeneration of the hero, with atonement for his former mistakes, and is spectacular with fine horsemanship, and beautiful with scenic effects.

A "Feature" story of Paramount's, all dialogue—"Young Eagles", a romantic war drama, of the rivalry of two aces, American and German, is an interesting story for the entire family.

There are reviewed also six stories of varying value as entertainment, which are for Adults and Adolescents. The inference would be that they are not for children. These are: "Lord Byron of Broadway", a M-G-M, all dialogue, theatrical drama, enhanced by dances and song, setting forth a love inspired by purity and truth as the best inspiration for a gifted young man, who has become spoiled by his easy conquests of women.

"On The Level", a Fox, all dialogue, comedy-drama, showing workers on height-limit buildings, portrays how one "rough and ready" iron worker exerts himself by courage and brawn from unpleasant predicaments into which he has been plunged by an unscrupulous, but beautiful, woman.

"A Lady To Love", a M-G-M, all dialogue, is a story of simplicity, perhaps, it might be termed, portraying an Italian grape-grower who wins his wife by correspondence, investing her with all the virtues of his own love and faith, so that she is saved from making a mistake that would have thrown her into a friendless world, and left him to a cruel loneliness.

"Kettle Creek", a Universal, all dialogue, is the story of a Kentucky feud. "High Society Blues", a Fox, all dialogue, is a social drama, that proves that love takes no thought of impediments of station while running (Continued on Page 11)

GIRL SCOUTS

The Annual Spring Rally for Newton Girl Scouts will be held in the gymnasium of the Newton High School on Saturday, April 12th. Events will begin promptly at 2:30, and the audience is requested to be in their seats at that time. There will be competitions for Junior and Senior Troops, and a demonstration by the Brownies. Both the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps will perform, and there will be a competition for the Newton Bugling and Drumming Championships. Cups will be awarded to the winners. Scout Constance Rachel of Troop 10, Newtonville, will receive the Golden Eaglet, the highest award in Scouting. This will be presented by Mrs. Edwin Pridie, Commissioner for Metropolitan Division. The Rally will be most interesting, not only to Scouts, but also to parents and friends.

Camp Mary Day will be open on Sunday, April 13th, from 3:5 p. m. and all parents or interested friends are invited to come up and inspect the camp. The Chairman of the Camp Committee, Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, and the Director, Miss Caroline L. Freeman, will be there to answer questions. Many requests for applications have come in already; applications will be mailed on April 19th, and then girls will be registered in the order in which the applications are received at Headquarters.

Troop 11, Newton Highlands, with Mrs. Ralph Emery as Captain, has been working hard to finish up work on their tents so that with the coming of good weather, they can spend their troop meeting time at the Newton Highlands cabin at Camp Mary Day. They expect to go for the first time on Monday, April 14th, and will cook their supper at the cabin.

its course, and is stated as a story that holds interest, has splendid photography, and is artistic in setting. "Beat the Bandit," an RKO, all dialogue, is a western melodrama, vehicle for the suave talent of Rod La Rocque, with delighted river and woodland scenes in which the bandit, with grace and chivalry,—somewhat after the spirit of Dumas—straightens out the course of true love, which has been seriously impeded by a certain bank owner.

One picture is most emphatically stated as for adults only: "Murder On The Roof," a mystery story, with its full quota of stealing, bribery and drunkenness, and of mediocre entertainment value.

Allen, governor of Massachusetts, is to be the speaker at the afternoon session. A fine list of conference leaders has been secured, including Mr. Henry Grimes, State president; Mr. E. P. Gates, general secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavor; Rev. Chester Wood, of Milton; Leland W. Pollock, ex-president of Middlesex County; and Mrs. Agnes Grimes of Lawrence. Prizes of $25 and $15 are being offered to the society in the County which can suggest the best book list of ideas for Look-out Committee Work. The Middlesex County Oratorical Contest will be one of the features of the evening session. Mr. E. P. Gates of Belmont will address the young people on "America First?" Banquet tickets are now available from society presidents on request. Bus transportation has been arranged, leaving the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, at 1 p. m.

The Intermediate Convention will be held on the same day at the Park Street Baptist Church, Framingham, with Evelina Loranarno, a Filipino student, as the speaker.

The annual Easter Sunrise Service of Norumbega Union will take place off Trapelo road, just beyond the Waverley Oaks Reservation at 6 a. m., on Sunday, April 20th. Rev. Harry Upton, pastor of the Waverley Baptist Church, is to be the speaker. In case of rain the services will be held in the Waverley Congregational Church, Waverley Square.

Last Tuesday evening nearly 100 Endeavorers of Norumbega Union were present at the pre-convention rally at the Newton North Congregational Church. Cheers and songs were enjoyed by all at the supper table, the fellowship cup being awarded at that time to the Belmont M. E. Church, honorable mention going to the Waverley Congregational Church. The award was made by Miss Charlotte Goddard, recreation superintendent of Middlesex County. Mr. Baldwin, choir master at the First Baptist Church of Boston, was the soloist of the evening. The devotional period was conducted by Rev. Robert H. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Boston. Conferences on recreational and extension work were conducted by Miss Goddard and Edward M. Simpson, president of Norumbega Union. Rev. John Shade Franklin of West Newton continued in his series of lessons on Progressive Endeavor. The surprise speaker of the evening was Miss Rasmussen, a Latvian student at Newton Theological Institution, who gave an interesting picture of the young people of her land. She also sang several folk songs in the native tongue. The attendance shield was awarded to the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, the banner going to the Waverley Congregational Church.

Mr. Sherman Coulter of the Newton North Congregational Church will be in charge of the Endeavor meeting next Sunday evening at which time he will take as his subject "Why Everybody Needs Christ." The officers of Norumbega Union will be present at the meeting.

The meeting at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church next Sunday evening will be conducted by Miss Helen Evans. This society is progressing in fine shape under the leadership of its president, Newton Jones.

The election of officers which was to have taken place last Sunday evening at the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church will be held Sunday. The young people are very anxious that those wishing to join attend this meeting.

Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton will be the speaker next Sunday evening at the Pearson Park Congregational Church, Belmont, at which time all the C. E. societies of Belmont and Waverley will be present.

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather spoke on "Establishing the Canon" last Sunday morning at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the seventh lecture this season in "Biblical Scholarship."

Immediately after the crucifixion of Jesus, a lot of literature about Jesus developed, but the earliest part of the New Testament, as we have it today, was written in 51 A.D. It is Paul's First Epistle to the Thessalonians. The Second Epistle to the Thessalonians was written a little later in the same year. From 51 to 62 A.D. thirteen Epistles were written by Paul.

Paul did not write for the purpose of making a contribution to literature. In every instance he wrote on the spur of the moment, in the midst of some compelling cause. The reason for writing is apparent somewhere in the letter itself.

In the very first decade after Christ we find controversies, sects, and denominations arising. The different leaders had their own interpretations and each one gathered his own followers. This caused a lot of trouble and hard feeling and Paul tried to straighten things out.

There was, of course, danger to the early church from outside, especially from the Roman Government. The greatest danger, however, came from conflict within. The worst trouble of all was caused by the Gnostics. They had a whole system of philosophy, called Gnosticism. These people were the reverse of agnostics. They were the "knowing" people, whereas the agnostics are forever talking about what they do not know.

The Gnostics claimed that things were revealed to them by angels. They were the forerunners of the spiritualists as a pseudo-semi-religious sect. They believed that spirits gave them knowledge in a mysterious way. To them revealed religion did not depend on Jesus or their own everyday life, but rather on voices and visions. They had quite a technique for the purpose of enabling them to hear voices and see visions whenever they wished. And then they determined their own conduct on the basis of these dreams and visions. It has been demonstrated that if you starve yourself and mistreat your body, you may readily hear voices. These Gnostics wrote out their ideas and distributed them. They made a deep impression.

The opposition movement centered around Paul. He had a marvelous personality. He organized a whole system of thought. He was as near a scientist as anyone could be at that time. He had tremendous ability and energy. He was no Gnostic but he had one great and most important vision. Paul depended on the historical Christ. He emphatically maintained that unless Jesus had been raised from the dead, all our faith was worthless. There was no written record. Everything was hearsay in 51 A.D. Our written record came because of Paul and the way he emphasized Jesus. In order to preserve the record accurately, it must be written down, so the Gospels were compiled. Paul's individual experience with Jesus made Jesus live for him. Jesus and His teachings were the high point in the intellectual and spiritual development of Paul.

Paul fought Gnosticism. Some of his writings were aimed in direct combat with the principles of the Gnostics. He fought them especially in the matter of leadership in the Church, the type of doctrine, and relations with the Gentiles. His letters came out of the white heat of controversy. If Paul had taken the trouble to work them over and edit them, he might have done something or other to the literary style, and perhaps made some things clearer to future generations, but the letters would not have been so effective. As it is, they register the highest point of indignation or approval. They have tenseness, vigor, and directness of purpose. Such letters have force.

In eleven years Paul wrote thirteen Epistles. They were sent immediately to the individual or Church intended as the recipient. Because so many were sent to churches, we have them today. They were put in the archives and preserved. If they had been sent to individuals, most of them would probably have been lost. They became the authoritative statement of Christian doctrine. Whatever difference, if any, there might be thought to exist between the teachings of Christ and those of Paul was entirely ignored for a thousand years.

Paul's Epistles became the standard library of every church.

The oldest church document is an apology by Justin Martyr, written in 140 A.D. The actual papyrus is in existence. It was an essay directed to the Emperor explaining what was going on in the Christian Church. He refers to the "Memory of the Apostles." He means the four Gospels.

The next oldest original document is a mutilated fragment found in the Ambrosian library in Milan. This is the Muratorian Fragment and was written in 190 A.D. It gives a list of the Books of Sacred Scripture. It includes the Gospels, Acts, and thirteen Epistles of Paul. It dwells on the great personal feeling and affection of Paul shown in the Epistles to Philimon, Titus, and I and II Timothy. It omits James, II Peter, II and III John, Jude and Revelation.

There were so many books, it became necessary to sift the material. The New Testament, as we have it, was not selected until much later. Irenaeus of France, Tertullian of Carthage, and Clement of Rome were active in helping to winnow the available documents.

Athanasius, Archbishop of Alexandria, sent a circular letter out on Easter, 367 A.D., giving the list of 27 Books as we have them in the New Testament. In 397 A.D. just 30 years later, this list was formally and finally approved at a church meeting or synod at Carthage, and that settled what was to go into the New Testament. Athanasius had ruled out 12 other documents.

The records and letters, which were included, were considered by contemporaries, weighed in the balance, and have stood the test of time.

Why was the Jewish Bible retained? If medieval Christianity had done the selecting, the Old Testament would probably have been omitted. However, the selecting had already been done in the second century, when Christianity was merely a sect of Judaism, and when Jews never forgot that they were Jews. Paul was a Hebrew of the Hebrews. Because of this strong Jewish element, the idea of excluding the Old Testament was unthinkable in the second century.

Revelation was written by John, an exile on the island of Patmos. He was separated from the homeland by the sea; hence he speaks of Heaven as the place where there is no more sea. He wrote down the mystical experience of a visionary.

On Wednesday, May 14, the Mather Class will hold its annual banquet. There will be a special entertainment of unusual interest and exceptional excellence.

Next Sunday Prof. Mather will speak on "The Resources of Mankind." It will be the seventh lecture in the series on "The Trend in Science."

GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

W. C. T. U.

The Newton Woman's Christian Temperance assembly at the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre, for the regular monthly meeting on Thursday last.

Miss Cora Cobb presented the subject of "Scientific Temperance Instruction" clearly and most happily.

Dr. Marietta Ried brought many items from authorized sources to prove the truth of "Medical Temperance." Professor Bianchi, late professor in the Royal University of Naples, after a lifetime experience in Southern Italy, a wine producing country, states, "that the poisonous influence of alcohol on the nervous system is unquestionable; the proof is direct and immediate. The continued use of wine through hundreds of years has a degenerative effect. Alcohol, even in small quantities, in light wines and beers, retards eye-action to a point, which makes it unsafe for anyone to drive an automobile after taking one or two glasses of wine. The motion of the eyelid to cover the eye, when necessary for protection, was slowed down 90 per cent. by a quantity of alcohol so small that no indication of intoxication was apparent. Dr. Francis G. Benedict, director of the Carnegie Nutrition Laboratory since 1907, told the members of the Twentieth Century Club in Boston recently. Dr. Benedict stressed the point that he was not taking sides on the prohibition issue; but was presenting a dispassionate laboratory analysis of the effects of moderate amounts of alcohol.

Light wines or beer should never again be legalized in the United States! Dr. Benedict made it clear that he spoke as a physiologist and based his decision on years of study of alcohol as a food and of its effect on the human system. A person who may not show the slightest sign of intoxication is being harmed in ways that involve his own well-being and that of others whose safety may depend upon his clear vision and steady head."

Sir James Barr, dean of the Medical School of Liverpool University, says that, "All these medicated wines are an abomination and do an enormous amount of damage. The only people who derive any benefit from them are those who foist them on the public. Physicians and Temperance workers are urged to educate against these concoctions of the liquor-trade."

Irving Fisher of Yale University points out illogical wet premises. "It has been scientifically demonstrated and generally accepted by leading physicians the world over that alcohol is never a stimulant, but always a narcotic in its action."

Professor Fisher asserts that "the obstacle to intelligent discussion of proposed plans for the reform of prohibition is that the average man does not even know how little he knows on the subject."

He is generally sure that alcohol is a stimulant; that beer and wine are healthful rather than otherwise; that his thirst for these is a natural thirst and that most people can use them in moderation without danger of using them to excess.

Every one of these four common assumptions is demonstrably false.

A social hour followed during which delicious refreshments were served by the Hostesses, Mrs. A. L. Cushing, Mrs. H. E. Shotts and Mrs. B. G. Norris.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Hunt will tell something of the life of her aunt, the maker of the flag which is framed and hangs in the chapter house. Mrs. A. D. Salinger will read the story of the life of Timothy Jackson, brother of Lucy Jackson. Members are reminded of the food sales which will be continued at the April and May meetings. They need the support of contributors as well as buyers. The hostesses for the social hour are: Mrs. John N. Eaton, Chairman, Mrs. H. E. Cushman, Mrs. J. L. Damon, Mrs. A. P. Dana, Mrs. H. M. Famous Mt. Baldy Trophy won by Dynamic New ERSKINE

At Pomona, Calif., on Feb. 25, an Erskine stock sedan, with optional gear ratio, certified by the American Automobile Association, set a new record up Mt. Baldy, making the winding 7.1 mile climb in 10 minutes, 44 seconds. It won the Progress-Bulletin trophy for the fastest time ever made by a strictly stock car.

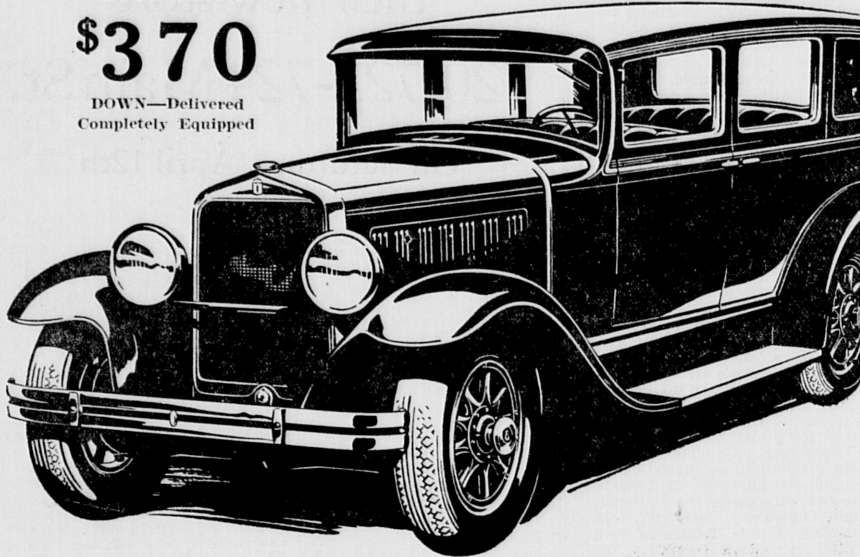

Feats such as the record-breaking Mt. Baldy climb are evidence of the Dynamic New Erskine's power and stamina.

POLICE NEWS

Vincenzo Saviano of 28 Cooper street, Boston was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for using a taxi in this city without a license. Saviano solicited passengers at a funeral in Newton Centre.

Mayor Weeks has informed the committee of Newton policemen representing those members of the department who petitioned for free uniforms that he does not approve of their request and will not ask the Aldermen to make any appropriation for the purchase of uniforms. He believes that if the policemen obtained uniforms from the city they would not be so careful of the uniforms as when they pay for them. Rather than have the city purchase uniforms, the Mayor would favor an increase in salaries for the men. He contends that because of existing conditions and the great amount of unemployment this is not the time to increase salaries.

Two boys were in the Newton court Friday charged with illegally operating automobiles. David Chapman, 15, of 28 Central street, Auburndale was fined $10 for driving without a license and $5 for not stopping before entering Washington street. William Conway of 299 Centre street, Newton, 14 years old, was placed on probation for a year for driving without a license.

Autoists fined in the Newton court last Friday for "speeding" included Charles McDonald, Belmont, $15; Daniel Sauro, Cook street, Norantum, $10; Castor Soliven, Pontiac road, Waban, $25. He was also fined $3 for driving without proper lights. Others fined for driving or parking with improper lights were Thomas Thornton, 79 Newell road, Auburndale, $5; James Alardyce, Mechanic street, Upper Falls, $5. Mrs. Minnie Silber of 129 Parker street, Newton Centre, charged with driving without proper lights had her case placed on file.

William LaCroix of River street, West Newton was sentenced to two months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Saturday and given a suspended sentence of six months. The two months' sentence was for making an illegal sale of liquor; the suspended sentence was for keeping and exposing liquor for sale. A "representative" of the police department bought a pint of booze from LaCroix last Friday night, following which his house was raided by Sgt. Veducio and Special Officers Feeley and Burke. They seized 19 pints of alleged whisky. LaCroix had previously been convicted of bootlegging in Framingham and Natick.

In the Newton court on Wednesday fines for "speeding" were imposed on Clarissa Eaton, Wellesley Hills, $10; Edwin Day, Quincy, $10; Harry Brady, Milton, $10; Anne Kidder, 25 Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre, $10; George Carpenter, Dorchester, $15; Valia Carey, Colburn road, Wellesley, $5; Winifred Tougas, Bellingham street, Newton Highlands, $10; Stuart Hymers, 31 Paul street, Newton Centre, $10; Alfred Cioppa, Wellesley, $10; John Ready, Atlantic, $15; John Grantham, Brighton, $10. The latter was also fined $5 for operating an automobile without proper lights. Others charged with driving improperly lighted cars were Louis Borges, 10 Clinton street, Newton, $10; Florence Hallice, Brighton, case filed.

An escort of Newton policemen under command of Serg. Moran performed escort duty at the Newton Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon where services were held for the late Frank B. Fletcher who formerly was an inspector on the Newton police force. Mr. Fletcher died in Lacombe, New Hampshire, two weeks ago and the remains were brought to Newton for interment.

In the Newton court on Monday autoists fined for "speeding" included Helen Stevens, Hawthorn street, Wellesley Hills, $10; Joshua Pratt, Framingham, $10; appealed; Alvin Ericson, 1335 Beacon street, Waban, $10; Herbert Kimball, 273 Otis street, West Newton, $10; Dorothy Goudey, Bristol road, West Newton, $10; Harry Farnsworth, West Somerville, $10; William Rae, Jr., Jamaica Plain, $10.

In the Newton court on Monday L. F. Watts of Orchard street, Watertown, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on the night of March 31st by Patrolmen Tegan and Loughlin. He appealed.

THREE MEMORIAL GIFTS

In memory of Mrs. Metra A. Hannay, who died last summer, the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban has recently been presented with three beautiful gifts.

As the central feature in a children's corner, a triptych piece, executed in opus pictures, by Frederick Parsons, Esq., of Kelyeden road, has been put in place. The work is done in color and is an adaptation of a Della Robbia.

Mrs. Frederick Parsons has presented two beautiful blue candlesticks to accompany the triptych. These were imported some thirty years ago from South Wales.

A sister of the late Mrs. Hannay has presented a lovely silver baptismal shell which is to be used for the first time on Easter Even.

Mexico's Great Future.
No Mother Love, No Nation.
Married at Two Years of Age.
To Grow Less Wheat.

RECENT visits to Mexico convince this writer that to help in building Mexico's prosperity would be one way to build up United States prosperity. The Mexicans possess an empire of unsurpassed beauty, fertility, mineral and other wealth. The Mexican people are hard, patient and skillful workers, and hundreds of thousands of Mexicans could, and gladly would, learn mechanical skilled trades, well paid.

Some of the billions that our bankers lend so cheerfully to Europe, not always to get them back, could be lent to greater advantage and more safely, to Mexico. To help in building a greater and wealthier Mexico would be to create new and rich markets for the United States.

Every new, good road in Mexico would mean many American automobiles sold. Every Mexican, helped by credit to attain prosperity, would mean a new customer for American-made goods, pending the building up of all industries in Mexico.

This is the continent that interests us. And the nations that should have our sincere and generous co-operation are our nearest neighbors, Canada on the north, Mexico on the south. To build, north and south, with the aid of our unlimited wealth, the honor and deserved friendship of these two countries would be to make this North American continent forever invulnerable to attack.

There would be a triple alliance worth while—Canada, the United States and Mexico. Neighbors, friends, allies, respecting the rights, and contributing to the prosperity of the other two.

Russia, forgetting Spartans' history, plans a human society made to order. Children, taken from their mothers in babyhood, will be raised wholesale by the State. Mothers will enter factories, and otherwise work the same as men do or, rather, as mares do on the farm.

Russia should remember that when a mare is valuable, and a fine horse is wanted, the mare is not put to work before the colt is born or afterward. Sparta educated its youth. Trained young men to surprise and murder the miserable helots, slaves, on their way to work at sunrise, that the young men might be fierce in war.

Fine theories were worked out there as in Russia, but Sparta amounted to little. Athens, where human nature was allowed to develop according to rules—not suggested by Draco or Karl Marx—produced Greek grandeur, art, literature and philosophy.

We are wound up at birth, to run in a certain way, our inborn impulses are our main springs, and we cannot remake ourselves. To interfere with the family, with the mother's passionate love of her children, with man's ambition, stimulated by duty to his family, and reverence for his father and mother, is to insure a nation's downfall.

Throughout India, recently, thousands of little girls, from two to ten years of age, have been hurriedly married, a majority of them to full grown men, in time to escape provisions of a child-marriage law just promulgated throughout all British India. The law does not apply to territories of native princes, gentlemen, that submit to British overlordship, draw their great revenues, and may do with little girls and others as they please.

No girl under fourteen, no boy under eighteen may be legally married in British India, and there is deep resentment on religious grounds. The Hindu believes that a horrible destiny awaits the female child dying unmarried, even through no fault of her own. In a recent "marriage," the Hindu bride was two years old, the groom an adult. We are shocked at that, but very recently, good Presbyterians here and elsewhere, taught that an infant dying without baptism, through no fault of its own, was damned eternally. What's the difference?

The Government asks farmers, for their own price protection, to reduce by two million acres Spring wheat planting in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Substitution of barley, rye, oats, alfalfa, sweet clover is suggested. That might help, if other States reduced acreage. But it is as difficult for farmers as for others to change their habits.

The price of wheat for the world is made abroad, where our surplus is bought. That will continue, in spite of well-meant Government efforts to create an artificial price. If our farmers plant less wheat other countries will plant more. Relieving the farmer is no simple problem. It could be done by organizing wheat production as we have organized automobile production, making it hopeless for foreigners to compete.

for Economical Transportation

It's wise to choose a SIX!

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—the only way to get six-cylinder smoothness. Six-cylinder smoothness takes out vibration and roughness. This saves motor, chassis, body, passengers, and driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. Yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay. And it lasts longer, because of fine materials, oversize parts and a big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine that always "takes it easy."

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six saves gasoline and oil, through modern efficiency—overhead valves—high compression power—latest carburetor—long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. Thus Chevrolet brings truly modern transportation within reach of all who can afford any car. Chevrolet economy also means sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are adjustable—to save replacing. Chevrolet molded brakelining greatly reduces brake upkeep. The rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet means accessibility.

The whole car is full of such evidence that true economy comes from advancement and refinement. There are four extra-long, chrome-vanadium springs controlled

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive this six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference six cylinders make.

Designates May 5-10 As Clean-Up Week

Mayor Asks Co-operation Of All Residents

In co-operation with the efforts of the Newton Tercentenary Committee Mayor Sinclair Weeks has ordered the most thorough campaign of civic cleanliness ever undertaken here. He has designated the week of May 5 to May 10 as clean-up week, and Street Commissioner George E. Stuart is arranging extensive plans for making Newton's streets, yards, lawns, and buildings the cleanest they have ever been. Citizens of every village are being urged to make the Garden City worthy of its name particularly during the Tercentenary year when so many thousands of persons outside of Massachusetts are expected to visit this city.

"Please make your plans to remove stones, gravel, loam, waste building material, furniture and junk from your homes and premises during clean-up week," Mayor Weeks urges. "Trimnings of lawns, trees, or vines should be put into barrels or other receptacles (Continued on Page 3)

Newton Police Make Important Capture

Of Loot

Inspector Patrick King and Special Officers Frank Feeley and Thomas Burke of the Newton police performed a meritorious bit of work Wednesday night when they captured a burglar on Wedgewood avenue, West Newton. This street runs off Eliot avenue near Watertown street and is in the neighborhood where several burglaries had been committed recently. The three policemen were riding along this section in a police car when they observed a man walking down Eliot avenue. They alighted from the car and followed him as he crossed a lawn to the rear of a house on Wedgewood avenue, where he quickly started to jimmy a window. King, Feeley and Burke rushed at him and followed up their advantage by an effective grilling which soon caused the prisoner to "come through" and reveal that he was stopping at the Hotel Statler in Boston where he had a large amount of loot. He carried no weapon and (Continued on Page 3)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

DEDICATE NEW FIELD BY VICTORY

The 1930 Newton high school baseball team dedicated its new diamond at Claffin Field last Saturday with an 11 to 5 victory over the West Warwick (Rhode Island) High school nine. The visitors came here with an almost veteran team, the catcher being the only new man. On the other hand Captain Perry Elrod was the only orange and black letter man and Warren Colby and George Hildreth, who made up the outfield with Elrod, were the only two others in the game with varsity experience. The infield was composed of intermediate and junior varsity players of last year and under the circumstances showed up exceptionally well. There were several instances of poor base running, but the liberties they took with the visiting catcher's arm, which was none too strong, more than made up for their failure in other directions. The pitching of Bob Dalton was the feature of the game. Dalton fanned ten and retired in the eighth inning with a 11 to 2 margin. Chipman relieved him and in the ninth tallied three runs, aided by two bases on balls.

Warwick went down in order to start the game with the first two batters fanning. Doucette, Newton leadoff man, reached third after drawing a base on balls, but his teammates could not bring him in.

A fast double play, Barry to Doucette to Butler, after Dalton had passed F. Barry of Warwick with one down cut off the visitors' chances in the second. Newton put one tally over in its half on Colby's base on balls, Butler's sacrifice and J. Barry's single to centre.

A base on balls, single and a sacrifice put Warwick runners on second and third with one down in the third, but Dalton got out of the hole nicely when Barry grabbed a fly in the short-field and the next batter fanned. The orange and black added two more in its half. With one out Bennett drew a pass and moved to second on a passed ball. Hildreth brought him home with a single and went to second on the throw in. An error by the second baseman on Colby's rap put Hildreth over and Colby on second. He reached third on a wild pitch but both Butler and Barry fanned to end the rally.

Warwick got one run in the fourth. The first batter drew a pass, one of three issued by Dalton, took second on a passed ball but was trapped between second and third on a fielder's choice. F. Barry, the visiting catcher, drove a solid triple to left centre field to score the previous batter. The next Warwick man hit to J. Barry who threw his namesake out at the plate and Dalton fanned the next man to prevent further scoring. Newton went in order in the last of the frame.

Dalton fanned the first two visitors to face him in the fifth, passed the next, but then settled down again for a third strikeout in one inning. In Newton's half four runs were chalked up. Dalton led off with a three runner sacrifice. The orange and black scored when the Warwick receiver let the third strike on Hildreth get away from him. Hildreth making first. The third baseman fozzled Colby's rap and two more runs counted. Butler fanned but Barry sacrificed and Fine brought Colby home with a single to right centre.

Although the first two Warwick batters singled safely in the sixth, no runs were scored as the next three batters were easy victims for Dalton, the first by a strikeout, the second by a pop fly to Dalton, and the third on a slow roller to Dalton. The orange and black brought its count to ten in the last of the sixth with a three run spurge. Elrod was hit by the pitcher, stole second and counted on Bennett's single to right after Dalton had fanned. Bennett and Dalton came home on Hildreth's single. Hildreth moved up when Colby was tossed out at first and on to third when the third baseman let Butler's rap get away. A passed ball put Hildreth across the plate with the third run of the inning.

Warwick added another in the seventh. J. Barry erred on Diggle's rap and the latter moved to second. Shepard bunted and Butler threw the ball over Bennett's head trying to cut Diggle who scored on the error. All this went on with two down but Elrod grabbed Cournoyer's fly to end the frame. Coach Sullivan's charges counted their final run in the last of the seventh. Doucette drew a free ticket, stole second and scored on Elrod's hit to centre. Elrod took third on the throw home, but was cut down on Dalton's rap in the third base. Bennett forced Dalton at second but the attempted double play failed. Bennett stole second but was caught trying to steal third a moment later.

The first Warwick batter in the eighth doubled to right and stole third. Dalton bore down and fanned the next batter and then gave way to Chipman. The latter got away in good style by fanning the first man he faced and Bennett tossed out Symkowicz to leave the baserunner stranded. With two out Butler drew a pass and Barry fanned to end Newton's last chance to add to its total.

Warwick took advantage of Chipman's wildness in the ninth. With one down Tomasso, the pitcher, dropped a Texas leaguer in left field and stole second. The next two batters were passed to fill the sacks and two scored on Cournoyer's single to centre. Begos fouled out to Claffin, the third baseman, but taken Fine's place behind the bat, but Chipman fumbled F. Barry's roller to let the third run in. Young fled to Elrod to end the game.

NEWTON MAKES IT TWO STRAIGHT

Coach Sullivan's Newton high team scored its second win of the season by taking Woburn into camp Wednesday at Claffin Field, 5 to 2. The orange and black nine touched two Woburn batters for eleven hits while Chipman allowed two in two innings and Kraber two in seven innings. Newton threw away several chances to score by poor base running which can be laid to their inexperience on the paths.

Chipman took the mound for Newton at the start and had little trouble. He passed two in the first inning but got out of the hole after a sacrifice and two infield grounders. Newton chalked up its first tally in its half. Doucette singled, stole second but was out at third on Dalton's rap after Elrod had fanned. Bennett singled to score Dalton, who moved to second on a wild pitch. Wefer, Woburn centerfielder made a nice throw to get Dalton at the plate but the throw was seconds late. Bennett took second on the throw home and tried to score on Hildreth's single to center. Wefer's peg this time was letter perfect.

Although the first two batters singled and the third sacrificed them along in the second Chipman again got out of a deep hole. One runner was caught at the plate by Butler's throw and the batter fanned for the third out. The home team had no chance in the second, a double play on Fine's rap cutting down Butler at second and Fine at first after Barry had been caught going from first to third on Butler's attempted sacrifice which the pitcher fumbled.

Woburn tied it up in the third. Chipman passed the first man and turned the next over to Kraber. The baserunner stole second and went to third on Fine's peg to centerfield. He scored on a sacrifice fly to Dalton who made a pretty running catch but was off balance and could not get off a good peg to the plate. Another fly to Dalton was followed by a single but Fine cut down this runner trying to pifer second. Another double play ruined Newton in the third after Kraber had singled, moved to second on a sacrifice, and to third on a wild pitch. Elrod popped up to the short-stop who doubled Kraber off third.

Although Elrod muffed Johnson's fly in the fourth Woburn did not threaten as the runner got no further than second base. In the last half of the frame the home team again went out in order.

Woburn went out, one, two, three in the fifth. In the last of the frame the orange and black broke the tie, scoring one run. Barry drew his second pass, moved to second on Butler's perfect sacrifice and came home on Fine's two-bagger to right centre.

Woburn promptly tied it right up again in the sixth. Wefer was hit by a pitched ball moved to second on a sacrifice and stole third. Kelleher drew a pass and Johnson fouled out to Fine. Goddard singled through the box and Wefer counted. The next batter flied to Dalton. Although Bennett tripped in Newton's half with one down it was of no avail as Hildreth fanned and Barry was forced at second, after drawing his third straight pass, by Butler.

Infield grounders, which were easily handled for outs at first, was all Woburn could get in the seventh. Newton got two runners on base, one by an error and one by a single, after one was down but the next two batters flied out to the outfield.

In Woburn's eighth Kraber was complete master and it was down in order again. The home team then proceeded to put the game away with a three run rally which forced L. McCarthy out of the box midway of the inning.

Bennett singled and took second on Hildreth's out at first. Barry singled to score Bennett and stole second. Butler hit a liner too hot for the short-stop to hold and Barry went to third. Fine flied out to left. Kraber hit to second and an error put Butler on second, Kraber on first and Barry over Butler with the third run. Elrod drew a pass but Dalton flied out to right to end the rally.

Kraber passed two Woburn batters in the ninth but neither reached second as they succeeding batters could not get the ball out of the infield.

A very interesting talk was given last Monday evening at the Fellowship Club by Mr. Vernon W. Marr, Assistant General Counsel of The Boston Legal Aid Society. He cited a number of cases where the Society had been able to help those who were ignorant of their rights under the law and who did not have the means to hire a lawyer to take their cases. Many stayed to ask questions after the address.

At a meeting of the Round Table Club held on Monday evening, April 14th, at the Hotel Somerset in Boston, the following officers were chosen for the new year: Mr. Alexander Zinck, President; Dr. George N. Abbott, Vice President; W. S. Bruton, Secretary-Treasurer. The program committee consists of Messrs. Roy Edwards, F. B. Eastman, and Dr. Harold L. Howe. Mr. Harold A. Wolff of the Department of Anthropology of Harvard University was the Guest Speaker. The subject was "How to Cure the Criminal."

Those present were: Harold A. Wolff, Dr. Alfred E. King, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Dr. Horace L. Howe, Dr. George N. Abbott, Charles H. Clark, F. B. Eastman, J. Ernest Gibson, R. M. Patterson, Edw. M. Rowe, Roy Edwards, Clarence Lodge, Alexander Zinck, John Chant, and W. S. Bruton.

The Camp Committee was fortunate in having a beautiful day for their meeting held at Camp Frank A. Day, April 12th. They were much pleased with the adaptability for camp purposes of the new land that was purchased last summer. Announcement of its use will be made later.

The Camp Committee are making plans to build two new tent houses and an incinerator and to provide a new flat with spring board, and diving tower. The buildings are to be painted and everything will be in first class condition for the opening on June 27th. Those who made the trip were: Messrs. C. D. Kepner, G. Clemens Colburn, Frank A. Day, Fred Hawkins, F. J. Perry, M. B. Perry, F. D. Fuller, Dr. Carroll G. Giddings, Clyde G. Hess and H. W. Bascom.

The final match in the Second Annual Blaisdell Cup Squash Racquets Tournament conducted at the Newton Y. M. C. A. was played off the new between Ray Millard and L. A. Breck and was won by Breck, three to nothing. Twenty-six members of the "Y" competed for the cup which has been put up by Mr. J. Wm. Blaisdell to become the permanent property of any member who can win the tournament any three years. Last year John L. Sullivan won the first leg on the trophy.

A consolation tournament is now being held at the "Y" for those who were eliminated in the first round. So far matches have been won in this tournament by W. F. Baker, Jr., W. S. Adams, G. G. Kitchen, and D. W. Anders.

Dream of Easy Wealth

Sudden wealth, acquired without labor, assuring ease and luxury and power, appeals to the avaricious instinct of many otherwise sound and intelligent people. The thrill of expectation, of suspense, the possibility of success with the next spin of the wheel, the next turn of the card, the next shovel of earth has kept men fighting odds since history began, says the St. Paul Dispatch.

There is a romance to search for buried treasure, to stories of unearned wealth won in the gold fields, the roulette wheel, the gaming table and the stock market that is fascinating. It blinds its victims to risk and danger. They give no thought to how many are beaten.

Men seldom boast of their losses, so failures in the gamble for easy wealth rarely win the spotlight. Now and then a paragraph tells of a broken spirit ending his life. Young men who gamble with their company's money are frequently imprisoned as embezzlers. But these are the dramatic incidents that get into print. The thousands who risk and lose their life's savings sink out of sight without leaving a ripple on the surface.

It is sometimes worth remembering that all who play do not win.

Flabbiness of Thinking

It has been said a good many times over, in this generation as in others, but President Hibben of Princeton did well to remind the students of his university that they should be on their guard against a flabby mind, just as watchfully as against flabby muscle. The old Roman who spoke for "a sound mind in a sound body" put the mind first, let us remember—mens sana in corpore sano—but in our modern quotation of the saying we are almost always throwing the emphasis on the body. As civilization becomes more and more complex, the flabby mind, unequal to the task of taking up an important problem of life and thinking it through, becomes more and more perilous, to both its possessor and to others who may be obliged in any way to depend upon the judgment of that possessor. Certainly no one should be more watchful than the student.—Columbus Dispatch.

Varying Trade-Mark Laws

In discussing the principles of trade-mark laws existing in the world two separate systems of law have to be considered, one system being that in force in the United States, Great Britain, France and a few other countries where the first user of a trade-mark is protected, and the other system where ownership is based on registration of the mark. This latter system is used more generally throughout the Latin countries of the world. The law of the United States is practically unique in one respect, in that it requires as a basis of the right to register that the mark shall have been applied to goods sold in interstate or foreign commerce, this requirement following the clause of the Constitution in which trade-mark rights are recognized.

Divorce Easy for Dyaks

The Siang Dyak country of Dutch Borneo is a paradise for divorced husbands, as alimony is not known there and freedom can be purchased for a song, John H. Province, University of Chicago anthropologist with the All-American Lyric anthropological and radio research expedition reported.

Divorce is practiced freely among the Dyaks and marital ties are easily severed. As in this country, cruelty, infidelity and desertion are grounds for divorce. With the payment of a trifling penalty the freed husband's responsibility ceases.

South African City Life

De Aar, South Africa, has denied stories that thousands of rats came into the town to die and spread the plague, but it admits there are some of the rodents there. It declares that 95 per cent of the people never saw a rat, alive or dead. It also admits that at times there are dust storms and tropical heat, with bitter cold in June and July. Most of the water is obtained underground, and often there is a shortage, so a plan to have it piped from a distance is being considered.

Founder of Homeopathy

Samuel Christian Hahnemann was the founder of the homeopathic system. This German physician was born at Meissen, Germany, April 10, 1755, and died at Paris, July 2, 1843. In 1775 he went to Leipzig and studied medicine. At a later period he went to Vienna. After some years he returned, and completed his studies at Erlangen. He afterward practiced medicine at different places. He remained at Hofrath until 1833 when he proceeded to Paris.

Gas Bombs in Warfare

The Chinese have known and used gas bombs for many centuries, and there is positive proof of their using "stink bombs" against pirates along the Ninth and Tenth centuries. The English used similar bombs in the Boer war and they were also used in the Russo-Japanese war in 1904. In spite of the fact that it was generally understood at the peace conference at Geneva in 1864 that their use would be abandoned, they were again used in the World war.

his only burglary tool was a chisel minus a handle. Securing a taxi, the policemen hastened to Boston to the hotel and going to the room specified by the captive who identified himself as Fred G. Hughes of Tucson, Arizona.

In Hughes' room the policemen found three large trunks, two traveling bags and four steel boxes crammed with quantities of jewelry, both expensive and inexpensive. Included in the stuff were diamond rings, brooches, amber and pearl beads, valuable watches and watches not so valuable, antique jewelry, pins, cigarette lighters, fraternal society emblems, costly handbags, a dozen or more pairs of opera glasses, three revolvers, fifty sets of cups designed for use in drinking strong liquor and three pocket flasks, one of which was not entirely empty. The loot was taken from the hotel to police headquarters at West Newton where Hughes assisted the officers in identifying some of it. Much of the cheaper jewelry he had purchased. On his person he carried business cards which read "Fred G. Hughes, Hotel Sherman, Chicago. Will buy your jewelry stock, or any part at any time or place." Pawn tickets were also found among his effects and it is supposed that he disposed without undue delay of most of the more valuable jewelry he stole. He estimated the value of his stock at about $50,000, but $10,000 will perhaps be nearer.

Hughes admitted, the following "breaks" in the city—19 Adella avenue, West Newton, home of Robert Finley on April 13; 11 Eliot avenue, West Newton, home of John Marquard on April 11; 40 Wedgewood road, West Newton, home of Edward Abbott on April 9. For a professional burglar Hughes had displayed poor judgment in working the same immediate neighborhood night after night and he also differed from the expert members of his profession in the readiness with which he confessed. He stated he is a native of Tucson, has a wife and child in Los Angeles and has been a burglar for 19 years. He is 47 years of age and has served terms in prisons in California and Texas. According to his story he escaped from a jail in the latter state by overpowering his guards and forcing them to march ahead of him for several miles.

Asst. District Attorney Bishop was notified late Wednesday night and came to Newton police headquarters to question Hughes. The latter was in the Newton court yesterday morning before Judge Frost and was held in $50,000 bail. Newton police headquarters was visited yesterday by many persons seeking to identify some of the loot as articles stolen from their homes and by police detectives from nearby places searching for jewelry reported taken in thefts. The loot was piled on tables in the inspector's room which had the appearance of a jewelry rummage sale.

and they will be collected on the days assigned for the various wards. The people of the city should feel sufficient pride in its appearance and the aspect of their homes to do their best to leave a pleasing impression on the visitors who are expected to come here. Newton officials will do its part, that part will consist in making the most thorough and painstaking collection of all waste material. The rest is up to the citizens themselves. A clean community is not only pleasing to the eye but reduces the menace of fire and is a measure for health protection.

Clean-up week collections, designated by Commissioner Stuart of the Street Department, are as follows: Monday, May 5, Wards 3 and 4; Tuesday, May 6, Ward 5; Wednesday, May 7, Ward 6; Thursday, May 8, Ward 7; Friday, May 9, Ward 2, and Saturday, May 10, Ward 1.

The final meeting of the class for Volunteers was held on Friday, April 12th, at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. The speakers included a representative from each of the four organizations in Newton whose work is primarily with "Family and Child Welfare" problems.

Mrs. H. W. Ross, President of the Mothers' Rest Association, gave a brief summary of the history of her organization, from its beginning, thirty years ago, when the Baptist Church of Newton Centre felt the need of giving a summer outing to mothers and children, to its present All-Newton membership of 1253 persons. At first the vacation house was located in the old City Home in Waban, but on the sale of this property, it was necessary to move to Newton Highlands, then to Needham, and finally, in 1925, to its present site at Oak Hill.

There are eleven acres of land, a pine grove, a brook, and altogether ideal surroundings. The house is a one-story cement structure, with a room for each mother and three children. Last year there were six parties of twenty mothers each, making 120 mothers in all. They are allowed to bring their children under six years old, and the average is three children to each mother. They are taught the proper care of their children by the resident nurse, and they absorb many lessons in housekeeping from the example of attractively furnished, well-kept rooms, and balanced meals properly cooked and served.

There are several ways in which a volunteer can help Mothers' Rest: (1) By becoming a paid member. (2) By offering her services on the Visiting Committee. (3) By furnishing entertainment for the mothers at the party which is given every two weeks for them. An Open Sunday is held each year, generally the first Sunday in June at which time the public is invited to come and see the Mothers' Rest in full swing.

Miss Florence Fitzgerald, Director of the Public Welfare Department of the City of Newton, divides the relief work into two groups: Mothers' Aid and Temporary Aid. There are thirty families receiving Mothers' Aid in Newton at present and sixty-two families receiving Temporary Aid, which is a much larger number than for many years past, due to the great increase in unemployment.

The Department of Public Welfare is restricted by law as to what type of family it can help, because it is using public money, and this is not always understood by the general public. To obtain Mothers' Aid, one third of which comes from State funds, the mother must be a widow or her husband must be totally incapacitated, or insane. She can have no more than $200 in the bank, no real estate with assessed value over $3000, no male boarders except a father or brother, and no illegitimate children. She can work part-time, but she can not have a full-time job; and no aid is given to a mother with only one child unless she is physically incapacitated.

Temporary Aid includes cases of old age, desertion of husband, short-term jail cases, and unemployment. In the case of unemployment, the man must work out his allowance of $3.50 a day at the City Home, where he is given a good dinner. The money given is carefully budgeted and deductions are made for income from pensions, rentals, part-time work, wages of children, etc. Sick people are taken care of by Dr. Lowe, the city physician, either at home or at the Newton Hospital.

Anyone residing in Newton and needing aid can apply, even if they are newly arrived in the city. Newton takes particularly good care of its poor, families who come from other cities remark upon this fact, and the State House often sends students to Newton to study our methods.

Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, explained how the work of the city and the Bureau are both necessary. While the City is limited by law and is responsible to the public, the Newton Welfare Bureau is a private organization responsible only to its board of directors; and for this reason it can help many people whom the City is powerless to aid. For example, unemployment is taken care of by the City, but not under-employment, when a man with a family of eight may be earning only fourteen dollars a week. Temporary unemployment due to sickness or other emergency is another example—and there are countless others. The Newton Welfare Bureau can give instant relief in an emergency when necessary, and investigate later.

Many cases are referred by the schools of Newton so that the Bureau is really doing School Visiting everywhere except in the Newton High School and the Stearns School which are already covered. They represent the Traveler's Aid in Newton and are responsible for any calls which may come to them in this way. The Xmas seal money is spent by the Newton Welfare Bureau for prevention of tuberculosis by sending tuberculosis contact children to health camps each summer.

The Newton Welfare Bureau cannot do its work without the help of volunteers; and there are many ways in which their help is needed. Actual case work can be done if the volunteer is willing to take training and responsibility; or she may prefer to give out clothing or simply drive her car. The Newton Welfare Bureau never asks for help unless it is absolutely necessary; and if the volunteer could understand this, there should be no cause for criticism on her part.

Mrs. Celia Wellman as woman probation officer, has the care of all juveniles seven to seventeen years old, and all women, including the care and investigation of domestic relations and non-supporting cases. The chief probation officer, Mr. Enegness, has the care of all non-payments in war-support and all moneys paid through the court on probation cases.

Mrs. Wellman has charge of all unofficial complaints, and this part of her work has grown so that last year about 150 juveniles were handled in this way, thus preventing records being made and yet impressing on parents the need of care and oversight for their children. Judge Bacon and Judge Weston are intensely interested in the juveniles and it is through them that Mrs. Wellman is allowed to handle many cases unofficially.

Those of you who do not know of the work which the Newton Circle is doing in the District Court will be interested to learn that for the last fourteen years the Circle has carried on a Social Service Department in the Court. Mr. John T. Lodge is the President of the organization and Mrs. Wellman is the social worker. Girls who make illegitimate child complaints are cared for through this department, legal advice is given them as to their rights, and follow-up work is also done.

Mrs. Wellman has four suggestions to the volunteer before she begins work: (1) Never advise unofficial handling of illegitimate child complaints—the help of the Court is needed if there is to be an effective settlement. (2) Avoid drawing conclusions in domestic relation cases—impartial investigation is essential. (3) Never advise breaking up a home or a separation of any kind—get advice from the Probation Department. (4) Do not criticize wife or husband until sure of your ground—it will probably be used against you.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening, April 21, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alice McRae, 19 Higgins street, Auburndale.

THE NEW COURTHOUSE SITE

The Middlesex County Commissioners have chosen to erect the proposed new County Courthouse in West Newton on a site which has frontage on both Elm and Cherry streets. Although a site on the "triangle" at Newton Centre was undoubtedly considered it was rejected because of the fact that West Newton was more easily accessible for the majority of those who depend on public transportation facilities. It has not been planned to provide quarters for the court in the new City Hall, whether it is eventually erected in West Newton or not, as the rental fee which the County was willing to pay was entirely incommensurate with the additional cost which would be entailed by so doing. In recent years it has been the practice of some counties to erect imposing courthouses and other public buildings. We trust that Middlesex County officials will provide a building of adequate size but without too much ornamentation and expense to the taxpayers.

CONSIDER LOCAL WORKMEN

It is to be regretted that Newton contractors are not awarded more contracts for buildings erected by the city. With many hundred Newton workmen idle the local unemployment problem would be diminished and the business of local merchants aided through the increased purchasing power of those who would be employed by the local builders.

POLICE NEWS

Thirty-five patrolmen took the examination for sergeant at the Technical High School last Saturday morning.

A watch found in a Newton jewelry store by Special Officers Feeley and Burke led to the arrest on Saturday of James Barton, 30, of Riverview street, Brighton. It is alleged that the watch was stolen in Belmont. Barton was in the Newton court Monday charged with burglarizing a Newton house. His case was continued to May 5. He was then taken to Cambridge where he was charged in the district court there with having committed two burglaries in Belmont.

Patrick Donahue of 161 Galen street complained to the police that an extension ladder belonging to him had been stolen from a yard on Oakland street, Newton.

Monday examinations were held at City Hall for members of the Newton Police Department who seek advancement in rank. All of the sergeants, except Serg. Cullen who is the mechanic of the department, took the examination for advancement to the rank of Lieutenant. Those taking the examination included Sergs. Meehan, Leehan, Mahoney, Moan, Bannion, Veddio, Moran, Crowley and King. The Lieutenants who took the examination for advancement to the rank of captain were—Goode, Hughes, Shaughnessy and Seaver. The retirement next month of Captain James Mullen will make a vacancy in that rank and the advancement of some one of the lieutenants to fill the position will allow a sergeant to be promoted.

Some officers in some of the police departments connected with the new teletype system which has been installed in a number of cities and towns in Greater Boston ought to be "wiped up" against wasting paper and valuable time in transmitting police news of little import. The other day information was being teletyped slowly by an officer in a nearby town about a man who had "annoyed" some girls.

In the Newton court on Monday were three autoists charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Chester Wisnako of Framingham who failed to appear last week to answer the charge, and who was arrested on a default warrant by Serg. Moran and Patrolman McHugh, was fined $100. Francis Fahey of Main street, Watertown, arrested early Sunday morning by Sergs. Mahoney and Moran and Patrolman Kelly had his case continued to April 21. Edward Fitzgerald of Newbury street, Boston, arrested by Serg. Moan, Patrolman Jenkins and Hartford had his case continued to April 24.

William Shriberg of 11 Melbourne avenue, Newtonville, a junk dealer, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with starting a fire in a street without a permit. Patrolman Kelly testified that Shriberg first started to burn some old automobile wheels in the yard of his home. After Kelly had caused Shriberg to extinguish this fire, which was within 50 feet of a building, the officer stated that Shriberg set another fire in the street to consume the remains of the wheels.

Mary Turbett of Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for "speeding." For driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public she was fined $100 and the fine was suspended. She was the driver of the car which on the evening of March 16 hit and seriously injured Mrs. Evangeline Cormier of Waltham as the woman was crossing Washington street. According to the police report four persons were occupying the seat in the coupe. Miss Turbett was driving and it is alleged she was driving at a high rate of speed. The victim of the accident is still in the Newton Hospital.

Herbert Cates of Brighton was fined $50 in the Newton court Wednesday for operating an automobile without a license. Wilfred James of Somerville was fined $10 for driving a car without proper number plates. Dino Valz of Andover and Philip Rubin of Roxbury each was fined $10 for speeding.

If the inspectors and special officers of the Newton Police Department were paid by the hour they would draw considerable overtime this week. They have been busy day and night sorting the loot obtained from Burglar Fred Hughes and displaying it to persons and police officers from other cities who come to identify and claim the jewelry.

The Robinson family of Watertown, by a co-incidence, furnished two of the group fined $5 each by Judge Frost in the Newton court yesterday for failing to STOP before entering Washington street. Patrolman McNeill was the complainant against G. Frederick Robinson, former selectman and historian of Watertown; Traffic Officer Taffe was the complainant against Miles Robinson, son of the other Watertown man.

Water Filtration Has

Curbed Disease Spread

About 1887 it was announced by Percy Frankland and others that sand filtration removed nearly all the bacteria in water. Five years later came the outbreak of cholera in Hamburg, and a striking demonstration was afforded of protection through filtration. Hamburg and Altona, two cities on the Elbe river, both used the river as a source of water supply. Hamburg used unfiltered water; Altona filtered its supply. When cholera infection of the river water occurred, Altona escaped with only a few cases. Hamburg, on the other hand, had an enormous number.

Following the rapid advance of the science of bacteriology in the '80s and '90s, it was natural to consider the possibility of purifying drinking water by the addition of chemical disinfectants. The first systematic use of chlorine in water is credited to Hous-ton and McGovern in England in 1904 and 1905. The present world-wide use of chlorine disinfectant of public water supplies, however, is due largely to the work of George A. Johnson, who, in 1908, used bleaching powder ("chloride of lime") for the purification of Jersey City's water supply.—New York Times.

Inventions That Would

Make Deviser Wealthy

Among the 20 ways of making a million dollars, revealed by Roger W. Babson, economist in the Forum are: (1) Pills for plants—condensed form of fertilizer, to do away with waste-ful spreading. (2) A new gearless automobile which will use a rotary engine, go sideways as well as forward and backward for convenience in parking. (3) A foolproof helicopter, to lift an airplane directly off the earth, enabling the aviator to light on city streets and building roofs. (4) Gliders for children. Boys will fly around their yards as safely as they now play in their sandpiles. (5) A light that will pierce fog, something greatly needed in the field of air navigation. (6) Talking books—that is, pages that may be fed into a machine and save the bother of reading. (7) Flexible, unbreakable and bulletproof glass. (8) Cold light, to do away with 95 per cent of electric current now wasted on resistance to create glow. (9) Mahogany lumber from native hardwood trees, by inoculating them with dyes and chemicals.

Diet of Lions

Lions in their native haunts prey largely upon young antelopes, zebras, buffaloes, giraffes and other vegetation-eating animals. For this reason it is often stated that the lion will not eat the flesh of carnivorous or flesh-eating creatures. The fact seems to be that lions will eat the flesh of any animal recently killed, such as animals left by hunters. Certainly lions in captivity are not particular about the kind of flesh they eat. There is also abundant proof that the king of beasts will occasionally attack and eat human beings. Dr. W. Reid Blair, in his book "In the Zoo," tells of two man-eating lions in Africa which carried off 18 men employed in building the Uganda railway.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Small Potatoes

The late Haley Fiske of insurance fame said one evening in a Y. M. C. A. address in Brooklyn:

"It pays big business to be liberal. To save a dollar in a mean small way signifies the loss of hundreds of dollars in good will."

"Whenever a mean, small economy is proposed to me I tell the anecdote about the Scotchman who went into a barber shop and said:

"'How much for a haircut?'
"'Forty cents, sir,' said the barber.
"'How much for a shave?'
"'Twenty cents,'
"'Shave mah head.'"

Purifying Public Water

The first noteworthy movement in this country for the purification of a public water supply was made in 1863, according to the New York Health department, when St. Louis sent James P. Kirkwood to Europe to investigate the methods practiced there. On his return Kirkwood made an elaborate report that water engineers still regard as a classic. In 1872, about five years after Kirkwood's death, a plant was built at Poughkeepsie in accordance with his plans. This was the first practical attempt at purification of a municipal water supply in America.

Every woman has his Tabby waiting on the wall, and yet he welcomes her approach by an unceremonious yowl. The other day a man, hitherto without a spot on his character, inquired, with well-feigned innocence:

"How can five persons divide five eggs so that each man will receive one and still one remain in the dish?"

After the company went all but distracted in the mazes of this proposition, the fellow meekly said:

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Late Wednesday afternoon the Committee on Municipal Affairs reported favorably on Mayor Weeks' bill to borrow money outside the debt limit for building a new city hall. Last Monday morning the committee held a hearing at which the measure was discussed. Representative Baker, City Solicitor Bartlett and others were present and addressed the committee. There was no opposition.

Gov. Allen has signed a resolve which provides that during the Tercentenary celebration the State shall prepare for a public exhibit and demonstration of governmental activities, including accomplishments in the executive and administrative branches of the government. Under the provisions of the resolve, according to an announcement made by John D. Wright, secretary to the Governor, the State government will at some time during the tercentenary year present to the people of the Commonwealth a demonstration of its governmental activities, including accomplishments in the executive and administrative branches of the government. The exhibit, according to Mr. Wright, will undoubtedly be patterned after others that have been held in New York and other sections of the country, presenting in a practical way how the State functions are being carried out.

Veterans of the Spanish War are exempt, if they so request, from the payment of a poll tax under the provisions of a bill signed by Governor Allen. The measure also allows them a $1000 exemption on real and personal estate providing the combined value of both does not exceed $5000. Veterans of the Philippine insurrection and also the Chinese relief expedition, better known as the Boxer uprising, are also included in the bill. Wives and widows of all such veterans receive the same exemption.

Governor Allen has prepared a new souvenir of the Executive Department. It is a folder of parchment on which there is a picture of the present State House and a description and a smaller sketch of the old State House and a description. It also has the governor's autograph and the seal of the Commonwealth in gold and blue. It makes a particularly pleasing gift. Without doubt it will be gratefully received by visitors who are expected to be numerous this summer due to the tercentenary and the many conventions planned.

An order has been advanced to provide for the appointment of a special committee of three Senators and nine Representatives with authority to make all necessary arrangements for appropriate commemoration Oct. 20 at 11 a. m. of the first General Court held on American soil under the charter of March 4, 1629, granted to the Governor and the company of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, said first General Court have been held in Boston, Oct. 19, 1630.

The Supreme Judicial Court has given an opinion on the initiative petition for a State fund for compulsory automobile liability insurance. The court holds that many of the features of the bill are unconstitutional. This seems to put an end to the possibility of any material changes in this session of the General Court in the existing automobile liability law.

About seven of the 27 joint standing committees have disposed of all the matters before them. A comparatively small number of petitions and bills remain, although there are hearing dates set for next week which means that in some committees business is dragging. With the end of the Garrett investigation in sight and the assurance that the Attorney General will have his report ready before May 1 the Legislature is beginning to think that prorogation may be reached early in June.

A broadcasting station has been established in the State House office of the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety. It is directly linked with stations WBZ and WBZA. The formal opening took place Wednesday morning with Governor Allen delivering the first safety broadcast. From this studio the executive staff of the Governor's Committee will flash daily bulletins on highway safety topics at 11:55 a. m. except on Monday when the hour will be 10 a. m.

On roliccal Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against the bill to establish a State board of registration in barbering. The House passed the bill to be engrossed.

Governor Allen has signed the bill to provide for the funding or crediting of illegal or excessive bank taxes for the years 1927 to 1929 inclusive. The collections were made on order of the State Tax Commissioner and the banks and trust companies involved appeal to the Supreme Court, which ruled against the Tax Commissioner. The amount involved, which the State will have to pay back, is estimated at $475,000.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday night public hearings will be held on the petitions of Nils Eng for a filling station at 14 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls; Louis Boudrot for a filling station at 112 Needham street, Newton Upper Falls; John V. Harry Chin Hong Him, an enterprising Newton laundryman, who applied for a permit to conduct a restaurant at 317 Washington street, will not serve chop suey at that address as another business enterprise has rented that store.

Rudolf Arduino of Langeley road has petitioned the Board of Aldermen to change land at 712 Boylston street from general residence to business zone.

Ray Grieve of Mechanic street, Upper Falls, has presented a claim to the city because of injuries received by his daughter at the Emerson School on January 7. The girl's fingers were caught in a door.

The Newton Centre Improvement Association has petitioned for the widening of Union street. The widening would be effected by taking several feet off the wide sidewalk on the west side of the street. But, as several feet of the inside of the sidewalk are on private property, this complication would have to be removed before any widening could take place.

Mayor Weeks is keeping in active touch with the employment situation as it affects city employees by endeavoring to have sufficient public improvements under way to keep the men at work.

Recent Deaths

MRS. CHARLES EDWIN KIMBALL

Ellen (Nellie) Rebecca Kellaway was born April 26, 1868 in Devonshire, England. She came to Boston when three years of age and lived in Newton for over fifty years.

April 26, 1892 she became the bride of Charles Edwin Kimball. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry J. Patrick and the Rev. D. W. Faunce, then pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, at the home of Deacon and Mrs. Alfred L. Barbour with whom Miss Kellaway was residing at the time.

Mrs. Kimball died at the Newton Hospital Sunday evening, April 13th, after a long and painful illness. She had not been out of bed since Jan. 15th of this year.

Besides her beloved husband, Mrs. Kimball leaves two daughters, Mrs. David D. Gaw of Auburndale and Mrs. Harding C. McCulloch of 118 Lexington avenue, Needham Heights, and a host of other relatives and friends who mourn the loss of her cheery, helpful presence.

Mrs. Kimball was baptized as a girl in the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton. She was always a devoted Christian and later united with the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton where she was active in the Ladies' Aid Society.

Many have been the tributes to Mrs. Kimball's quiet service through the years. She was a real home-maker and mother. Her soul was bright and even in the days of her sickness she always had a smile for those who visited her.

Funeral services were conducted at the home, 11 Washburn avenue, Auburndale, at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, by her pastor, the Rev. John Shade Franklin. The Unity Quartette of Boston sang "Abide With Me," "Face To Face" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

DR. SAMUEL LEWIS EATON

Dr. Samuel Lewis Eaton of 340 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, died on Thursday, April 17. He was born 77 years ago at Lancaster, Wisconsin and had resided in Newton Highlands for 40 years. He graduated from Yale in 1877 and from the Hahnemann Medical School at Chicago. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and the Sons of the American Revolution. His funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at his late home, Rev. Charles O. Farrar officiating. Cremation will be at Mt. Auburn and the ashes will be taken to Newark, New Jersey, for interment. Dr. Eaton is survived by a son, William H. Eaton of Newton Highlands, and two stepchildren—Mrs. Edwin M. Drown of Newton Highlands and Vernon J. Hasbrouck of Springfield.

BRIDGET COUGHLIN

Miss Bridget Coughlin died on April 12th at the residence of Adams D. Claffin, 156 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, where for 42 years she had been a cherished member of the household. For sixteen years prior to that time Miss Coughlin had been in the employ of Mrs. Claffin's parents, Hon. and Mrs. Joseph H. Walker of Worcester, whose children included George Walker of Newton Centre and Hon. Joseph Walker of Brookline. Miss Coughlin retired from active work many years ago. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday at St. Peter's Church, Worcester, and burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery in that city. She was a native of Ireland and in her 75th year.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

"The Country Cousin," a four act comedy by Booth Tarkington and Julien Street, will be presented by The Village Players, at the Unitarian Parish House, Newton Centre, on April 23, 24 and 25th.

The cast includes members who are very well known, and whom we look forward with pleasurable anticipation to seeing in new roles. Miss Barbara Crossley, a graduate of the Leland Powers School, will take the title role. Mr. Wesley Dines, whom we all remember as "The Millionaire" will play opposite her. The cast includes Verna Dines, Winifred Rayner, Adelaide Lincoln, Mabel Mason Webber, Mrs. Marshall I. Stone, C. Roderick Clifford, Walter R. Holmes, Norman B. Powers, Dr. Sibley Littig, Carleton W. Baxter, Warren Skelton and Philip Stonemetz. An interesting feature in the cast is the introduction of our younger members. This is a very interesting group who do delightful work, and their appearance will do much to add to your enjoyment.

Production is always an interesting and necessary part of presenting a play. The production staff for "The Country Cousin" includes Mrs. Graham P. Spencer, Coach, Mrs. Frank A. Mason, Production Manager, with Helen Rugg Blodgett as her assistant; Mr. Walter T. Bryant will take care of Scenery; Mrs. Walter T. Bryant, Proprietor; Mrs. Montague Ford, Music; Auditorium, Mrs. Ralph B. Webber; Tickets, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson; Publicity, Mrs. Raymond R. Collins.

This plot is redolent of the humor that characterizes everything written by Mr. Tarkington or Mr. Street. Comedy is its keynote from beginning to end, though it has a few moments of tense drama and an underlying note of seriousness. The scene of the first act is laid in one of the middle western states that Tarkington writes about with such humorous insight.

It was first produced at the Gaity Theatre, New York, in 1917, with Alexander Carlisle in the title role.

TROOP 4, BOY SCOUTS

Troop 4 Boy Scouts held their regular meeting Thursday evening, Stanley Parker having charge of the opening exercises. Winslow Mead then took charge of the meeting and gave the boys setting up exercises. During this period Scout Master Galloway was instructing the Tenderfoot boys. A short period was given to registered Scouts. Then following this the boys had Patrol contests and instruction. The new Tenderfoot boys were Orlando Murphy, and Stanley Sochaski. Scout Master Galloway then presented Thomas Holmes, and Francis Ellis with their Cycling Badges which they were awarded at a recent camp. An announcement was made to the effect that all boys were to enjoy a swim at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Thursday instead of the regular meeting. The boys enjoyed several games of white horse and the meeting closed with Scout Benediction.

Sunday the boys enjoyed a hike to the Jones estate in Weston. They were piloted around the estate by Francis Ellis. They enjoyed a fine dinner in a cabin which six of the boys built themselves. After dinner the boys hiked to the Dean estate and enjoyed games among which they played capture the flag, after which they returned home in good season.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Street Department employees under the direction of Mechanic Bert Stuart have been building cement bases around the cast steel bases of some of the traffic signals in the city. The cast steel bases could not withstand the bumps received from automobiles. This crew has also painted traffic lines at Auburndale and other villages which are an improvement over the old, less legible markings. The number of lights illuminating the "safety island" at Nonantum square has been reduced from 14 to 7.

It seems a waste of time for policemen to make charges of "manslaughter" against reckless autoists who are involved in fatal accidents. Even when such drivers are obviously guilty, either they are not indicted on a "manslaughter" charge or they are found not guilty. Perhaps if a few homicidal autoists were found guilty of manslaughter and properly punished, the number of fatal automobile accidents might be lessened. "Punishing" by suspended sentences autoists found guilty of reckless driving also does not tend to diminish the number of pedestrians killed and maimed by "speeders."

The BOSTON POST deserves credit for exposing those "super-patriots" who are healthy enough to hold high-salaried jobs and yet are drawing big pensions from the government for alleged disabilities. There are a lot of hypocrites in this country who wave the flag, prate about their intense love for country, admonish others to be loyal Americans and at the same time are being subsidized out of the national treasury through false pretenses. And they are more contemptible because they are receiving allowances that should go to poor fellows who are really physically unfit and in want because of disabilities received from service in the late war.

The old Central Block at Newtonville is being demolished at its easterly end. The building will be gradually razed and its passing will remove one of the last old landmarks in Newtonville's business section. It is to be hoped that the building which will be erected on this site will be higher than one story, as rumored.

Ford's Market and Dewey's Market at Newton Corner have interestingly worded signs in their windows announcing that these stores will be closed "Patriot's Day," April 19. Other independently owned stores in this city would undoubtedly have decided to close all day but for the knowledge that the chain stores will not close.

"Makers of the Flag"

On Flag day, 1914, before the employees of the Department of the Interior, Franklin K. Lane, then secretary of the interior, made an address which ended: "I swung before your eyes as a bright gleam of color, a symbol of yourself, the pictured suggestion of that big thing which makes this nation. My stars and my stripes are your dream and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith, because you have made them so out of your hearts. For you are the makers of the flag and it is well that you glory in the making."

Poor Place for Doctor

Many centuries after the time of the Greeks and the Romans cabbage was still so highly thought of as a health giver that the story was told of a doctor going to settle in Denmark, who when he saw fields of cabbage every where, lost heart, deciding that Denmark would be a poor market for his services. But an English writer of half a century ago recounted with apologies instances of the high regard in which the vegetable had been held. His age, said he, looked on all members of the cabbage family as hard to digest and affording little nourishment.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Mr. Fred Hammond president of the Junior Dramatic Club, opened the evening's program on Saturday, April 12th at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House by introducing Mrs. Everett W. Varney who told the large audience assembled, of the work and aims of this group of forty boys and girls who are working out problems in drama and settings in a finished and artistic way. Every one of the forty boys and girls of the club is assured of a speaking part and the results of a desire to do plus expert coaching are at times astonishing.

The event of the evening was the lecture by Dr. Dewitt G. Wilcox on his trip to Western Canyons. He held the close attention of his audience from beginning to end with his sparkling account of the very eventful trip. During the story of the loss of one of the boys who had gone on ahead in a lonely canyon and followed a blind trail there was tense interest. The only safety when all hope was given up, was the smoke from the fire which the guide lit to act as a beacon to the boy, as in the clear air the smoke can be seen from afar. When the exhausted boy was found, the soles of his shoes worn through, the joy of the audience was apparent. The pictures, beautifully colored, were made from the doctor's photographs. Mr. Wm. Hahn kindly carried and operated the projector for the moving pictures taken by Dr. Wilcox with a camera bought from Mr. Hahn.

The evening was a financial success for the club, as well as one of unique enjoyment for the many who attended.

NEWTON SYMPHONY CONCERT

The Newton Symphony Orchestra, conducted by D. Ralph MacLean has arranged an extremely interesting program for Thursday evening, April 24, at 8:15 P. M. at the new High School Hall, Newtonville, with Mr. Ralph Lally, baritone soloist, assisting.

MEN'S CLUB TO HEAR TALK ON BUSINESS

The annual joint meeting of the Church Men's Clubs of Newton Centre, to be held on Thursday evening, April 24 at the Newton Centre Women's Club, with the Men's Club of First Church as host, promises to set a mark for such affairs in the Garden City.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks has accepted an invitation to speak, and entertainment of a high order along musical lines will be furnished by the Levi Warren Junior High School Band, New England Public School Band champions in 1928 and 1929.

Great interest is felt in the address to be given by R. W. McNeel, Director of McNeel's Financial Service, who is to speak on "What is Ahead for Business and the Stock Market."

Probably one of the largest gatherings of men in Newton Centre will commence the evening's enjoyment by taking dinner together at 6:30.

NEWTON CIRCLE

The annual meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., will be held on Friday, April 25, at 3 o'clock promptly. Mrs. Frank A. Day is generously opening her residence on Sargent street, the honor Mayor Weeks, Mr. Warren Bishop, Assistant District Attorney, Mrs. Celia Williams, Probation Officer and Social Worker for the Newton Circle are to be the speakers. Tea will be served. The Circle feels an enjoyable afternoon can be promised and hope to see many of its friends.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER

The next regular meeting of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton Highlands, will be held at the Hartwell Farm, Lexington, on Tuesday, April 23, at 2:15 o'clock. Delegates who are this week attending the Washington Congress are Mrs. Albion H. Brown and Miss Annie S. Head.

"CLIMBING THE ALPS"

On Saturday evening, April 26, Bradford Washburn is to give an illustrated lecture at Eliot Church, Newton, under the auspices of the Eliot Men's Club. His subject will be "Rock and Snow Climbing in the Swiss Alps."

Mr. Washburn is a student at Harvard University, only 19 years old, but already has had unusual experience in mountain climbing. After some preliminary climbing in the White Mountains he has spent three summers in the Swiss Alps. There he has climbed most of the high peaks and has done feats of skill which no man had done before, amazing the Swiss guides by his ability.

Part of his expeditions has included the taking of pictures both still and motion. Burton Holmes, the lecturer, and Donald MacMillan, the Arctic explorer, have proclaimed these as the most remarkable pictures of mountain climbing ever taken. These will be shown during his lecture and he will demonstrate the equipment used in mountain climbing. Washburn recently gave the talk to the National Geographic Society at Washington before an audience of 4500 and received the highest praise for the simple, natural manner in which it was given as well as for the pictures.

MIDDLESEX COURT DANCE

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold its annual Easter Dance in Elks' Hall, Newton, on Tuesday evening, April 22. The music will be furnished by O'Leary's Irish Minstrels. Miss Eleanor Mulcahy, Chief Ranger of the court, is chairman of the committee in charge, assisted by Miss May Mulligan, secretary, and the officers of the court. A large attendance is expected.

FIRST-RUN FEATURES

Two first run all-talking features, shown at "Hello Sister," will be shown at the Modern, Beacon, and Egyptian simultaneously, starting Saturday (Patriot's Day). "Hello Sister" is described as a penetrating story of youth in its maddest moments; in this new "whoopee" picture, which features Olive Borden and Lloyd Hughes. James Cruze personally supervised the production which was directed by Walter Lang. Several of the big scenes—namely where Miss Borden rides in a steeple chase to a thrilling climax—were taken at the Flintridge Country Club, home of California millionaires, and the colorful Charity Bazaar was photographed on the estate of James Cruze and Betty Compton. The associate feature "After the Fog," stars Mary Philbin, supported by Edmund Burns and Carmelita Geraghty. Miss Philbin is seen in the role of a lonely girl living with her parents along the sea coast, where she meets and marries a young rich childhood friend, against her parents' wishes. Several dramatic scenes are present in "After the Fog," such as a lighthouse keeper going mad, with the beacon light extinguished and a yacht among the perilous rocks of a storm-swept coast.

By this time you have probably made up your mind as to how you will spend the holiday. I am assuming, of course, that the holiday is yours to spend and that you are not obliged to work at the same old grind. Maybe you are hoping to get busy in the garden or around the house. In that case you'll work just the same, but it will be a diversion. Until recently I had an idea that a small minority celebrated Patriots' Day in the manner in which it should be celebrated while others were merely playboys and play girls. As far as that goes I am probably right in my guess. Still, I have always felt that in the good old days they used to show more respect for such occasions.

Well, let's see about that. Patriots' Day, which is exclusively a Massachusetts holiday, was first observed in 1894, thirty-six years ago. It was made a holiday under the provisions of a bill which called for the abolition of "Fast Day." Many are aware of these facts, but there are things that are known only to a few and which I feel the readers of this column will be interested to learn. I found them by reading George J. Varney's, "The Story of Patriots' Day," published in 1895 by Lee and Shepard.

He says: "The first proclamation for the new holiday in the good Commonwealth of Massachusetts was issued on the 11th of April, 1894. There was no form of celebration to serve as a precedent in its observance, and the time was short for suitable consideration. The manner of keeping it; which actually, in different organizations and communities, varied from religious meetings and social and literary gatherings, to public balls and private dancing parties, tennis, golf, cricket and other games; races, regattas, fireworks with band music and bell-ringing salutes, military parades and sham fights—thus ranging in character from that of the time-honored Fast Day, whose place the new holiday has taken, to that of the 4th of July and the old Muster Day.

As far as I can find the only omissions made by the people of 1894 were baseball, automobiling and week-end visits. We, in this year of grace, have dropped a few of their outdoor pastimes if you will carefully note Mr. Varney's list. But even then they got in golf, which was a bit of surprise to me. I knew it was played then, but I had no idea it was common enough to be recognized.

Newton people, who, like myself, like to be pick up interesting information about distinguished Newton residents of the past will find in Mr. Varney's book some things about Dr. S. F. Smith, author of "America" that are not a part of the widespread knowledge of that famous man. It appears that he wrote a poem, entitled "Paul Revere's Ride" and another called, "April 19, 1775". The latter was especially prepared for the celebration of the 19th anniversary of the Battles of Lexington and Concord held by the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons. He read it at their entertainment in the People's Church, Boston, on the afternoon of April 19, 1894.

I give the first and last stanzas of this five-stanza poem.

Praise to the brave and true,
When prompt to dare and do,
To do or die,
Blazoned on history's page,
When for their stormy age,
Fearless the fight to wage,
Scorning to fly.

O, sons of noble sire,
Who, through affection's fires,
To triumph rode;
Proud of the deeds they wrought,
With countless blessings fraught,
Cherish the land they bought—
The gift of God.

In the same book we find, "On the eve of April 19, 1894, there was a celebration at Christ Church (the old North Church) Boston, of the restoration of its chimneys and of the signals from its tower for the messenger to warn Lexington and Concord of the approach of the British troops. At one point Dr. Smith attempted to leave the church, but was captured at the door by his friends, and brought back to the platform, while the people cheered. He was besought to make a speech, but confessed his inability to do so. 'But' said he, 'I have something which I have written here' and suiting the action to the word, he drew a roll of manuscript from his pocket. From this he read the following original poem."

I shall not attempt to reprint all the verses, but here are the first and last of the poem which is called "Paul Revere's Ride":

Hang out the lanterns! Let oppress-
The pen of history shall record the tale;

A feeble taper flashing o'er the sea,
But the first signal light of liberty.

Strong men, great hearts, the stirring times required,
With matchless zeal and fervent purpose fired;

But none more grandly served the cause so dear
Than the brave-patriot rider, Paul Revere.

Not without further and possibly futile protest shall I cease my campaign against bicycle riding on the sidewalk. If (the campaign) has been going on some years now and all I can say is that there is less riding of that character today than formerly. I do not attribute the present condition to police activity or the continual grumblings of those who, like myself, don't believe in this sort of thing. I think it is due to the fact that fewer people are riding bicycles. However, the weather hasn't been, for any long stretch of days at least, as propitious as it might have been. Marbles and bicycles and roller skates and other things that glide along our sidewalks are just begining to appear in large numbers. So there may be after all many more cyclists in 1930 than now seems likely. Therefore, I won't make any rash prophecy as to what may or may not happen.

I will turn to a recent incident that came under my personal observation. On the sidewalk of a street where there are as many single houses as may be built without violation of the law I saw a man riding a bicycle. He was making it in "high" and the tails of his long overcoat floated out like a sail. There was little traffic in the street, the surface of the thoroughfare was dry and smooth and nothing could possibly be offered as an excuse for the offender—if it is still an offense to ride a bicycle on the sidewalk in Newton.

Out of one of the houses came an elderly woman. She had a right to assume that the sidewalk was provided for use of pedestrians. At least, I suppose that she did, but anyway she so approached the sidewalk. Down the street came the lone rider. Powerless to help I waited to see him bowl the woman over. But he didn't because she happened to look up and see him first. Her presence made no difference to him for he maintained his straight path and paid no attention to the woman who came so near being struck.

I sympathize with the views of mothers who are fearful lest their little ones meet with an accident should they ride bicycles in the street among automobiles. There is a danger, a grave one, under such conditions. But a grown man is well able to take care of himself and his bicycle when a part of vehicular traffic. The police are alert when it comes to getting after automobilists for non-stop offenses. Let us install some "STOP" signs for sidewalk bicycle riders and divert some of the police energy to see that the signs are obeyed.

Whatever Newton does in the matter of celebrating the centenary of the founding of Massachusetts Bay Colony, the 300th anniversary of the founding of the General Court and other events of 1930, Watertown is certain to make a lot of its rich historical possessions. If we choose we go there and see things, even if in Newton our observance is not so extensive. But then I am sure whatever Newton does will be of high order.

Good luck to our Watertown neighbors. It must be disappointing to the residents there that the Legislature is not disposed to hold a formal session in that town as the town requested. A special committee of our lawmakers on Beacon Hill turned down Watertown's invitation for a session there. For my own part I thought that Watertown had made out a pretty strong case in its contention that the General Court's first session was held there. The legislative committee declares that the "General Court," as a law-making body, is of unique character, and would lose its peculiar significance if merged with any other historical celebration. That is probably a good reason.

Still, if Watertown wants the Legislature present in a body at its celebration of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and of the town itself there is no doubt it may have it. The committee "suggest the appropriateness of members of the General Court accepting an invitation, if proffered, to go to the town of Watertown on such a day in the current year as may be determined upon by that town as the day of its local tercentenary celebration. The General Court on that day might well adjourn at an early hour to facilitate the perfecting of arrangements."

Before I go further in this tercentenary matter I would like to express the hope that everybody interested has had a look at the book published under the direction of the State Department of Education and which gives suggestions, together with material, for celebrations this year by school children and others. Here is a volume compiled by a committee of prominent men and women educators. It is a patriotic book prepared by patriots. They deserve that distinction as people who give their time and labor to the State and ask no reward are certainly patriotic in the extreme. Get a copy of this book, the distribution of which is free, if you want to possess something of true value and helpfulness.

It is permissible to have music with one's meals in a public restaurant in Newton providing the proprietor of the place doesn't supply it, according to a ruling of the City Solicitor. At least I so gather from reading a report of a recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen. It appears that the proprietor may furnish the apparatus but the customers must start it going by dropping a nickel in the slot. Then the Aldermen may not interfere. I have heard music, so called, in a public restaurant which made me want to summon the police, but I never would have thought of appealing to our city fathers.

But this has become a supervisory age and hardly anything may be done publicly or privately that is not subject to a governing body called upon to say yes or no. Such restraint is no doubt good for us here in Newton. Like many Massachusetts residents when we actually want to do loose we take a train for New York or a boat for Bermuda. If one hasn't the money one's behavior is much more exemplary. The same in the case of eating-place music—if you haven't got a nickel things are sure to be more quiet. The difficulty is that there is always someone among the diners who can readily find a five-cent piece. He might better use it to tip the waiter, in my opinion, but I do not wish to be critical so let him start the musical contraption if he must.

It happens that I am one of those people who all their lives had been admonished by devoted relatives and friends, "You shouldn't eat so fast". Nothing makes me eat faster than a mechanical music producer. I cannot say that it is the effect of the melody or the tempo. Whether a waltz or a march or one of the more rapidly moving themes I speed-up and the victrols disappear so rapidly that I myself am astonished. The reason is that there is a race on. I always view those music-boxes with a challenging eye. I wait for it to start. If there is no tune forthcoming I am disappointed. But if a nickel is dropped in the slot and the wheels and chains and other things begin to move and the grinding-out of a selection is started I jump at the food. From then on I strive to see who will finish first.

Newton Federation

A plan of great interest, and most worthwhile, is the announcement in the Club World this week by the Federation which welds together about 4,000 women in the city. It is a plan that should attract the attention of all citizens, and one in which all interested in civic affairs can find a most valuable addition to their knowledge, past and present.

The Newton Federation is preparing to take an active part in the Newton Tercentenary celebration.

That organization, when first invited to undertake a "clean-up campaign" to precede the celebration in June, accepted that invitation cheerfully, and the work is well on its way, under the able direction of Mrs. J. Mace Andrews. Other organizations and civic committees are generously co-operating with the Federation in this effort to make Newton even more than usually attractive to tercentenary visitors.

It is to be hoped that no one man lives in this fair city like that person described in the following lines, quoted from an old report of an Improvement Association:—

"He called for a city beautiful;
He shouted it day by day;
He wanted a City where noise was not,
Where the spirit of art should sway;
He wanted a city that should be fair,
Where filth might never be seen,
And forgot, in spite of the zeal he had,

To keep his back yard clean."
The Federation will also contribute to the Tercentenary an all-Newton exhibit of Creative Arts, and objects of Historic Interest. Mrs. J. Freethy, of Newton Centre, will be general chairman of the Art and Loan Exhibition, which will be held at some time during the general celebration in the Newton Woman's Club House.

There is every reason to believe that very many beautiful works of art will be shown, as well as interesting and valuable possessions of historical interest, from homes of families who have long been residents of Newton. A Loan Exhibition was held in the old Clafin Mansion, in 1907, in connection with a Bazaar which was conducted by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, on the Clafin Estate—then known as "The Old Elms," in Newtonville. A list of pictures, books, furniture, rare lace, jewelry, etc., which were exhibited then, is in the hands of the Tercentenary Art committee, and many of those valuable antiques will be seen again. Also, in 1907, a book was published by the Newton Federation, which was sold at the Bazaar, and by interested men and women throughout the City. The title of the book is "The Mirror of Newton Past and Present."

The cover of the book was designed by Mrs. Charles Copeland, of Newton Centre, a well-known artist.

In the ornamental design around all sides of the cover, are introduced names of the earliest settlers of Newton. "Elliot" holds the first and centre place at the top of the cover, and other names appear in order of their settlement in Newton, reading as the hands of a clock around.

In the centre of the cover is a copy of the Governor Bradford seal. From cover to cover, the book is full of interesting articles, telling of Newton history, churches, clubs, associations, in fact of all Newton interests, social and civic.

The article, "Newton, Town and City," is quite the most authentic and complete history of earlier Newton which has been written. Albert Perry Walker, then of Newtonville, was the author.

While several thousand copies were sold at the time of publication, the enthusiasm of the Mirror committee was so great that a large second edition was published.

Of that edition approximately a thousand copies were left unsold. Those books have been stored in one of the Newton school buildings.

Now, as a third contribution to the Tercentenary proceedings, the remaining copies of "The Mirror of Newton," are to be brought out from their seclusion and sent forth to enrich more of Newton's citizens.

Past presidents of the Federation have formed a committee to distribute the books to the Women's Clubs of Newton for sale. A brief history of outstanding events of the Federation will be brought up-to-date, and a copy added to each of the "Mirrors."

Money received from the sales will be used by the Federation, toward the expense of the various efforts which the Federated Club women are making to assure the success of the Tercentenary celebration.

The books—in paper covers—will be sold for the small price of fifty cents. Every person who purchases a copy of the "Mirror of Newton, Past and Present," will find its possession a real privilege.

Another unusual plan has been formed in celebration of these historic days by a committee of the Newton Federation, which all Clubwomen may enjoy next Tuesday, the 22nd.

At that time, at 2:30 o'clock, the last regular Executive Board Meeting, for the 1929-1930 season of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, will be held in the Library of the Technical High School, Newtonville. Following a short but important business meeting, the Civics committee, under the leadership of the chairman, Mrs. Richard Ott, has planned a tour throughout the Newtons by bus, to all points of historical interest. The bus fare is fifty cents. Those who wish to take advantage of this opportunity to become acquainted with old landmarks of Newton, and also points of local interest of today, may secure reservations for the trip, by writing to Mrs. Richard Ott, 30 Colbert road, West Newton, before April 19th.

This entirely new and unusual feature planned by a chairman should be most interesting.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Annual Meeting will be enjoyed, with Banquet, by the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, April 21st, at Emerson School Kindergarten rooms. Arrangements are in charge of the Executive Board, which promises, as well, an entertainment of special note. They have secured Homans, of Norwood, as the caterer.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, April 25th, at 2:30 p. m. will be held the monthly business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. At 3:00 o'clock the program for the afternoon will be in charge of the Art committee, of which Mrs. William C. Noetzel is chairman. She will present to the Club members, Mr. Gerrett A. Beneker, the well-known artist. Mr. Beneker is a graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago, the Art Student's League of New York, and a pupil of Charles Hawthorne of Provincetown. His work has been exhibited at the National Academy, Art Institute of Chicago, the Pennsylvania Academy, Philadelphia; Corcoran Gallery, Washington; the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh; as well as at other exhibits. Mr. Beneker will illustrate his lecture with slides made not only from his famous war posters, but from his industrial paintings which have been on exhibition since 1919. At the close of the lecture, tea will be served.

The Junior Woman's Club, of which Miss Hannah L. Bond is president, will give a Tea Dance in the Woman's Clubhouse on April 21st, from 4 until 7 o'clock. The tickets are $1.00 for a single person, or $1.50 for a couple.

Members are also reminded of the interesting Bridge Party, planned by Mrs. John F. Capron, with entertainment that will add much to the attractiveness to those who would like to entertain guests, for the 23rd. Play will begin at 2 o'clock, and besides the musical program, in charge of Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, there will be Tea in charge of Miss Elizabeth Bartlett, with Juniors assisting her.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday, April 22nd, at Central Congregational Church. The Luncheon preceding the meeting will be served at 12:30 o'clock, tickets for which may be obtained for $1.00 from Mrs. William B. Hanna, N. N. 4097, not later than April 18th. Club members are urged to attend this meeting so as to get a brief resume of the varied activities of the organization, and to elect the officers for the coming year. The Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Curtis, will sing.

The Garden Club will meet on Thursday, April 24th at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Gilmore, when Mrs. Thomas Stewart will give a paper on "The Arrangement of Color in the Garden."

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday, April 22nd, at 2 p. m. in the Congregational Parish House, draws to a close another successful year of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. At that time the Club activities and accomplishments of the various committees and officers will be given in the annual reports, following the election of the new board of Officers as submitted on the ballot, presented by Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, chairman of the Nominating committee.

A reception and tea, in charge of the Social Hospitality committee, will be a new feature of the Annual Meeting, replacing the former custom of a luncheon. This will follow directly the business session. Mrs. Donald D. McKay and Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard will assist by pouring.

A splendid opportunity is afforded the Club members to extend their appreciation to the retiring Board, and to greet the new officers.

A large attendance is hoped for, to vote on the amendments to the By-Laws. Members should note the change in the hour of meeting, a half hour earlier than the regular meetings.

Social Science Club

The last of the program meetings of the Social Science Club for this year will be held at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, April 23rd, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. William G. Lenox will speak on "Contemporary Music."

Miss Florence L. Heard and Mrs. Clarence C. Smith will be hostesses.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodrich, chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources, will broadcast "Sign Posts," from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, April 23rd, at 11:30 o'clock. Alice Allen Drayton, of Belmont, former chairman of Music of the Massachusetts State Federation, will be on the air at 11:40 with a twenty minute piano recital.

CHORAL CONCERT AND DANCE. Miss Mabel W. Daniels, gifted Boston composer, will be honor guest and artist at the concert and dance to be given by the Choral Society of the State Federation on Saturday evening, April 26th, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Boston. A reception will be held in her honor.

Miss Daniels will accompany the chorus, in a short group of her compositions for women's voices, featuring "Through the Dark the Dreamers Came," words of which were written by Professor Earl Marlatt, president of Boston Browning Society, and first sung a year ago by the Choral Art Society of Philadelphia. Dr. H. A. Matthews, director, was so impressed with this number that he had Miss Daniels arrange it for mixed voices.

The music was written by Miss Daniels during her stay at the Macdowell Colony, Peterborough, New Hampshire, in 1928 and 1929. New laurels were won by Miss Daniels, last June, when her chorus hymn was sung by the combined choruses of the Harvard Glee Club and of Radcliffe.

George Sawyer Dunham, conductor of the Choral Society, is preparing, with Dorothy Clements Evans, accompanist, the colorful cantata, "A Legend of Granada," music by Henry Hadley, and words by Ethel Watts Mumford. Baritone solos will be sung by the well-known baritone, Henry Jackson Warren, who will also contribute a group of songs. The chorus will also render a group of German art folk songs and a short modern group.

Tickets at $1.00 each may be obtained from any of the 50 members at Federation Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, or from Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, East Weymouth, Mass.

Music for dancing will be rendered by the Stanek Trio. The dance following the concert is planned to round out the entire evening, enhancing the social side of the society, which will adjourn at this time to resume rehearsals again at the Copley-Plaza in October, to prepare their next concert to be held there, January 31, 1931.

New members are always welcome, according to the president, Mrs. Benjamin Derby, and the business manager, Mrs. May Fiske Hoffman, and may join at any time through members of the society, or of the State Federation Music chairman, Mrs. Amy Young Burns, or any members of her committee. Rehearsals are held every Friday morning in the Swiss Room of the Copley-Plaza, at 10:30 o'clock, from the last Friday in October until the last Friday in April. Annual dues are $2.00. Their aim is "Club Harmony through Song."

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

An interesting program was presented by Lois Wilson, a member of the Rice Players, before the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday last. Elinor Vaughan, daughter of a member, opened the program with two piano solos which were well received. Miss Wilson's portrayal of "The Little Countess" was excellent and most enjoyed. This was followed by "The Highwayman." She, then, gave a brief but very entertaining dramatic interpretation of "The Taming of the Shrew." Miss Vaughan entertained with "Camille" and "King's Jester" by Harry Adams. These pieces showed to advantage her excellent fingering. Miss Wilson's "A Modernistic Art Exhibit" was most amusing. She gave an encore "The Penitent." The two vice-presidents, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay and Mrs. Clarence Glazier, sponsored this excellent program. Tea and a social hour followed.

Newton Community Club

At the meeting of the Newton Community Club on Thursday, April 11th, in Underwood School Hall, the president, Mrs. Henry P. Curtis, after several coming events were announced, presented Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., of Newton Centre, who appealed to Newton Clubwomen to show greater interest concerning the Tercentenary Celebration which will soon be at its height. She felt that all did not understand the need of united effort to make the Newton celebration, which takes place the first week in June, a memorable one. The program to be given at the Newton Centre playground, on three evenings, was written by Rev. Chester Drummond, a Newton pastor, a fact that should increase interest and pride among Newton people. She asked that all unite in enthusiasm, support, and appreciation.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Sunder Joshi who comes of a long line of Hindu ancestors, with all the advantages of modern higher education. Through his heredity and his contacts, he was well able to present his subject "India—Yesterday and Tomorrow," from a viewpoint which the average person is unable to realize, until presented by one who has his information. The fundamental problems, such as the Caste systems and suppressed conditions of Womanhood, dating back many, many centuries, must be taken into consideration as greatly influencing the past, present, and future. Among the points he stressed were the following: the variety and changes in religion, including Brahmanism, Mohammedanism, Buddhism, and Christianity, each having great numbers of followers, add to these international and class questions. The leadership of Mr. Gandhi in the last few years has been of great importance, and while he appears now to be a revolutionist leader, he previously was a loyalist. The pressure of the younger followers forced this change, due to dissatisfaction in the way in which England is considering the question of their being qualified to govern themselves. The Oriental contends that religion and politics must go hand in hand, and that it is not creed which the world needs, most, but a combination of truth, beauty, and goodness.

Mr. Joshi closed with the thought that one might be a good Hindu, Buddhist, or Mohammedan, and still be at heart a Christian by right living and by right thinking.

Tea was served by the Social committee of which Mrs. John Nolan is chairman.

Auburndale Review Club

A change in the meeting place of the Auburndale Review Club last Tuesday morning, enabled a large number of friends, as well as members, to come to the meeting at the Congregational Chapel to enjoy an illustrated lecture, given in costume, by the daughter of one of the members, Miss Alice Cary, telling in interested hearers of Japan from close personal knowledge. Clad in a wonderfully embroidered kimono, patterned after one of five of a wedding outfit of a Samura friend of the speaker, Miss Cary explained the meaning of each of the figures and flower patterns, the value of the belt, and the beauty and use of the handkerchief, of huge size, carried always to wrap up any kind of bundle, even a book or magazine. And since a hostess entertaining must change her kimono every hour to add variety and color to the occasion, the necessity of such garments becomes apparent.

The delicately-colored pictures showed Mt. Fuji in all its charm; gave interiors of homes, with explanations of the elaborate ceremonials of calling; showed the Eastern idea of decorating, in contrast to ours—only one picture, and the exact centre never preserved; told of the great importance of correctly arranging flowers, years being devoted to the acquirement of this one art; and presented gardens of rare beauty; here again the art of learning artistic gardening requiring years of study. Views of temples were also given, with explanations of the two chief religions of Japan; and the final glimpse of Fuji made all listeners feel as if they had been truly transported for a brief time to the wonderful land of the Orient.

A piano duet, a March, by Lechner, played by Mrs. Nelson Freeman and Mrs. Franklin E. Leland, before the regular program began, was a most enjoyable feature of the morning.

The Lasell Glee Club goes to Brockton today to hear Dubois' "Seven Last Words" sung by the Brockton Art and Choral Society at the Brockton Theatre. The Chorus which is under the direction of George Sawyer Dunham will be assisted by Ruth Rodgers, Soprano, Dan Gridley, Tenor, Jerome Swinford, Baritone, and accompanied by the Boston Orchestra players.

On Easter Sunday Rev. Douglas Horton of Brookline will be the vesper speaker. Easter music will be sung by the Lasell Glee Club.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Annual Spring Rally, held in the gymnasium of the Newton High School on Saturday afternoon, April 12th, was a great success.

After a very effective opening, when the American flags from all troops formed an aisle through which came the Council Color Guard, special awards were made. Mrs. Raymond R. Collins, Deputy Commissioner for Newton, awarded Letters of Commendation to the following girls: Barbara Crowe, Troop 13; Barbara Livermore, Troop 15; Mary Alice Eaton, Troop 15; Jeanette Houghton, Troop 20; Mary Carrick, Troop 21; Alice Gallagher, Troop 21; Betty Cudworth, Troop 21. Then Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, Commissioner for Metropolitan Division, presented the Golden Eagle to Constance Rechel, Troop 19.

Newton's three Brownie Packs put on a short demonstration, singing their songs, and repeating the Promise. Law, and Scout. The Nominating Pack gave a brief play based on the Brownie story, which told the audience that the Brownie is "a merry, useful, little creature, rather like a little person."

Competitions were keen, of course. For the Junior Troops, Compass was won by Troop 23, Newton Centre, with Troop 11, Newton Highlands, second; in Observation, Troop 25, West Newton, came first, and Troop 19, Newton Lower Falls, second; the Obstacle Relay was also won by Troop 25, with Troop 19 second. The Senior Competitions were won by Troop 15 in Measurements, with Troop 14 second, and the Signalling by Troop 21, Newton Highlands, with Troop 14, Waban, second. The Junior Events were won by Troop 25, West Newton, and the Senior by Troop 14, Waban. Miss Caroline L. Freeman is Captain of Troop 25, and Mrs. James R. Warren, of Troop 14.

Both the Newton Corps, with Mary Carrick as Drum Major, and the Mid-Get Corps with Virginia Lichtner as Drum Major, played very well. The Bugling Cup was won by Lt. Virginia Brown, of Troop 20, Newton, and the Drumming Cup by Roxanna Martin, also of Troop 20. The Junior Ribbon for Bugling was won by Edith Pratt of Troop 26, Newton Highlands, and the Drumming by Betty Stephen of Troop 24, Waban.

Five Year Stripes were awarded by Miss Freeman to three Council members, Mrs. Stanley Bolster, Mrs. Clinton Tylee, and Miss Louise Lovett. The following girls also received them: Lt. Margaret Kilburn, Troop 19; Frances Place, Charlotte Stearns, Troop 15; Helen Raudlett, Troop 13; Elizabeth Adams, Troop 14; Ann Cummings, Lillian Deans, Troop 20; Lucy Batey, Priscilla Sawyer, Mary Herlihy, Troop 17; Captain, Eleanor Hall, Troop 22; Connie Marcy, Elizabeth Kerr, Virginia Ewart, Elizabeth Hovey, and Josephine Turnbull, Troop 21.

Merit Badges were then awarded by Mrs. K. K. Carrick, Secretary of the Court of Awards; 459 Merit Badges were awarded to 254 Scouts, almost twice as many badges as last year. Mrs. Bolster then presented the Rally awards, and Mrs. Redfield, the cups for Bugling and Drumming. Taps was played and the troops were dismissed.

On Saturday there will be a golf tournament for men all day. There will also be Club Mixed Foursomes in the afternoon. All the regular greens are open for play.

Jamboree Motion Pictures

The National Council motion pictures, with a reel or two of the pictures of the Norumbega Council Troop, of the International Jamboree held in England last summer, will be shown at the Court of Honor to be held at the Levi Warren Junior High School on Friday evening, April 25th, at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited to attend. The Court, as usual, will be in charge of the Eagle Circle. All are welcome to the Court.

The last Court of Honor of the season of Spring, 1930, will be held at the Mason School, Newton Centre, on May 27th.

Starting next fall, the new plan of having the Second Class and Merit Badges awarded in the Troops will go into effect. It is hoped that this change will provide for programs for Parents' Nights, joint meetings of Troops in the various villages and enhance a more general understanding of Scouting.

What the Communists Say

The official organ of the Young Pioneers, the junior Communist organization in this country, has been received at the Norumbega Council Headquarters. General distribution of it has been made in one village, at the request of the Scout Committee Chairman. The leaflet speaks in most inflammatory terms against the Boy Scout Movement and indicates complete ignorance of the program and purpose of the Scouts. Copies have been made and are on display at the Council Headquarters, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville. The matter has been referred to the National Council for action.

Board of Scout Examinations

One of the most essential features requisite to successful Scouting is the maintaining of high standards in passing tests. With this work in 2nd and 1st Class requirements the Board of Scout Examinations is entrusted. Its staff is composed of experts in First Aid, signaling, map making and reading, who fully appreciate Scouting and require that the Scouts who appear before them for testing meet high standards.

The efficient Director of the Board is Deputy Commissioner Ralph B. Emery. Last Friday the following Scouts appeared and passed before the staff of the Board: 2nd Class First Aid, W. Michael, Troop 11, Newton; A. Ashton, Troop 14, Upper Falls; 2nd Class signaling, Troop 1, Newtonville; Alan Watts, Troop 4A, Highlands; R. Lanphier, Troop 11, Newton; W. Michael, Corbin Clark, Vicot Cutter; Bruce Cummings; Troop 14, Upper Falls; Vaughan Shedd, Albert Ashton; Troop 15, Auburndale; R. Noone, 1st Class First Aid, Troop 11, Newton; William Peterson, Richard Fraser; Troop 18, Centre; Philip Smith, 1st Class Signaling, Edward Abbe, Troop 21, Centre; Map making and reading, 14 mile hike, Edward Abbe and Robert Roche, Troop 21, Centre.

Examiners were: Messrs. R. C. Smith, 2nd Class First Aid; C. F. Liscomb, 1st Class First Aid; Signaling, R. E. Ashley; Map making and reading and 14 mile hike, E. J. Weaver.

At the Nobscot Reservation

The Sanitary Engineer of the Camp Committee, Mr. E. Sherman Chase, has recently made tests of the drinking water supplies at the Reservation and pronounced them almost sterile. Mr. Chase and also Mr. Gillespie, who is a sanitary chemist as well as Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Centre, states that the Council is extremely careful in the care of its water supplies at the Reservation. Of the three approved new wells, one has already been completed and tiled in. It promises a plentiful supply of cold pure water. A second well is in process of digging and will probably require dynamite and the third will be started during the coming week.

In addition these wells will supply additional safety for fire protection which is being developed at the Reservation. Areas are being cleared around each cabin, all chimneys are being screened; no gasoline lanterns or oil stoves are allowed on the Reservation; only electric torches may be carried through the woods in the dry season; twelve fire pump tanks have been purchased, in addition to present Council and Troop equipment.

Conservation Day will be observed at the Reservation on Saturday, May 10th, when hundreds of red and white pine, spruce and hemlock will be set out. In addition several dozen berry-bearing shrubs and trees will be planted to provide winter food for the birds.

Mr. R. P. Alvord has made a camping gift to the Council of tent, double cot, cooking kit, stove and a small sleeping tent.

May 10th, Troop 5, Centre is holding Open House Day at the Clark Alvord Memorial Cabin, its home on the Reservation. Invitations are being sent out by the Troop Committee, Mr. A. F. Noble, Chairman.

A fire alarm system is to be installed at the Nobscot Reservation, to summon all Scouts and Scouts, when they are there, to a central point in case of fire. The "system" will consist of an old type fire bell which now hangs in the old fire station tower in Nobscot Village, which is a part of the town of Framingham. The Selectmen of that town have very kindly loaned the Norumbega Council the bell for use at the Reservation. It is to be erected in a thirty-five foot signal tower which is now being erected by Troop 5, Newton Centre and will be approximately within 1,500 feet, cross country of almost every cabin on the Reservation. There will be a general alarm and that will be followed by a "station" number, and everyone will then report to that station prepared to fight fire.

The Adirondack log-shelter which has been built near the entrance has been completed and everything in the line of equipment has been moved to it from Monson Lodge, the gate lodge given by Captain and Mrs. Frank L. Nagle. The Lodge will now be used as a reception place for parents and guests at the Reservation. In it, among other things, such as the Indian collection which was taken to the Jamboree by the Norumbega Troop, will be placed the relief map of the Reservation which was made by the Scouts of Troop 5, Centre and displayed at the Merit Badge Exposition last February. This map will have all trails and roads in the Reservation marked on it, that visitors looking at it and the topographical map of the Reservation placed above it will readily be able to find their way about.

Another new cabin will appear on the Reservation within the next few days, for Troop 20 Newton Centre has ordered a log cabin like several others on the Reservation. Last week-end, Scouts of that Troop with Committee Chairman, Clifton, were in the cabin site, digging post-holes for foundation posts, according to the layout made by Troop Committeeman L. Lee Street.

Next Leaders' Meeting

The next meeting of the leaders of Norumbega Council will be held in Newton Centre on Wednesday, April 23rd. At this meeting the sub-committee of the Leadership and Training Council has been secured by the Council Leadership and Training Committee, Mr. G. D. Marcy, Chairman, through the courtesy of Mr. R. S. Hale, Chairman of the New England Boy Scout Camp Committee.

The following Newton women are assisting the New England Medical Center in its campaign to raise one million and a half. Mrs. Joseph C. Allen, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Frederick L. Blodgett, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, Mrs. James Liddell, Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow, Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, Mrs. Herbert C. Muther, Mrs. George J. The Council Camporee

This is really an inter-Troop camping contest on a Patrol basis. The information for the Camporee has been issued to the Troops. Most Troops of the Council are planning to send their best camping Patrol to compete—the Camporee will be held at the Nobscot Reservation from 5 o'clock on Friday, May 23rd to 5 o'clock Saturday, May 24th. Awards to winners will be made in the new amphitheatre at 3:30 on the 24th.

Summer Camp

Announcement of the Council's summer camp will be made within the next week or ten days. Norumbega Council, owing to the successful experience of last year with the Cape Cod Council, will again combine with that Council. The staff will be, from Norumbega, L. A. Bruce, Jr., Camp Director; Richard Schroeder, Robert Spilman, Arnold Seligman and Malcolm Whitney.

Troop News

On Monday evening last Troop 4B, Highlands, Dana Sylvester, Scoutmaster, was guest of Troop 15, Auburndale, Arthur L. Shaw, Scoutmaster, at the latter's meeting place in the Burr School. The program included game and Scouting competition and a brief talk on Aviation by Mr. Harvey Law.

Troop 4A, Highlands, Frank E. Lichtenhaeler, Scoutmaster, is planning a trip to Mount Monadnock over the week-end of April 19th with some of the older Scouts. During the school vacation, Mr. Lichtenhaeler is planning to take a small group on a canoe trip up the Sudbury River, exploring the tributaries and camping along the river bank during the journey of exploration.

The Highland Scout Committee held

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Mrs. Henry W. Newhall, vice-president at the meeting held in the chapter house Monday, April 14th. She referred to the absence of the regent, Mrs. L. H. Howe who was in attendance at the Continental Congress in Washington. The chaplain, Mrs. A. D. Salinger, read the tercentenary hymn, the salute to the flag was given and the American Creed was recited in concert. Officers and chairmen were called on for reports. It was gratifying to learn from the treasurer, Miss Pearson, that bills had been paid and a small balance left in the treasury. The rummage sale had netted $92.00. There will be some further expenses during the summer and members are requested to support loyally the bridge party to be held April 29th. In behalf of the house committee, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, chairman, the members were invited to serve as hostesses during the first week in June when the chapter will hold open house. Any who are skilled in spinning or weaving will be especially welcome and it was suggested that the wearing of the ancient frocks of their grandmothers would lend atmosphere of old times. The first week in May the chapter will be hostesses at the tercentenary headquarters in the Ticknor Mansion, in the D. A. R. rooms. A fee of $3.00 entitles to membership in the Tercentenary Association and provides ample programs of the events.

As chairman of Better Films, Mrs. John W. Byers recommended grade films. Mrs. Smyth, in discussing "World Affairs," referred to the achievements of the Naval Conference. Although disappointing in its results much has been accomplished which should not be overlooked. International friendliness has been strengthened, savings through postponement of building of battle-ships are of great economic value, and acceptance of rules of war means advance. On the moral side may be noted the heartening demonstration of international discussion, and the tacit understanding between England and America, a safeguard of world peace. Reference was made to the death of Mrs. George P. Bullard, for many years a member, and in her memory the audience rose and stood in silence.

Over the piano hangs a flag framed in wood from Australia, and Mrs. W. O. Hunt told the story of the flag maker, her aunt Mrs. Joseph Lowe (Sarah Elizabeth Gerry). The son is Dr. Fred M. Lowe, whose wife is a member of the chapter. Those were stirring days when the Lowes moved from Fitchburg to Lawrence, Kansas. They were among the "Free Soilers" who underwent countless hardships in their zeal for abolition and their efforts to make Kansas a free state. Guerrilla warfare with its brutalities took its toll and in a raid in the early morning 200 victims were killed, houses burned and cruelties perpetrated. Little Fred Lowe fearlessly sang John Brown's Body in the presence of the marauders. The mayor and servants took refuge in a well but burning embers caused their death. In an effort to rescue them Joseph Lowe was also entombed there. From her aunt, Mrs. Hunt had learned much of the pioneer days and she had interesting pictures to show, including the manning of Lawrence, Kansas, which commemorates the bravery of Joseph Lowe. Mrs. Hunt wore a beautiful pendant and bracelet, formerly the possession of her aunt.

Local history relating to Timothy Jackson, brother of Lucy Jackson, was narrated in an article written by Miss Barbara Keitt, a descendant, read by Mrs. A. D. Salinger. Relatives of the Jacksons were present. Mrs. Hatch and her daughter, Mrs. William Tower. This story told of adventures by land and sea, narrow escapes and unflinching courage. Also the part Timothy Jackson had in the founding of Newton in his later years. The beautiful home on Washington street keeps his memory fresh and contains much that is reminiscent of those early days.

Miss Jordan represented the chapter at a state conference in Ohio and told of that gathering where Miami University was hostess. Fred served, Miss Nella Pearson and Mrs. Henry W. Newhall presiding.

ASSISTING N. E. MEDICAL CAMPAIGN

The following Newton women are assisting the New England Medical Center in its campaign to raise one million and a half. Mrs. Joseph C. Allen, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Frederick L. Blodgett, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, Mrs. James Liddell, Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow, Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, Mrs. Herbert C. Muther, Mrs. George J. Murphy, Miss Harriet Norton, Mrs. Smith Peterson, Mrs. Donald R. Rust, Mrs. Frank Scofield, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. John C. Taber, Mrs. William P. Underhill, Mrs. E. F. Wetmore, Mrs. Everett C. Winslow, Mrs. Allen S. White.

Stewards All!

All we have, all we can rightly get and use, all we are or can become, must be held as a sacred trust, and devoted as a willing offering. The very wit or skill by which we acquire and manage our small resources is itself a heavenly gift for earthly uses.—Rev. C. G. Ames.

their regular monthly meeting, as usual, at the Troop Cabin on the Nobscot Reservation. Mr. Harry Forte cooked dinner and there followed a business and yarns session around the camp fire.

Troop 14, Upper Falls, Herbert Kestle, Scoutmaster, gave a demonstration before the Newton Post of the American Legion on Thursday evening, April 17th. The program included the opening and closing ceremonies; an excellent demonstration of first aid by Scouts of the Troop trained by Committee Chairman Harry Young; Red Cross First Aid certificate; games and an exhibition of the characteristics of electricity by Eagle Scout Arnold Seligman.

Troops of Norumbega Council are requested to send news items for this column to Council Headquarters.

By Edw. H. Powers

Two weeks ago the GRAPHIC told that in the future streets in Newton would be repaired by the "cold patch" method. This prediction came true with the beginning of the hot spell last Monday. To lessen the nuisance as much as possible the Street Department should use all its resources in spreading sand and crushed stone on the tarred streets.

A Boston paper last week had a news item containing a couple of hundred words about a carrier pigeon which had fallen exhausted in Lynn. A large percentage of humans go through life without getting this much publicity. It is also true that many pigeons don't get into the newspapers. Apparently news values are peculiarly determined. A few babies have been scratched while parked in baby carriages at Newton Corner last week. Boston papers printed columns and columns about this matter. But, when a child is killed by an automobile in Newton, or elsewhere, usually newspaper accounts of such a fatality are limited to a few lines. Of course by automobile accidents have become commonplace. It is unusual for babies to have their faces scratched. This happening will make many Newton mothers quite concerned about their babies—for a few weeks anyway.

A resident of Newton Corner has asked us to comment on the peculiar manner in which some persons "clean up" their yards. Their idea of "cleaning up" is to rake the litter and debris on their premises behind a garage or up against a neighbor's property, where it will be out of sight of the "Cleaner" but in plain view of the neighbor. This same person also suggested that school children in Newton should be instructed not to pull papers or other waste out of rubbish barrels to have such stuff blown about over neighboring lawns.

Regular patrolmen on the Newton police force must serve over four years before they commence to receive the present maximum rate of salary of $2400. This fact makes it rather difficult to allow a patrolman who has been but three years on the department to take the examination for sergeant. A sergeant's salary is $2500 per annum.

Monday Judge Arthur Beane of the Middlesex Probate Court granted the petition of Mayor Weeks to be allowed to drop his first name. The Mayor was christened Charles Sinclair Weeks but he has been, since childhood, commonly called Sinclair. As the Mayor must sign many documents, it will be quite a saving of time and trouble to be freed from the bother of writing "C" before Sinclair on each signature.

On October 15, 1888, Frederick C. Morgan began his duties as a letter-carrier at the Newton postoffice. Free delivery of mail had been instituted at the Newton postoffice a few days previously with four letter-carriers employed but it was found that another route was necessary and Mr. Morgan was appointed. Next Tuesday, April 22nd, he will make his last trips as a member of the United States postal service. For more than 41 years Fred has been plodding over the hilly section of Newton Corner delivering letters, papers and magazines to residents of that section. When he first began this work, and for many years following, his route commenced at the corner of Vernon and Centre streets and included Nonantum, Farlow and Skinner hills and the Centre street district from Hyde avenue southerly.

A very little man, weighing less than 115 pounds, Fred regularly toted loads of mail that equalled his weight. During the more than 41 years of service he was absent from duty less than 30 days because of sickness. For a number of years he might have taken advantage of 10 days' sick leave each year but he seemed to thrive on hard work and stuck to it.

Four years ago, Mr. Morgan, having attained the age of 65, could have retired on pension. But he was far from superannuated and was given an extension to continue in active duty. He has served two generations of Newton people faithfully and his hundreds of friends will wish him many years of happiness after his long, arduous labors.

Mr. Morgan is the last of the original force of carriers appointed by George H. Morgan who was postmaster in Newton in 1888. The other four postmen were James Dunn, J. Isaac Farwell, Peter Mullen and George Walker. Mr. Walker resigned from the service many years ago and moved to New York. Mr. Farwell, who subsequently became superintendent of the Newton postoffice, died a couple of years ago. Mr. Dunn and Mr. Mullen died within the past year. They retired from the postal service some years past.

Newton Corner has changed considerably since Fred Morgan began to deliver mail. The old generation which then resided on Farlow Hill and Skinner land has passed on, their large estates have been subdivided. Forty years ago the only dwellings on Nonantum Hill within the Newton limits were the residence of J. S. Farlow, two cottages on the estate, and the houses of Mr. Bowman and Dr. Hill which were located about where the Country Day School now stands.

Many persons are expounding original ideas lately. Professor Einstein, Professor Rogers, scientists, who proposed to shoot rockets towards the moon, and other "what if" inventions. Here is another original idea, occasioned by the gushing oil well which raised havoc down at Oklahoma. From this well it was estimated that 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas escaped each day. From hundreds of other wells throughout this country tremendous quantities of gas have been belching during the many years since man has started to tamper with the "innards" of the earth in his quest for oil. No scientist, regardless of how erudite he may be, knows just what is going on way down inside this sphere, or the complete whys and wherefores of this planet's internal regions. Supposing all this gas has been stored inside the earth under terrific pressure to help keep this old world buoyant in space? If this is the case, and man continues to interfere with cosmic conditions as they were created, this earth may start to hurtle chaotically through space—and then where will we be?

And while we are indulging in such deep deductions, let us suppose that the enormous volume of oil being extracted from the intestines of the earth was stored down there for the purpose of lubricating the earth as it revolves on its axis. The removal of this lubricant from where it was stored may cause the earth's axis to become so hot that all the volcanoes will raise ructions and things will go awry. Admiral Byrd didn't observe anything at the poles to indicate that the earth operates in such a fashion—so we vary too much over these thoughts. In fact, we hope the supply of oil continues so that gasoline will not cost us more than 18-10c per gallon.

A well known citizen of Newton Corner informed us yesterday that he is thinking of donating a small can of green enamel to have the front door of the Newton postoffice painted.

Recently in Boston newspapers was a statement attributed to Alderman Gallagher to the effect that on Monday, April 7th, in the Newton District Court were 27 Newton policemen appearing as complainants against autoists who failed to STOP before entering Washington street. It was alleged that most of these policemen were day patrolmen, according to some of the newspaper accounts, who prefer to waste their time in court rather than patrol their routes. Police officials and Clerk of Court Sprague state that on April 7th only two members of the day police force, Patrolman McNeil and Motorcycle Officer Hammill were in court to appear against autoists who violated the STOP law. The great majority of autoists summoned into court for violating automobile laws are complained of by policemen and traffic officers on night tours of duty. These policemen appear in court during day hours which ordinarily they are supposed to have to themselves. When a day patrolman or traffic officer appears as complainant, the Clerk of Court endeavors to have his cases tried first to permit the officer to return to his route.

We agree with Alderman Gallagher that non-residents of Newton should not be hailed into court the first time they fail to obey the STOP signals at Washington street, unless they obviously disregard the signals. But, Newton residents who ignore the STOP signals should be shown that they cannot treat with contempt traffic regulations made to lessen hazards on the highways.

NEWTON GIRLS' CLUB

At the last meeting of the Newton Girls' Club the officers elected were: Catherine Rosetta, Treasurer; Helen Garry, Asst. Treasurer; Agnes McGrath, Recording Secretary and Rose Burke, Corresponding Secretary. Rehearsals for the annual play to be given on May 13 and 14 are now being held under the direction of Miss Dolly Morrison.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Twenty Junior Endeavorers of Norumbega Union attended the Middlesex County Convention held in Natick last Saturday afternoon. These young people were accompanied by Miss Rose Delaney and Mrs. Dorothy Colby, Junior Superintendents. A Bible contest was held, one for the boys and one for the girls, the winners being from the Highland Congregational Church, Somerville, and Park Street Baptist Church, Framingham, respectively. In the eliminations, Joseph Bradbury was the winner. Special piano solos were rendered by a young Junior from Sagamore Union. An interesting object talk was given by "Uncle Charlie," a well-known writer of children's stories. He presented each Junior with a small celluloid anchor, representing the object of his talk, "Faith."

The annual sunrise service under the auspices of the Norumbega C. E. Union will be held Sunday morning at 6 a. m., off Trapelo road just above Waverley Oaks Reservation. The Easter message will be brought by Rev. Harry Upton, pastor of the Waverley Baptist Church. In case of rain this service will be held in the Waverley Congregational Church, Waverley Square.

The regular Christian Endeavor meeting at the Newton North Congregational Church will be omitted this Sunday owing to the Easter pageant at 4 p. m.

Last Sunday fourteen young people of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church pledged themselves to support the new Young People's Society now in the process of organization at that church. This meeting was under the direction of Edward M. Simpson, president of Norumbega Union, and Walter Upton, vice-president. Owing to the Easter pageant next Sunday, the election of officers will be held on Sunday, April 27.

Next Sunday at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, Rev. John S. Franklin will give an illustrated message to the Endeavorers. Among those will be Hoffman's "Christ in Gethsemane," Harrach's "Peter's Denial," Munkacsy's "Christ Before Pilate," and Ender's "Holy Women at the Tomb."

WELFARE CONFERENCE

The conference on Welfare Problems met at Aug-del-Mar Coffee Shop, Newtonville, on April 9th. Mrs. Louis Marshall, chairman of the conference, placed the meeting in the hands of Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Chairman of the Newton Board of Health. Dr. Curtis had chosen as the subject of the meeting, "The Duties and Powers of a Local Board of Health." He feels that the average citizen, while he is much interested in public health questions, knows very little about the actual working of his local Board of Health. The board of health is often forced to speak in the imperative mood and the lay person is apt to forget that it is primarily a protective organization. In order that the true purpose of the Newton Board of Health may be more fully understood Dr. Curtis chose as the speaker for this meeting a man who has been in municipal and state public health work for many years, Dr. Clarence L. Scamman, Director of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases of the Department of Public Health of Massachusetts.

Dr. Scamman emphasized in his talk the fact that any local board of health in Massachusetts has more power than any governmental agent and that as far as health is concerned the State Department acts only in an advisory capacity. The local board has power over the food and water supply, bakeries, and reasonable health regulations. Nuisances, which generally have no connection with the health of the community, take a great deal of a board's time, and it is often necessary to remove dead cats, barking dogs and crowing roosters to satisfy the general public. There are many complaints from people who feel that communicable diseases are not being properly isolated, but if they would only investigate further, they would find that all possible precautions are being taken.

Newton is an unusual community with a residential group of intelligent citizens interested in public health. Health Education in the schools under Miss Bragg is unique in Newton and it helps to educate the parents as well as the children. From the point of view of efficiency it should be the function of the Board of Health to carry on the health work in the schools, although much depends on the quality of the individual doing the work.

The duties of the board of health will be those which in the opinion of the board and its chairman are necessary, regardless of statutes. Ninety-nine per cent of effective health work is done not because of the law but in spite of it. The good health officer does not depend on the law to enforce his will, for if he does he only succeeds in making himself very unpopular without accomplishing anything constructive.

Every good board of health should show a definite program, should be interested in specific problems which face the community and should be doing every year one or two real pieces of work. No new untried ideas should be attempted for it is the public money which is being used; but some voluntary organization should do the experimental work.

For many reasons Newton stands very high in the care of contagious diseases. Isolation is very strict and if home care means the isolation of other members of the family, hospitalization is insisted upon. There have been no deaths in Newton from diphtheria since 1925 and from scarlet fever since 1926 according to the Journal of the American Public Health Association. Statistics taken in seven cities of the size of Newton over a period of ten years show greatly to the advantage of Newton. There have been one-half as many deaths from scarlet fever and whooping cough as in any of the other six mentioned, and the death rate from measles and diphtheria compare very favorably as well. There are several reasons for this. In the first place, Dr. Curtis works in harmony with the medical profession in Newton; and for this reason and also because Newton physicians as a group are above the average of those in the other six cities, they are very faithful about reporting all cases of contagious disease promptly. In the second place, there is an active campaign of diphtheria

THE OTHER SIDE

To the Editor:— Since living in West Newton, I have been an interested student of the motion picture controversy.

To date it is a running sore, gaining momentum, even in exclusive circles. Poisoning or restraining the natural, friendly intercourse of neighbors, driving church members to guarded non-committal, or open rebellion, subjecting minority club-members to frigid aloofness, undermining legitimate business enterprise. Slowly but surely, the righteous indignation of common people, against the self-styled "bad elements," called by the opposition from all parts of the community, after the mayor's first poll went overwhelmingly against them, is rising. Why?

Because of a handful of citizens in various church, school, guild and club groups have substituted theocracy and bureaucracy for democracy.

Mrs. Cowin in her letter to the editor last week draws attention to criticism of the mayor's first poll as an unfair presentation of the matter, due to the fact that the cards bear the names of three well known citizens.

To the automatic mind, mention of a few patrons may appear as a sop sufficient to influence unduly, not alone the proletariat, but every sixth voter in West Newton.

Last week's correspondent states we are only just beginning to realize there could be no local censorship.

Is anyone alarmed because none of our self-appointed village guardians are sure of a seat on the Massachusetts State Board of Censorship?

What minister is afraid his church may become a white elephant, simply because there are moving pictures within reach?

From an architectural viewpoint—Is the obliteration of rat infested players hall too sad a passing to be borne?

Is the erection of a well constructed, well designed new building, involving the employment of hard pressed workers in hard times, a purely speculative gain, as the opposition asserts?

Consider those who differ with the opposition, those who arm a part of the great moving picture education of the country, are they the undesirable element referred to?

Does the opposition really hold their interests, their welfare dearer than we do ourselves?

MINERVA WADDELL.

Hard to Surprise Bunny

Rabbits, crouched in their forms in the snow, need not have two faces to see in every direction. Their eyes are placed on the sides of their heads, so that they can see in practically all directions.

Immunization being conducted in the schools of Newton at the present time and this campaign, together with the very excellent health education program, should lessen the number of cases each year.

In conclusion, Dr. Scamman wished to impress upon the public the fact that "You have in your board of health just what you want and what you deserve." It is the duty of every citizen who is not satisfied to go to the board of health and tell them what he wishes to have done. It is not fair to run around talking about what the board of health should do—tell them.

Dr. Curtis asked that the conference believe that he had no idea of asking for praise for Newton when he invited Dr. Scamman to speak. He feels certain that the ideal situation in the Newton schools is due to the fact that the School Department and the Health Department work absolutely in harmony and much credit for the success of the diphtheria immunization program is due to the fact that the teachers have persuaded the parents to accept the idea. Last year 332 children were immunized and this year, in the kindergarten and first grade alone, the number is 408.

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather spoke on "The Resources of Mankind" last Sunday morning at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the seventh lecture in the series on "The Trend in Science."

Mankind has four resources:

1. External resources which are measurable.
2. External resources which are non-measurable.
3. Internal resources which are measurable.
4. Internal resources which are non-measurable.

For untold millions of years man will continue to live on the earth, but 10,000 years are about all that we can definitely plan for in any very intelligent way.

In making plans for the future it is necessary to consider the available resources which are calculated to make life more comfortable. Our resources determine our outlook for the future as well as our ideals, ideas, philosophy, and religion.

Upon what can man depend? What may he work with?

The external resources are the things in the world outside of man.

The internal resources are the capacities, abilities, and strength of man.

In both categories we find some resources that are measurable and some that are non-measurable or spiritual. These latter relate to value as distinguished from mass, quality rather than quantity.

The measurable, external resources are the best known. They have been the most completely surveyed. First come the raw materials, the minerals, ores, and metals. Man has used these since the beginning of the Old Stone Age. Man has surprising ingenuity.

When one source of supply approaches exhaustion, we find more of the same somewhere else, or we discover a substitute. Our entire industrial civilization depends on the iron ores of the Lake Superior region. These will be entirely exhausted in one and one-half centuries. Other sources have already been discovered, and other metals will undoubtedly replace iron before the iron is all used up.

There is no fear of our running out of mineral resources. Many of them can be used over and over again. Man's ingenuity is the only limit to the possible use of these resources.

Besides the minerals we have energy resources. All energy comes from the sun. Coal and oil are the released energy stored in the earth's crust by the sun in past ages. Water power is renewable energy. The sun lifts the drops of water from the ocean by evaporation, clouds collect, the rain falls, and the water, in running off, produces power. The store of coal dwindles. Eventually all of this stored energy will be exhausted.

Water power does not use up the stores of the past. However, there is not enough of this water power. If all the water power available in the United States were harnessed in the most efficient manner, with no regard to scenic beauty, not enough power could be developed to turn the machines that are being turned right now, to say nothing of the increase in demand for power in the future. So we must have more power, and we must find the material to produce it.

We shall have to depend on something besides running water. Probably all the possible water power in the world would just about cover the needs of the present. It is not yet practicable to harness the tides. It undoubtedly will be done later, however. Only on a small scale and under unusual conditions has energy been derived from the sun directly. Solar engines are not profitable. It is cheaper to make steam by burning coal or oil. There are some internal sources of heat inside the earth, like volcanoes, etc. They have been used slightly.

Anthracite coal will be entirely exhausted in 60 or 70 years. Bituminous coal will last 3,000 years. Peat, lignite, and other low grade fuels will last still longer.

Oil in the United States will be all gone in 40 or 50 years. The oil outside of the United States will last a little over a century. We are using throughout the world 1,250,000,000 barrels of petroleum per year. There is less than 150,000,000,000 barrels of oil in existence beneath the crust of this planet.

Oil shale is a curious sort of rock, which contains ingredients from which oil can be artificially manufactured. This oil contains some gasoline, but is such a tremendous quantity of oil shale in the world, that we can safely count on having gasoline for our automobiles for 10,000 years. The cost will be 30% to 40% greater than it is now, but we shall not run out of gasoline, and even if we should, we could still use alcohol, made from vegetation. This is a remarkable resource, manufactured each year to replace what was used during the year. If the worst came to the worst and we had to use alcohol for this purpose, we could do so, provided we could keep the right crops growing in sufficient abundance.

And that leads to food. Here is where the first pinch will come. The population of the world doubled during the last 75 years. When it doubles again, it will reach the saturation point. Some parts of the earth are there now. It will take at least 200 years to double again. The birth rate is decreasing. The death rate has been reduced but the length of life has not been extended. The average age in the United States is older than it was 20 or 40 years ago. The country is becoming a country of elderly people.

Man depends on plants for sustenance. He can live only on other living things. Meat comes from animals, which, in turn, depend on plants. We cannot live on food made from minerals. Vitamins are absolutely necessary. Plants are grown in the soil and the amount of soil is limited. When the limit is reached, there will be trouble, and plenty of it. No remedy is apparent.

Man has not conquered nature. He humors nature and manages to get along after a fashion. We depend on our environment. The idea of the brotherhood of man is forced on us by the necessity of co-operation in the wise use of our resources.

The measurable internal resources of man consist of a generalized body and a highly specialized brain capable of immense adaptability. Ants and bees have a social life in which the life of the individual is worth absolutely nothing. Man is trying to develop a social organization and preserve the value of individual personality. Man is the result of heredity, conditioned by environment. His heredity sets limits to his development.

There are non-measurable internal resources. Personality is an entity which does not depend on the physical or material substance of the body. Man responds to non-measurable stimuli. You are aware of another's personality by what he says and does. Your own subjective existence you know about without physical means. Man is satisfied with life only when he develops his internal resources. Man does not create beauty. He discovers it. The artist gives physical expression to something already existing. He permits a non-physical resource outside of himself to be displayed so man can see it.

The non-measurable external resources can be described only in terms of value. They have no form that can be measured. Some were not in existence in ages past. Many will not come into existence for ages yet to come. The beauty of the sunset, the glory of the dawn, and the great music like Beethoven's were all unknown and unappreciated when the world was young.

Next Sunday, Easter, Prof. Mather will speak on "The Life Everlasting."

GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

Edward E. Whiting of West Newton, will address the Massachusetts State Society, D. R., at the Hotel Vendome on Thursday, April 24th, on the "Undying Spirit of New England."

The Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., of Newton, of which Mrs. Dorothy Fernald Lehrer is the regent, will act as the hostess chapter.

The meeting will be opened by the customary salute to the flag followed by the singing of the Tercentenary Hymn to America. The words for this song which is so appropriate for the year 1930 were written by Clara Endicott Sears. She has just presented to the State Society, D. R., five hundred copies to use at this meeting on the National D. R. Society holds their convention at the Hotel Statler in May. The music was written by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian. Mrs. John Merrill will lead the singing with Miss Elizabeth Jack at the piano.

The musical part of the program will be furnished by two members of this chapter. Miss Elizabeth Jack will render piano solos and Mrs. Richard Brown will be the soprano soloist accompanied by Miss Elsie Critchett Bouby.

At the close of the program a tea will follow. The following members of the Nathan Fuller Chapter will preside at the tea and coffee: Mrs. Walter MacAdam, Mrs. Henry Cross and Mrs. John Howard Field, Jr. The chapter members will assist in serving.

"The Eve of the Revolution," a motion picture to be shown at the Children's Museum of Boston April 19th, at 3:00, is a striking interpretation of the state of mind of the people who lived through the smoldering decade beginning in 1765 and ending with the actual outbreak of war. The film includes scenes of the significant battles that preceded the big blaze—the Stamp Act, Boston Massacre, Boston Tea Party, Salem Assembly, and the others. At the end of the picture Paul Revere and William Dawes, Jr., saddle and ride. Admission is free.

Visitors to the Museum on the 19th are invited to inspect the miniature model of Paul Revere's house on the stair way. The model shows the living room and front bedroom of the Revere house, with exact reproductions of the furniture. In this house Paul Revere was living at the time of his famous ride. The model is the gift of Miss Frances Curran and the work of Mrs. Oliver E. Williams of Boston.

Coins of many nations, many of them contributed by John O'Brien, a Jamaica Plain boy, make a popular new exhibit on the second floor. Among them is a "piece of eight," the old Spanish silver dollar, which the pirate in Treasure Island talked so much about. From this came our own silver dollar. Five-franc pieces of the time of Louis XVI and Napoleon III; a New Jersey penny dated 1787; a coin of India with inscriptions in Arabic and Sanskrit, and an Egyptian shilling with the words "the year of Mohammed 1392," and the coinage date 1919, are unusual bits.

NEWTON WOMEN INTERESTED

Newton women are playing a prominent part in the third annual benefit performance of the Charlotte Cushman club which is to be staged at the Colonial Theatre, Friday afternoon, April 25, and the proceeds of which will go toward maintaining the club's beautiful home on Marlboro street, which takes care of the stage girl on tour who otherwise could not afford the better hotels.

Local women serving on various committees include: Mrs. Mark Lawton, Mrs. R. E. Emerson, Mrs. H. M. Richardson, Mrs. George C. Dutton, and Mrs. F. W. Sargent, and they announce that one of the greatest collections of professional theatre talent ever gathered in one city have volunteered their services, including Fred Stone and his two talented daughters, Dorothy and Paula.

POLICE NEWS

The identity of the person responsible for the attacks on three babies at Nonantum square on April 10th has not been discovered. Two of the babies were apparently scratched, but the third, Ira Rubin, 15 months old of 58 Pembroke street, Newton, had a wound on his face which, according to Dr. Abraham Udelman of Boston, was caused by some sharp instrument. One young girl claimed she noticed a man loitering by the baby carriages and the police also received information from a resident of Newton that her maid had observed a middle-aged woman near the Rubin baby's carriage.

The new court house for the Newton district will be erected on the east side of Elm street, West Newton. The site is at the rear of the building erected two years ago at Washington and Elm streets by Bennett Rockman. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet on Elm street and narrows to 50 feet at Cherry street. It is bounded on one side by the Cheese Cake Brook easement. Parking space for about 30 automobiles will be provided on the Cherry street end of the lot.

POLICE NEWS

Complaints have been made to the police that women in this city have been victimized by fake hosiery salesmen who obtained payments for silk stockings which were never delivered. An alleged "black hand" letter was received last week by Elmer B. Thomas, 3rd, of 146 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill. The police were inclined to believe the letter merely a hoax.

Burglars entered the home of John Markward, 11 Elliot avenue, West Newton last Friday night by forcing a window in the dining room. Jewelry was stolen, including a diamond lavaliere valued at $300. The theft was discovered when the family returned from a theater shortly before midnight. Last November this house was broken into and a diamond ring stolen. Frank C. Hall of 110 Webster street, West Newton is manager of a chain grocery store at Trapelo road in Waltham near the Waverley line. Mr. Hall left the store about 11:30 Saturday night and was waiting for the West Newton bus at the corner of Trapelo road and Waverley Oaks road when a coupe was driven up with two men in it. One of the men alighted and flourished a revolver in front of Hall and grabbed the bag which the latter was carrying. When Hall tried to hold onto the bag the robber struck him a violent blow inflicting a cut on the left side of Hall's head. Snatching the bag, the gunman jumped into the coupe which was rapidly driven off. Hall endeavored to obtain the registration number of the car and thought it was 58051. He notified the Waltham police who found that this number was for a car registered in Jamaica Plain and which had been in a garage all Saturday evening.

At 4 a. m. Sunday a coupe bearing the plate number 58051 was abandoned on Pleasant street near Watertown square. This car is the property of Sumner Cahoon of Medford a former Tufts College football star and manager of a box factory. Waltham police accompanied Hall to Cahoon's home where Hall positively identified the Medford man as the person who assaulted and robbed him. Cahoon indignantly denied the charge and stated he was in a night club at Boston when the robbery occurred, and that he went from the night club in a car owned by Gordon Olsen of Medford and accompanied by Miss Louise Wadsworth of Walnut avenue, Cambridge. He alighted from Olsen's car at Miss Wadsworth's residence and later walked from there to Medford. For some reason he did not go to his own car which he stated he had parked Saturday afternoon at Harvard Square, Cambridge. He did not know, he said, of his car having been on Pleasant street, Watertown until notified by the Waltham police. Cahoon will be tried in the Waltham court today.

Child Health Day.
Mr. Sloan's Flourine.
Taking Religion Seriously.
Bees as Detectives.

PRESIDENT HOOVER, designating May first as "Child Health Day," urges parents and all others to co-operate.

These are some ingredients of child health: Fresh air and sunlight—they cost nothing.

Regular hours, long and regular sleep. They cost nothing.

Eating slowly, which costs nothing and develops teeth and jaws, avoiding adenoid and other troubles.

Good simple food, with variety, from day to day. That costs trouble principally.

While designating a child health day, the Government might think of the mother's health, also, and the disgraceful fact that this nation leads all others, civilized, in the number of mothers that die in childbirth for lack of competent attention.

If a sow is about to have a litter, or a cow a calf, the Government stands ready to advise and help through the Agricultural Department.

For the expectant human mother there is no such help.

The District of Columbia Supreme Court decides that the Administration's oil conservation programme is illegal, presumably, because it is based on conversations and agreements among big producers.

How else could conservation be accomplished? Why not make it a felony for two American business men to speak to each other.

How great is money's power. When the Turkish Sultan lived to cross the threshold of his harem was death. Now, by Kemal's order, you may enter and look around on payment of twenty-five cents. For that small sum you see the bed in which the beautiful Sultana Kersem, called for her beauty "Body of the Moon," was strangled by the Sultan's order with the cords of her bed curtains.

Among others of our great industrialists, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., head of General Motors, appropriates millions each year for scientific research. Thanks to this wise and profitable course, followed by the nation's greatest corporations, Steel, Standard Oil, etc., important discoveries are made in many directions.

A General Motors laboratory devoted to improving artificial refrigeration, the mechanical ice box, has produced a new substance called flourine, a combination of flourine, chlorine and methane. Poured into a receptacle the flourine "boiled" at a temperature 15 degrees below zero.

Dr. Midgley, whose research work is sponsored and financed by Mr. Sloan, placed his face above the flourine, allowing its fumes to enter his mouth. He then breathed gently upon a flame and it was instantly extinguished.

What would be the value of a flourine agency down below?

At Point Barrow, Alaska, natives have been near famine for lack of land game, with mountainous ice choking the harbor and making fishing impossible. Early on a recent Sunday morning the ice disappeared, but no native went out in his kayak until midnight.

They are Christians now and take seriously the good missionaries' warning that if they fish on Sunday they will learn, later, something about heat unknown in Alaska. Those Christian natives would be surprised to see prosperous, civilized Christianity, here and elsewhere, playing golf, fishing and otherwise not taking religious teachings too seriously.

Prohibition agents observing honey bees flying straight in one direction, coming back zig-zag, the worse for wear, discovered a large whiskey still. This column suggested that honey bees might help prohibition agents.

M. M. Levand, owner of the Wichita Beacon, telegraphs: "Vice squad here tried out your honey bee theory and it worked. Led police raiders to liquor still. Mailing you copy of Sunday Beacon with full details and pictures. Believe you have discovered solution of wet problem."

It will take more than honey bees to solve the wet problem. You must persuade tired business men to respect the Constitution and the liquor law among other laws.

White mice, highly sensitive, were used in the trenches to detect poison gas, before men could perceive it.

If bees could detect the presence of whiskey stills and lead prohibition agents to them, that would be interesting. But it would not end bootlegging.

Scorpions near Durango, Mexico, are unusually venomous. Their poison makes a serum to counteract their sting.

Entire families of Durango are hunting scorpions for the Mexican Health Department, which pays two and one-half cents (American) for each live male scorpion, five cents for each female, the lady scorpion being far more poisonous than her husband. This fact in natural history will appeal to some prosperous American ex-husbands, now paying alimony.

for Economical Transportation

to choose a SIX!

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no rumble or drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting, longer-satisfying automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No other automobile consumes less gasoline and oil. No other shows a lower expense for tires. And no other car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high resale value.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes; a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear; four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a heavy, rigidly-braced channel-steel frame. And it gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance . . . and for economical transportation!

HOLD REUNION

On Saturday, April 12th, the Camp Quanset girls, living near Boston attended a reunion tea at the home of Mrs. J. B. Melcher, 16 Garden road, Newton, Mass., where they met Mrs. E. A. W. Hammatt, Director of Quanset, and her granddaughter, Miss Anna M. Hammatt of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The youngest campers from six to twelve years played games on the lawn and tried their skill on the trapeze, rings, or swing—as the spirit moved them—while the older girls, some of whom were in Quanset back in 1905 when the camp started, enjoyed visiting with friends in the house.

Miss Eleanor Braden of Beverly, Mass., gave a delightful little puppet show with hand puppets and later explained to the girls how she is to teach them to make stringed puppets and put on little shows of their own this summer at Quanset.

Mrs. Thomas West of Nonantum St., Newton (Quanset 1915-16) and Miss Mabel Melcher, 35 Berwick road, Newton Centre, presided at the tea table.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

Easter Sunday will mark the opening of the Spring Season of the theatres in the Boston district. The Paramount Theatre will have William Powell in the "Street of Chance" for the main feature. This is the story of a recent murder in New York in which a well known gambler was slain because he stacked the cards, a story which the N. Y. dailies could not publish. Opposite Mr. Powell will be seen Kay Johnston and Jean Arthur and Regis Toomey. On the same program will be beautiful Marion Davies in "Not So Dumb," a story from the play, "Dulcy," which enjoyed such a long run on the speaking stage in Boston. Thursday Friday and Saturday George Arliss will be seen in "The Green Goddess" from William Archer's international Stage play. On the same program will be seen Charles Ruggles and Helen Morgan in "Roadhouse Nights." As an added attraction the management has made up a novelty comedy entitled "An Old Time Movie Show," featuring Charlie Chaplin. This will be the closing week of the Pageant of Progress Month and this picture will show the decided contrast of a movie show 15 years ago and now.

The Paramount Theatre management wishes to announce that the theatre will remain closed until 3 P. M. on Good Friday, in reverence of the Easter Season.

Rev. Robert L. Rae, Pastor Of North Congregational Church, Passes Away

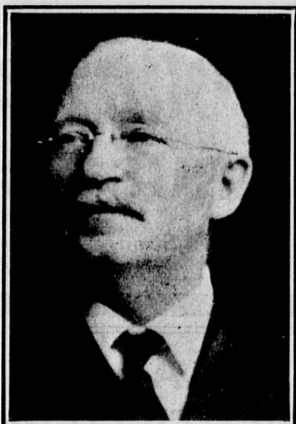

Was Pastor There For Sixteen Years—Impressive Funeral Services Held Wednesday

Rev. Robert L. Rae, for the past 16 years pastor of the North Congregational Church, Newton, died suddenly Sunday night at his home, 40 Bridge street, Newton, aged 62 years. He had been ill only since Thursday morning, when he was stricken with a heart attack. A second attack Sunday night caused his death.

He was a native of Dumfries, Scotland, and came to America at the age of 15. He started his religious career as a soloist in Evangelistic work at the age of 20. His first pastorate was at West Wareham and later he became assistant pastor at the Porter Congregational Church and pastor of the Wendell Avenue Congregational Church, Brockton. In 1896 he was called as pastor of the Waldo Congregational Church in Montello, and remained there 10 years, resigning to accept the pastorate of the Congregational Church in Camden, N. Y., where he served eight years. In June, 1914, he accepted the pastorate of the North Congregational Church at Newton, where he had achieved much success and endeared himself to the entire community regardless of race or creed.

He had served as a pastor in the Christian Ministry for 42 years, a record shared by only about a score of others in the state. Wherever he served he was greatly beloved. His nature, though a quiet one, was ever cheery, and companionship with him was always a pleasure and a privilege. He spent his life helping others. His interest in youth was deep seated. He was always happy with young people. He followed the children and young folks of his parishes through all the years of their lives noting their progress and successes with satisfaction and delight. He was one of the most faithful and beloved of the Christian Endeavor ever had.

A loyal citizen of his adopted country he worked constantly for the welfare of city, state and nation. His patriotism was of the sort that shows itself only in the lives of those who fully appreciate citizenship in the land of the free and home of the brave.

No group of young men left the city for war service that he was not there to bid them, by his presence, God-speed. Known or unknown to him, they were still his boys.

Wrong done to him by others he never remembered. The good in all men counted with him. He forgot their faults. His bright outlook on life and his brighter outlook on the future lent a charm to his preaching. Death to him was simply a doorway opening into another room in the Father's House. His faith and confidence in the future convinced his hearers that Heaven is very near—"All around us, and yet out of sight."

The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the North Congregational Church. The edifice was filled with parishioners and friends of the dead pastor and the chancel was hidden by a mass of floral tributes. The services were conducted by Rev. Albert Pierce of Revere, a close friend of many years. Rev. E. C. Camp of the Watertown Congregational Church read from Scripture and eulogies were given by Rev. Ray A. Eusden of Eliot Church, Newton, and Dr. Pierce. Prayer was offered by Rev. Horace H. Holton of Porter Congregational Church, Brockton. Franklin Field, baritone, sang "In the Garden" and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." The pallbearers were W. E. Lowry, Edwin O. Childs, Charles Centrebar, Willard Frye, Irving Fletcher and Pierre Vuilleumier.

Gov. Allen Speaks At Claflin Club

Church Men's Club Has Annual Ladies' Night

Governor Frank G. Allen was the guest speaker at the Annual Dinner and Ladies' Night of the Claflin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church last Monday evening. Responding in a humorous manner to an introduction by Mr. George W. Taylor, President of the Club, the Governor proceeded to give an interesting survey of the humanitarian work which is being done in the Commonwealth. Massachusetts today occupies the place of leadership in health work among the states of the Union. She is the first state to provide hospital care for her citizens afflicted with cancer as she was thirty years ago the first to establish hospitals for the care of the tubercular. With her sixteen state institutions for the care of the mentally ill, the five institutions under the Department of Public Health, and the great number of municipal and private institutions, Massachusetts leads in the hospitalization of her seriously ill. She leads again in prevention work with her habit clinics for the prevention of insanity, her cancer clinics, and with the regular examination of school children by specialists. Visitors from other states and from foreign countries are continuously visiting the State House to study the health program of the Commonwealth.

Governor Allen is also proud of the financial progress which Massachusetts has been making since the war. Her bonded indebtedness has been greatly reduced and she is now carrying out her aggressive program of modernizing her state institutions from the current expense fund. She shows an increase of seventy-two per cent in running expenses in the last fifteen years while one hundred and twenty-one per cent is the second lowest increase among the states of the Union. The Governor gives the credit for this excellent showing to the use of modern business methods in the administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth and he finds a great satisfaction in the thought that these accomplishments have taken place during his service of more than a decade on Beacon Hill.

The musical program of the evening consisted of selections by "The Crinoline Girls" with Miss Norma Jean Erdman as soprano soloist and Miss Arlene Grossart as accompanist, and cello selections by Miss Marion Moorhouse. "The Crinoline Girls" symbolize the trade mark of the Tlesion and Hollingsworth Company, one of the oldest paper companies of Boston. Mr. Arthur V. Howland, vice-president of the concern, was an invited guest.

The awarding of the bowling prizes of silver cups is always an interesting feature at the Annual Dinner of the Claflin Club. This year the members of the winning team were Messrs. A. C. Bellinger, Ernest DeKalb, A. H. Purdy, Raymond R. Young, and Henry H. Farnham. Mr. Ernest DeKalb maintained the highest average of 99 throughout the

Grant Dance Hall Permit At Norumbega

Two Aldermen Against It After Much Discussion

An interesting discussion took place at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night regarding the granting of a permit for a dance hall at Norumbega Park. The lower part of the large outdoor theatre will be converted into a dance hall. The majority of the Licenses Committee reported favorably on this matter. Aldermen Holden and Temperley dissented. The former stated that he believes the people of Auburndale should be given an opportunity to voice their views on this matter at a public hearing. Alderman Temperley gave this same reason for opposing the permit. Alderman Ball referred to a petition for a dance hall at the park having been refused several years ago. Alderman Gordon corrected him by saying that this petition was for a hall outside the park grounds and not conducted by the park management.

Alderman Hawkins stated that prior to last year dancing had been conducted in the large restaurant at the park. Alderman Smith of Auburndale said that the park management has assured the Licenses Committee that the dance hall will be conducted on the same high standard which had characterized Norumbega Park during its many years of activity. The dancing will only go on during the three summer months and the license may be revoked at any time should the amusement become a nuisance. Alderman Floyd of Auburndale told of having talked with many residents of that village regarding the dancing and found no opposition. He believes it (Continued on Page 8) tournament and Mr. Fred Becker had the highest three string total of 326 while Mr. Melvin C. Clay had the highest single string of 149. At the request of Mr. Taylor, the Governor graciously presented the cup to a respective winners. An informal reception closed the evening's program.

More Gasoline Filling Station Hearings

Aldermen Have Busy Session At Monday's Meeting

"Coming events cast their shadows before them." The conversion of Boylston street in this city as part of the new direct traffic artery between Boston and Worcester will make this thoroughfare a desirable location for gasoline stations. Nils Eng desires to obtain a permit for a gasoline station at 14 Eliot street, Newton Highlands. This locus is just off Boylston street. A hearing was held on Mr. Eng's petition at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night. James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for Mr. Eng and explained that the property in question has a frontage of 150 feet on Eliot street and a depth of 250 feet. The rear of the lot adjoins the Boston & Albany railroad and the land is in a business zone. He stated that an attractive service building will be erected and the station will be conducted to conform to every standard of safety.

The petition was opposed by Miss Margaret Belger and Miss Mary Belger of 2 Eliot street, who said their family has owned this property for 60 years and they don't care for a gasoline station at their door. They contend the corner of Boylston and Eliot streets is dangerous because of the bus lines running by and the sparks which fall from the locomotives on the railroad would be a menace to a gasoline station.

Mrs. Amy Snow of 5 Eliot street opposed the station because pedestrians would be endangered owing to the lack of sidewalk on the corner near where the station would be located. Henry E. Wry of 1006 Boylston street asserted that it will be an imposition to have three stations within 100 yards. He did not carry favor with the Aldermen, as he told them his neighborhood seemed to be a target for gasoline stations and the Aldermen did not consider the protests of the people of that section at two previous hearings on gasoline station petitions.

Other hearings on petitions for gasoline station permits were those on the petitions of J. V. Monaghan's Sons at 13-15 Auburn street, West Newton, and Louis Boudrot for a station at 112 Needham street, Newton Upper Falls. Henry Whittlesey appeared for the Monaghans. He argued that by having a station on the corner and keeping the place open, the traffic hazard there will be lessened. Alderman Chase informed the Board that he had received a protest from an owner of abutting property. There was no opposition against the Boudrot petition.

Goodman and Stone, who are interested in the development of property near Montrose street, objected to a permit being granted to N. P. Cutler (Continued on Page 4)

Water Commissioner First Employed by City as Rodman When Sixteen Years Old

J. Clifton Whitney, Water Commissioner of the City of Newton, and the oldest employee of the city in point of service, has tendered his resignation to Mayor Sinclair Weeks, to take effect May 11 next. The Commissioner, who is 71 years old, entered the service of Newton when he was 16 years of age, under the city's first mayor. He will be retired on pension.

Immediately upon his retirement, Commissioner Whitney announces he will go on a vacation, the first he has had in twenty years except for two days and four hours which he took a year ago while attending a convention as representative of the municipality. He is in good health and will visit some of the places he has wanted to visit. Moreover he plans to indulge in his hobby of collecting rare books and autographs of which he has a valuable collection.

Mr. Whitney is a native of Newton and one of its best known residents, having lived in Newtonville most of his life, and at 41 Austin street for many years. The town of Newton was just growing into a municipality when he entered the service. His first employment was with the city's engineering department as a rodman, but after six months, and during the second term of James F. C. Hyde, Newton's first mayor, he was transferred to the newly created water department where his first work in the department he now heads, was that of outside man locating and staking out mains and in measuring and plotting service for house connections. In this type of work he labored for two years until called into the registrar's office at City Hall.

Here he was rated as an inspector, although his duties besides reading the few meters then installed, included keeping the books and doing all sorts of odd jobs assisting the man in charge. He was part of the organization when the first section of the city's reservoir on Waban Hill was constructed and when the second and later the last two sections of this reservoir were built. He has been in charge of the department during all of the period when the great extension of the water works of the city took place, planning a great deal of it personally and actually supervising the work himself.

In 1888 he was appointed Registrar of the Water Department by Mayor Heman N. Burr and 10 years later when the board of water commissioners and the office of Registrar and Superintendent of the Water Works were abolished by City ordinance he was named water commissioner. That was 32 years ago and in all of the time since he has been almost wholly responsible for the development and extension of Newton's water supply.

When Mr. Whitney became commissioner the average daily consumption of water amounted to 1,800,000 gallons of water. Today the average daily consumption of water in Newton amounts to 4,400,000 gallons of water. During "dry June periods" particularly the one of last year the consumption has at times risen to 7,000,000 gallons in a single day.

"Newton's water supply has its source in Needham," Commissioner Whitney declared in explanation of the condition of the city's supply as he leaves it. "There the city owns a tract of 600 acres which has a frontage two miles along the banks of the Charles River. On this land we have two large wells, situated half a mile apart. From these wells, the city's water supply, reinforced by some filtered river water, is pumped into the reservoir, which is capable of storing over 10,000,000 gallons of water.

"The supply is adequate for years to come and the quality of the supply—perfect white water—is today the finest. There isn't any better water. And water is still the cheapest known commodity in general use. For $10 per year, the minimum charge to residents of Newton, a person gets 30,000 gallons of water—a rate of 100 cubic feet for 25 cents; approximately 750 gallons of the finest drinking water for 25 cents. The annual consumption in Newton today is about 60 gallons per person per day, but of course such an amount includes not only drinking water, but water for household needs, and manufacturing needs as well.

Commissioner Whitney has been a member of the New England Water Works Association for many years and formerly was the president and secretary of the association. He is also a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers.

HOME RUNS WIN FOR OUR LADY H. S.

Home runs by Billy Gramzow, Jimmy Manning and Jimmy O'Neill enabled the Our Lady High school baseball team to open the Catholic high school league season at Victory Field Wednesday with a 9 to 7 victory over the St. John's H. S. team of Cambridge. St. John's won the championship last year.

Murphy was on the mound for the local team and he pitched good ball most of the way. He fanned eight and passed but two although the Cambridge batters touched him for ten hits. St. John's took the lead with a three run rally in the second and added a fourth in the third. In the seventh another three run rally put the visitors ahead again, 7 to 4. Our Lady scored all its runs in the same innings as the visitors. In the second Gramzow's home run with Cannon on base accounted for two tallies and in the third Manning hit for the circuit with Fitzgibbons on the paths to tie the score. In the seventh, with St. John's three runs ahead, the home team staged a five run rally to clinch the game at 9 to 7. In this frame the feature was O'Neill's homer with one man on.

NEWTON ARCHERS

Dr. Paul W. Crouch, twice national archery champion, led a field of fifty archers last Saturday in the first competition for the Cummings Cup at the Newton Centre playground. He scored 1140 in the morning on 176 hits and 605 in the afternoon on 89 more. Second place went to A. W. Dick of Worcester who totalled 1065. A. W. Bell of Newton Highlands with 877 was the only other local archer to place.

In the women's tournament in the Columbia round Mrs. C. G. Norton of Newton Centre was the only local archer to place. She scored 56-278 for fifth place.

In the junior American round Billy Dimond of Newton scored 602 on 136 hits for second place.

SPORT NOTES

Town Team Opens Season

The Newton Town Team opened its season last Saturday at Lincoln Park, Somerville, against the Somerville Cubs, recognized semi-professional champions last year and was defeated in a close and exciting game 4-3.

Pat De Luca, who is well known as a developer of players in Newton will again manage the team and also do the catching. The line-up includes Jim Hickey and Bill Haley of St. Mary's, Charlie Murphy and Nels Lane of Boston College; Paul Quinlan and Art Geary, Our Lady's High, Bob Dalton, Newton High; Bill Quinlan and Buck Windsor, Blackstone Valley League; Cy De Luca and Gyp Lawless of Boston University and H. Waterman, the one-armed pitching star.

This team made a creditable showing last year losing only ten games out of forty played.

DeMille Twirls Victory

Spencer DeMille, former Newton high captain and first baseman, is playing his second year on the Westworth varsity baseball team. Wednesday he pitched a 3 to 1 victory over the Boston University freshman team which is captained by Arthur Wilson, former Newton high player who was the leftfielder when DeMille was captain. Wilson played third base for the Newton team last year and is playing the same position for the B. U. Cubs. Wilson starred for the B. U. team with two hits in five times up, one of which scored a baserunner to save a shutout. Six hits were all that DeMille allowed while he fanned four and passed three. He also got one hit in four tries. In the ninth inning DeMille pitched himself out of a deep hole when B. U. had runners on second and third with none out. He struck out Lebowich and caused Wilson and Semino to fly out.

Exeter Blanks Norwood

Exeter Academy, captained by Frank Spain, former Newton high star athlete, shut out Norwood high at Exeter on Wednesday, 8 to 0. Spain scored two runs, collected two hits in three times at bat and had three chances in the field. Bob Bennett, also a former Newton high athlete, caught part of the game and scored one run. He singled on his only trip to the plate.

Dummer Tops Country Day

Dummer Academy pinned an 11 to 10 defeat on the Country Day school baseball team Wednesday at South Byfield. Country Day scored five runs in the third, one in the sixth and four in the ninth to take the lead but Dummer kept creeping up and a four run rally in the last of the ninth gave them a one run margin.

Ober Places Sixth

To Finish New Football Field

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday an appropriation of $16,905 was made to complete the grading of the new football gridiron at Claffin Field. It is understood that this amount does not include the construction of the running track around the field but only that portion inside the track. It is planned to sow a special turf seed that will permit the use of the field next fall by the football team.

NEWTON SHUT OUT IN LEAGUE GAME

Dewey Vacca, Everett high school pitcher, shut the Newton high school baseball team out, 5 to 0, in the opening game of the Suburban league season on Monday at Claffin Field. Wet grounds forced a postponement of the game from Saturday morning to Monday. The Everett twirler fanned thirteen Newton batters and allowed but two hits, one a hot grounder by Bennett which the visiting third baseman could not handle and the other an infield roller back of the pitchers box which George Kraber beat out.

Everett got a one run lead in the first inning when Yavarow of Everett popped a scratchy hit over Bennett's head. O'Brien tried to sacrifice but popped to Fine. A passed ball by Fine while Yavarow was stealing second allowed the latter to continue to third. Vacca struck out but while Lund was at bat Yavarow made a clean steal home on Dalton's windup. The cold weather tightened Dalton up and as the game went into the fourth inning he began to lose control. He passed the first batter who went to third on a passed ball while Coviello was at bat. The latter fouled out to Fine for the first out. Dalton pitched three straight balls to DeVenute and gave way to Kraber. Kraber's first pitch was a ball and DeVenute walked. He stole second. Conley sacrificed to squeeze Rogers over the plate with Coviello moving up to third. Yavarow cracked a liner to left field which Dalton, who went to that position, Hildreth moving to right field and Colby coming out, when Kraber went to the box, played poorly only to see it go over his head for a home run. Kraber hit O'Brien who stole second. Vacca hit a high fly to right center field which both Hildreth and Elrod went after. Hildreth got his hands on the ball as Elrod crashed into him and the ball dropped to the ground. Both Elrod and Hildreth were momentarily knocked out by the impact and Butler, first baseman, retrieved the ball and threw to Fine at the plate. Vacca, meanwhile, had crossed the plate but failed to touch third base. His teammates started him back to touch the base. As he started for the plate again, Fine ran over and tagged him out to end the inning. Kraber allowed but three hits in the final five innings and only two men saw second base in that time. He started a double play in the fifth by spearing Gagliardi's hot liner and doubling Lund, who had drawn a pass, at first.

Newton threatened to score but twice during the game. In the first inning after both Doucette and Elrod had fanned Dalton got a life on Yavarow's error, and moved to second on Bennett's hit. Hildreth hit to the third baseman who tagged out Dalton on the baseline. In the second Colby drew a pass and Barry sacrificed. Butler hit a fly to right field which Lund dropped, putting Colby on third and Butler on second. Fine and Doucette both fled out to the first baseman. In the sixth Dalton got a life when the catcher dropped a third strike but Bennett forced him at second. Hildreth hit to the third baseman, who lost the ball and Hildreth was on first and Bennett on second. Vacca bore down and fanned Kraber and Barry. In the ninth Litchfield, batting for Barry after two were out, was safe on Yavarow's error and took second on a passed ball. Butler fanned to end the game.

SPORT NOTES

Warren Out Of Game

Edgar Warren, former Newton Centre youth, third baseman of the Yale varsity baseball team, is temporarily out of the game with an injured finger.

Milton Net Team Wins

The Milton Academy tennis team blanked Country Day school last Saturday on the Milton courts in six singles and three doubles matches.

Andres Gets Three Hits

Harold Andres, playing left field for Dartmouth, collected three hits out of five times up in the game last Saturday with Wesleyan University which the Green won 8 to 7 with a five run rally in the seventh.

With Bridgton Team

Everett Scheinfain and Bill Sutcliffe, both former Newton high athletes, are outfielders on the Bridgton Academy baseball team which will play two games in Greater Boston over the week-end. They are scheduled to play the Harvard seconds this afternoon and tomorrow will meet the strong Somerville Cubs semi-pro outfit.

NEWTON GOLFERS LOSE FIRST MATCH

The Newton high school golf team opened its season on Monday with Arlington high on the Arlmont Country Club links and were shut out in all three foursomes. Charles Anderson of Arlington had the lowest score with an 82. The Summary:

Looney and Nelson (A.) beat Harris and Hubbard (N.); Power and Cohen (A.) beat Fleming and Indrisano (N.); C. Anderson and Y. Anderson (A.) beat Hancock and Wilson (N.).

The Newton team is handicapped by the loss of Bill Donnelly, state junior golf champion of 1929, and other good golfers through ineligibility.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. J. W. Blaisdell was the speaker at the meeting of the Fellowship Club held last Monday evening, April 21st. He told of his recent trip to Mexico by way of Havana, and returning by the inland route through New Orleans. In addition to his very interesting talk he brought to the Newton Association the greetings of Mr. M. C. Taylor, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of the City of Mexico, who was the guest speaker at the Annual meeting last May.

In the candle pin tournament two teams have already qualified in Group 1 for the grand roll off which will probably be held next Monday evening. These teams are composed of Fred L. Trowbridge, Herbert C. Fraser, Carl C. Perry, H. W. Bascom, and Lawrence Trowbridge (Team 4), and Hugh Boyd, Dr. Leslie Russell, Dr. Cameron Rae, Charles Duke, and Thomas Wallwork (Team 3).

Camp Day Notes

Mr. John W. Farley, a third year student at Yale University, who has had a wide experience in camping and directing boys, will assume the head campership of the junior camp, at Camp Frank A. Day this summer.

He comes to the camp after having had four years experience in the Life Camp and also the Flatbush Y. M. C. A. Camp. He has majored in life saving and aquatic in crafts and has done considerable work in the woodcraft program of camp. He is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., and will be associated with C. Evan Johnson, head counsellor of the senior camp in promoting the program of activities for the coming season.

Dr. Harold P. Freeman, a graduate of Harvard Medical School, has been secured for Camp Physician and he also has had a wealth of experience along the medical line in camp work. He will receive his degree in June and has had two years clinical experience in children's diseases and accident work. He is a native of Somerville and for four years was with the Harvard Glee Club. He conducted the Glee Club in High School and also was soloist in Appleton Chapel Choir, Harvard University.

With the addition of these two men to the already strong staff of Camp Frank A. Day, it seems that we have all that could be wished for in the line of leadership.

Reservations are also nearing completion as over one hundred boys have signified their intention of going to camp this summer.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

The first performance of "The Country Cousin" a comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington and Julien Street, was given on Wednesday evening, April 23rd, in the Unitarian Parish Playhouse in Newton Centre.

It was a refreshingly delightful evening. Tarkington's humor has an appeal all its own, and in this play the striking contrast of the Middle West with the gold and glamour of the East, give opportunity for many subtle lines. The scenery was most effective. The typical "parlor" of the small town was perfectly set, even to its engravings and "what not." The second act, an Eastern villa by the sea, was most beautiful. Rarely on a small stage has such an effect been obtained, the backdrop with the appropriate lighting effects being specially beautiful.

The cast was a rather large one. Miss Barbara Crossley, a graduate of the Leland Powers School, took the role and won all our hearts. East or West, it made no difference, she won us by her sincerity, cleverness and charm. Mr. Wesley Dynes, as George Tewksbury Reynolds, 3rd, gave a most finished performance of that most important personage, Miss Winifred Raynor as "Eleanor," was as charming, frank, and sincere as Booth Tarkington makes his young heroines, and we were glad to see her return to her first love, Sam Wilcox, cleverly played by Mr. Norman B. Powers. Mrs. Marshall I. Stone took the part of the grieving mother, while Mr. C. Roderick Clifford played the long absent parent. His new wife, who cleverly manipulated many "strings," was convincingly and excellently portrayed by Verna Dynes. Miss Adelaide Lincol, Mollie Draper and Dr. Sibley Littig supported her in her mad quest for gayety. Walter Holmes giving a perfect characterization of Cyril Kinney, who loved "tea-parties." Mr. Carleton W. Baxter as the jeweller's representative, and Philip I. Stone as the incomparable Pruitt, rounded out the cast. Everyone of which gave a splendid performance.

The most striking note was the finish of the performance as a whole, and too much credit cannot be given to Hope Parks Spencer who coached the play. It is seldom that amateur performances reach this state of perfection, and we congratulate The Village Players on their achievement. Two more performances of this play will be given on Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

SHOULD MARRIED MEN WORK?

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's League of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton was held Tuesday evening. Nearly one hundred were present with the members of the Men's Club of the Newton Methodist Church as specially invited guests. Mayor Sinclair Weeks was the guest speaker of the evening. He spoke on proposed civic improvements, the new city hall and war memorial, and the importance of economy and of accomplishing the most with available funds.

Another highlight of the evening was a debate upon the question "Should Married Men Work?" between teams from the Methodist and Baptist churches. The Methodist team, composed of Messrs. Eldred Peterson, Arthur Mansfield and Royal Waring, took the negative side and the Baptist team, composed of Messrs. Fred H. Tucker, Fred L. Smith, and J. W. Blaisdell, were on the affirmative.

Mayor Weeks served as the chief judge and was assisted by Judge Alonzo West and Frank W. Chase. The chief argument of the negative team was that the women were away from home most of the day and that the men should stay at home to see that the children in the family were properly brought up. Another argument they presented was that the woman of the house obtained the entire family income anyway and it should be their duty to make it. The affirmative side scored heavily when Mr. Tucker presented the argument that it was necessary for the men to work in order to establish the home, which is the foundation of American life. At the close of the debate the judges conferred and announced that they could not reach a decision and that the "jury had voted to disagree."

Do You Know?

That Dr. J. Mace Address, the author of the popular health readers and textbooks used in the Newton schools is a resident of Newton?

Dr. Address is one of the foremost leaders in the field of health education. He is the author of many text-books, and assistant editor of the American Medical Association's magazine "Hygeia", a contributor to such magazines as the Journal of the National Education Association, and an able lecturer.

As a result of his study of the psychology and pedagogy of health teaching, Dr. Address advocates making health teaching attractive through songs, games, stories, etc. As early as 1918 he published two books on this new method of teaching the subject. These books attracted wide attention. He was then asked by the Commissioner of the United States Bureau of Education to study health education methods throughout the country and to lecture at universities, colleges, and teacher associations. When he returned from this tour he wrote, in collaboration with Miss Mabel C. Bragg, former Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Newton, a government bulletin, "Suggestions For a Program of Health Education in Elementary Schools."

Dr. Address has had many honors conferred upon him because of his fine work in promoting health education for our children. We are privileged to have him as a fellow resident of Newton and an unofficial friend of our children. Dr. Address served two years as Chairman of the Health Committee of the Newton Central Council and took an active interest in the establishment of our pre-school clinics.

SCHOOL NOTES

The assembly of April 16, we had the pleasure of listening to Miss Doris Greenwood of the Massachusetts Junior Safety Council. She appealed to all of us about helping to prevent accidents during the Tercentenary celebration. She especially appealed to the Boy and Girl Scouts. She told us the number of children killed and injured last year. A great many of these cases were due to carelessness.

Two pictures on "Safety" were shown. The titles were "Men and Machines" and "Don't Be a Goose." The first picture showed a man telling his boy about the necessity of caring for one's body.

The second showed a girl who ran into the street and did not think to look to see if there were any cars coming and she was run over and her leg was badly hurt.

Fashion Show

The Fashion Show which was held in the Warren Junior High School auditorium, April 15, was a great success.

As each model came out the lecturer spoke about the dress she had on, the complexion of that particular model and the color of her hair.

After the fashion show there was an exhibit in rooms 9 and 10 of the work which the clothing classes had been doing.

Movies

Thrift

On April 17, we had 100% in thrift. $141.53 was deposited. There were 664 pupils at school that day.

POLICE NEWS

Fred G. Hughes, the burglar who was captured last week at West Newton and who confessed to burglarizing four houses in that section was in the district court at West Newton last Friday and was held in $80,000 bonds for the Grand Jury.

Charles H. Foster of 29 Virginia road, West Newton, and Charles H. Phippen of the same address were sentenced in the Superior Court at East Cambridge last Thursday when found guilty of committing serious offenses which involved three young West Newton girls aged 12, 14 and 15. Foster, a negro hailing from Texas, was sentenced to serve from seven to ten years in State Prison. Phippen, a well known colored resident of West Newton, received a sentence of from 2½ to 3½ years. Both pleaded guilty.

Assistant District Attorney Volpe, who prosecuted the case sent a letter to Chief Burke commending Special Officer Thomas Burke and Patrolman James Goddard. He said—"The officers certainly had a very difficult case to handle and the manner in which it was done was very commendable."

Henry G. MacLeod of Brookside road, Newtonville, was fined $100 in the Newton court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor. Joseph Ladd of Lanark road, Brookline, was arrested early last Friday morning by Patrolman O'Connor and Cummings charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried today.

Hyman Shelman of 94 Dalby street, Nonantum, was given a suspended fine of $20 in the Newton court Saturday for buying old metal from minors. On March 8 some Nonantum boys stole a copper conductor from the Earnshaw Mills and on the following day sold it to Shelman for junk, receiving 62 cents. He testified that he paid the money to the parents of the boys. The young thieves were apprehended by Patrolman J. J. Murphy on March 15. John McGlynn of 117 West street, Nonantum, was arrested Sunday night charged with neglect to provide for the support of his aged father. In the Newton court on Tuesday he was given a suspended jail sentence of six months.

They were held for the Grand Jury in $500 bonds each. They had returned the stolen articles to the proprietors of the shop before they were arrested. The theft occurred on April 19.

Francis M. Fahey of 496 Main street, Watertown, was fined $100 in the Newton court Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on April 13 by Serg. Whitehead, Wollaston, $25, speeding; Carleton Graham, 19, Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, speeding, $5, not stopping at a through street, $5; Water Muther, 25 Atwood street, Wellesley, failing to slow down at a street intersection, $5; Charles Barker of Theurer park, Watertown, was found not guilty by Judge Lloyd Allen on the charge of driving so as to endanger. Patrolman Mooney testified that on the morning of Sunday, April 13, Barker drove a car along Watertown street at the rate of 45 miles an hour, skidded, and hit a parked automobile, causing slight injury to an occupant of the parked car. Judge Allen reprimanded Patrolman Mooney for having arrested Barker after the accident instead of allowing him to go and getting a summons for him to appear in court. He also contended that Barker's car could not have been travelling as rapidly as the policeman testified, because the car it skidded into had no windows broken. He found Barker not guilty.

WHAT'S THIS? A worn-down tire in a tire advertisement?

Yes, sir... exactly that! And with good reason. Any tire looks good when it's new. It's the way Silvertowns look after long punishment on the road that makes us proud of them!

This tire is one of the 62 that went out with the Silver Fleet. It made the whole 30,000 mile trip without a single difficulty. This picture shows it at the 22,517-mile mark. Shows how it looks after battling its way across two dozen states.

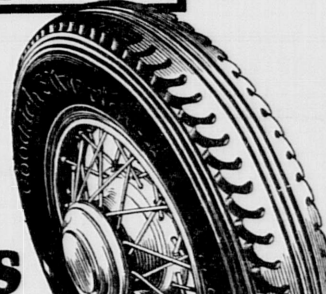

And look at it! Match it up with tires you know that have gone that far! Compare it with your own tires! Any question about Silvertown being a better tire now?

MISS BRAGG ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT—SUCCEEDED BY CALISTA ROY

Miss Calista Roy of Bemis has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of the Newton schools to succeed Miss Mabel C. Bragg. For the past five years she has been elementary supervisor in the Waltham schools. Because of her experience as a teacher and supervisor the School Committee believes she is well qualified to carry on successfully the work Miss Bragg has been doing.

She is a graduate of Fitchburg Normal School, supplemented by one year of college work and many more recent extension courses. Her early teaching was in Newton, in New Jersey and in Springfield. Her success was attested by the fact that she was one of a few teachers receiving a super-maximum salary. From Springfield she came back to Newton to take charge of the Barnard School. Later, she transferred as principal's assistant to the Franklin School.

For several years she has been director of Americanization work in the City of Newton and was secretary in the superintendent's office for three years, leaving five years ago to take up her work in Waltham.

In tendering her resignation from the Newton School Department, Miss Bragg sent the following letter to Superintendent of Schools U. G. Wheeler:

My dear Mr. Wheeler:
I am writing you to ask you to inform the School Committee that I am applying to the Teachers' Retirement Board for retirement to date from September 15, 1930. In order that I may accept a position which Boston University has offered me in the School of Education.

I wish to express to you and to the School Committee my very great appreciation of all the rich opportunities that my position in Newton for the last fifteen years has given me. These years have brought splendid opportunity for professional growth and service.

It has been a distinction to be connected with the Newton schools and a great privilege to serve under so wise a leader, in whose rare judgment and splendid educational ideals I have such great confidence.

Will you extend to the School Committee my heartfelt appreciation of their trust in me and their continued recognition of my service?

I have great reluctance in giving up my work in Newton and wish to express here my gratitude for the support and co-operation that I have received from the school officials, the teachers, the children and the community, and to thank them all for the many opportunities and honors that have come to me.

Yours very truly,
Asst. Supt.

W. C. A. is doing not only for the young women of the city itself but for those of the whole metropolitan area also.

I understand that the Newton Y. W. C. A. which had a separate existence for some years has merged with the Boston Y. W. C. A. which is now carrying on extension work and offering the greater facilities of its splendidly equipped new building.

I hope that the present campaign of which Mrs. C. Clark Macomber is chairman for this city will meet with a most cordial and generous response from the citizens of Newton. SINCCLAIR WEEKS, Mayor.

THE REV. ROBERT L. RAE

The death on Easter Sunday of the Rev. Robert L. Rae, for sixteen years pastor of the North Congregational Church, is a distinct loss to the people of his community. His parishioners, and especially the young people, in whom he took a keen interest, will miss his kindly counsel and leadership in the future.

CLEAN UP WEEK

The Mayor has designated the week beginning May fifth as "Clean-up Week" in Newton and the street department has announced a schedule of collection which will enable property owners to rid themselves of the accumulation of rubbish in yard and cellar during the winter months. Newton is rightly called the "Garden City of the Commonwealth" and the coming week will give us all the opportunity to make our streets, yards, lawns and buildings as neat and clean as possible. With Tercentenary celebrations planned for the coming months many visitors will undoubtedly be attracted to this city and its citizens are urged to co-operate in making the city worthy of its name.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Don't forget to set your clock ahead an hour before retiring tomorrow night as daylight saving goes into effect at two o'clock Sunday morning and will be with us for the coming five months. The saving of daylight hours, permitting those engaged in industrial occupations as well as many others to enjoy far greater recreation than under standard time, has proven its case in this state since the adoption of the plan over a decade ago.

Newton Tercentenary PAGEANT PARAGRAPHS

By CHESTER A. DRUMMOND

Editor's Note:—A series of interesting announcements concerning the production of the Newton Tercentenary Pageant on June 2nd, 3rd, and 4th on the Newton Centre Playground, will be presented in this space each week, by someone directly concerned with the arrangements. The first is by the author of the pageant, Mr. Drummond, who has been instructor in Religious Drama at the Tuckerham School, Boston, and has given special courses at the Emerson School of Oratory. He is Chairman of the Pageantry Committee of the Religious Arts Guild, and Chairman of the Drama Committee of the Religious Education Department of the American Unitarian Association. While in New Orleans, Mr. Drummond was an active member of the Les Petits Theatre du Vieux Carre. He is also the author of several pageants.

"The matter of a pageant in connection with the observance of the city's three hundredth anniversary was carefully considered at some length, by a committee carefully chosen. Why did the Committee heartily and unanimously recommend that a pageant be given, and why did the larger committee appointed by the city, accept the report, and in turn, suggest a generous appropriation for its production?"

"It has been said frequently that a people indifferent to its own past, can have no present worth speaking of, and deserve no future. It is the function of the historical pageant to bridge this indifference and thus to lend a new dignity to our own day and to inspire such movement as shall make for a better future. It will be seen that the primary purpose of the pageant is not to entertain, but to stimulate and inspire a greater loyalty to the best and deepest interests of the community as exemplified in the lives and deeds of the founders. Our celebration is not alone a commemoration of the achievement which made the town possible, it is an expression of the hope that the ideals of the founders may still prevail, and that in looking back upon our civic history, upon its great moments of courage and loyalty, not only shall our old men dream dreams but our young men shall see visions.

"And what more fitting way could there be for a community to make its past live again than through the inclusive art of the drama? Here is the opportunity for a goodly number drawn from all parts of our city, to re-enact a deed in which the Town, and not an individual, is the hero. It is the nature of pageantry to call to its service all the fine arts, as well as the interest of many people. Thus through color, as expressed in light and costume; through the rhythmic movement of the dance, and in the out-of-doors where we draw strength from the earth and the magic of sky and tree, we invite you to come where the spirits of the Founders, for the length of a brief summer evening, 'Claim their ancient domain. Men and women, come ye all,—And little children hasten ye. Come at the silver trumpet's call, Swift unto our pageantry!'

to move a garage onto his property at 44 Montrose street. Their objections were for the reason that the one car garage is of metal construction and is not in keeping with the attractive development of the neighborhood.

There was no opposition to the petition of John Marr for a permit to erect a 10-car repair shop at 67 Lexington street, West Newton, or those of the Texas Company for additional tanks at 769 Beacon street and 1149 Walnut street; said tanks being for the purpose of storing the de luxe grade of gasoline.

Robert L. Ryder, of Lexington, owner of several acres of land which the city contemplates taking for playground purposes near the Cochituate aqueduct and Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, objected to the city taking only the best section of his land and leaving him with the less desirable part. He wants the city to take all or none and gave notice that he expects to receive in payment the full value of the property. James P. Gallagher, appearing for Haynes A. Hernandez, stated that his clients own part of the land included in the proposed taking and are willing to co-operate in every way in this project.

Chairman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee reported favorably on the renewal of a license for the billiard tables, bowling alleys, intelligence offices, junk collectors, express wagons and taxis. The Licenses Committee placed restrictions on several licenses. Louis Govoni's lunch room at Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, must close at 11 o'clock nights. There has been much discussion over this lunch room. Until recently it was on the other side of the avenue. When Govoni applied for a change of location several months ago, his license transfer was held up because of complaints made regarding the alleged drinking of liquor in this lunch room, the liquor having been brought in by customers. Complaint was also made because of the noise made by automobiles leaving from outside the lunch room after 11 o'clock. Mr. Govoni's friends contend that he is being persecuted because of enmity fomented by a business rival. Cloff's pool room on Adams street must also close at 11 o'clock as a result of protests made by Charles Bryson and other neighbors who complained of noise made by patrons of this place late at night.

James C. Heffron was given a permit to alter the garage building at 966 Watertown street, West Newton, and to install three outside pumps in front of the garage near Davis Court. A part of the wall now located at the junction of the court and Watertown street will be razed. John Cambera was given a permit to conduct a repair shop in the cement building at 13 Hawthorn street. This building is to be sold to a company which services steam automobiles and which makes small steam boilers.

The Licenses Committee turned down the petition of Jacob Cron for a junk license at 101 Lexington street, Auburndale. Cron, a Waltham junk dealer, had been collecting junk in this city without a license. He purchased the Lexington street property to qualify for a license as a Newton resident, but has been repeatedly told he cannot have a license at this location as it is not in a business zone. Chester McQueen who asked for an express license was also turned down as this location is also not in a business zone.

The ordinance relating to the John C. Chaffin Educational Fund was amended to allow the Mayor to appoint seven instead of five trustees. One of the additional trustees will be the Chairman of the School Committee.

Appropriations made by the Board included:—sewer in Tamworth road, $4266; sewer in Elgin street, $957; laying out and improving Willow road, $5081; corner on Lowell road, $5081; corner on Highland street, $639; sewer in High School field, $1978; sprinkler system at City Home on Winchester street, $1490. This latter sum was appropriated at the request of the Chief of the Fire Department following the fatal fires at Brockton City Home and other similar institutions where persons are housed. Other appropriations were:—construction of Milo street, $5664; Noble street, $7316; Gilbert street, $4212; grading High School football field, $15,905.

POLICE NEWS

Edward T. FitzGerald of 582 Newbury street, Boston, was in the Newton court yesterday and was found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. He was charged with being the operator of the automobile which, on the night of April 13th, crashed into the traffic signal at Washington street and Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, causing slight injuries to a woman who was a passenger in the car. FitzGerald denied that he was operating the car at the time of the accident. So did George Murphy who was also in the car. They denied having told the police on the night of the crash that FitzGerald was the driver and testified that they were both drunk when the accident occurred. FitzGerald was fined $100 and the fine was suspended by Associate Judge W. Lloyd Allen who was on the bench.

Mrs. Marjory O. Liming of 48 Ballard street, Newton Centre, was fined $20 in the Newton court yesterday for refusing to move her car when requested to do so by a police officer. She appealed. Traffic Officer Cummings testified that he had asked Mrs. Liming a few times to move her automobile from an area at the corner of Summer and Beacon streets on which parking is prohibited and that she had refused. Mrs. Liming contended that her car was parked beyond the prohibited area.

John J. Collins of Waltham was fined $75 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Allen for driving while under the influence of liquor. Collins was the operator of a car which collided with another car at Newtonville recently.

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

Did you realize that the number of children killed and injured in automobile accidents in Massachusetts in 1929 was double the number killed and injured in 1923?

Mr. Driver: For how much of this are you responsible by giving lifts to bummers and encouraging them to be in the streets?

THANK YOU!

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Legislation providing a pension for the widows and other dependents of policemen and firemen killed in the performance of their duty has been passed at this session of the General Court in such a way that it is believed that a problem of many years' standing seems to have been solved. At least there now appears to be something comprehensive and the annual discussion before committees and in the two branches over pension bills for policemen and firemen killed while on duty will probably be avoided. A bill signed a couple of weeks ago by the Governor directs that the widow of a policeman or fireman killed shall receive $1000 pension annually as long as she remains unmarried. Each minor child up to 18 years is to receive $200 annually. Until this week, however, the maximum total for this purpose was not as great. The bill signed earlier allowed that the amount for pensioning widows and children should be three-fourths of the salary of the policeman or fireman. This week a bill has been enacted which increases the maximum total to the full salary. This latter measure was necessary because three-fourths of the annual salary might not permit of more than two children receiving $200 annually should it happen there were four or more children. Now, with the maximum total including the full salary, a larger number of children may be provided for by the cities and towns by which the policeman or fireman was employed.

The number of committee hearings has dwindled. Still some committees seem unable to clear their dockets and for that reason hearings are held daily. Power and Light has still the question of changing the laws governing electric light and gas companies. Banks and Banking is interested in some of these very pieces of legislation and has had to hold hearings. Municipal Finance has found that municipalities are still seeking authority to build schools and make street improvements and such measures have to be considered.

Director John B. May of the State Division of Ornithology is making every effort to correct a condition that threatens the lives of shore birds. The illegal dumping of fuel oil from steamships, etc., has brought about the killing of many birds. Dr. May says the danger is of the complete extermination of some of the most beautiful species. He is trying to arouse a public protest that will result in some action calculated to put a stop to these happenings.

Two constitutional amendments have been favorably reported by the Committee on Taxation and Constitutional Amendments. They relate to changes in the taxation laws which the special commission on taxation have urged in order to change the method and form of taxation in this State for the purpose of equalizing the burden of taxation. These recommendations were made by the special commission last year. The constitutionality was questioned and the matter was put up to the Supreme Court. The latter ruled that in order to bring these changes about the State constitution would have to be amended. That is a long process. If the two constitutional amendments proposed receive the favor of the Legislature they will be acted upon by the Senate and House in joint convention. If ratified this year they must be sent to the 1931 General Court. If ratified by that body they go the voters and will appear on the ballot in the State election in 1932 when the electorate decides whether or not it wishes the constitution amended in this regard.

The House this week, by rollcall, 106 to 90, passed to be engrossed the bill providing for prompt payment of wages due domestic servants. The measure provides that anytime within three months an employer who has received wages due may complain to the State Department of Labor and Industries. That department may notify the employer and, if payment is refused, the department proceed to prosecute. Failure of the employer to make payment provides a penalty of a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $50 or imprisonment in the House of Correction for not more than two months by both fine and imprisonment. The bill adds domestic servants to the law already in existence affecting employees who are paid by the week. Representative Luitwieler opposed the bill on the ground that the imprisonment provision was too drastic. He saw no need for the bill. On the rollcall Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against the bill.

On Thursday the Senate killed the bill which division of debt. Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted on rollcall against the bill authorizing the Overseers of Public Welfare in Boston to reinstate James S. Kiernan as clerk. The bill was rejected.

Mayor Weeks' bill for authority to borrow money outside the city's debt limit for a new city hall has gone through the House and Senate and is in a fair way of becoming one of the acts of this year's General Court.

Gov. Allen vetoed a bill permitting appeals from decisions of department heads in removals under civil service to be tried in the district courts. The Governor said it would break down the civil laws and make a department head reluctant to discharge an employee who should be removed for cause. The House sustained the Governor, the Newton Representatives voting in his support.

AUBURNDALE RESIDENTS ASK THAT NO BUILDING PERMIT BE GIVEN TO GUN CLUB

As a result of an item printed in the Waltham News-Tribune that the Waltham Gun Club intends to rebuild its clubhouse at the Auburndale-Waltham line, a delegation of residents of Auburndale visited Buildings Commissioner Chadwick and urged him not to issue a permit for a new building to replace the one recently destroyed by fire. Residents of Auburndale and West Newton within a half mile radius of the clubhouse have had their nerves wrecked the past year because of the "sneak" meetings held at the club grounds. "Sneak" shooting is the new name for hunting clay pigeons, and according to the disturbed residents of this city, Fourth of July has nothing on the noise coming from the gun club Saturday afternoons and holidays. The gun club was fined $50 in the Newton court for maintaining a nuisance, but an appeal was taken and the decision reversed in the Superior Court. Then, the Auburndale residents presented a bill before the Legislature which aimed to give municipalities the right to control gun clubs and promiscuous shooting of fire-arms. The bill was too drastic and was turned down.

DANCE HALL AT NORUMBEGA PARK

is better to have young people dancing at Norumbega Park under proper supervision, than parked in automobiles on dark roads in Weston. Alderman Gordon of Auburndale also favored the permit. He called attention to the financial struggle the park has had for some years and believes the dance hall will be much less objectionable than some of the mechanical amusement devices which have been at the park. The only Aldermen voting against the permit were Holden and Temperley.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The Hospital was well remembered at Easter Time. Many lilies and other plants and flowers were received so that every ward and patient had fresh flowers or plants. The reception hall and administrative offices each had their share, also.
The Hospital is grateful to those who have helped in the surgical supply room. This assistance is much appreciated and others who feel they have an hour or two to spare and would like to be of help will be welcomed at any time. The surgical supply room in the new building, unlike that in the old, is large and airy, with plenty of light from large windows. There is a graduate nurse in charge under whose direction the work is done. The room is open from eight to five daily, including Saturdays, and helpers will be welcomed at any time. We will be glad to have anyone who is interested get in touch with the Superintendent's office by telephone.

During the next week, Headquarters will be open only by appointment, as there is much to be done at Camp Mary Day. Junior Troops will go there for "Clean Up Day" on Monday, April 28th, and the Seniors on Wednesday. Should either of these days be stormy, the girls will go on Thursday.

Tuesday, April 29th, is the day of the Annual Meeting of Metropolitan Division at Cedar Hill, Waltham. All Council members, Troop Committee members, and officers are invited. Reports of the year's work will be given and plans for the coming year discussed.

The Newton Local Council is very proud to announce that Mrs. Walton S. Redfield has consented to become their Commissioner. Mrs. Redfield has been most active in Scout work for many years. She received her Ten Year Stripe at the December Rally. She has been Captain of a troop, Examiner for the Hostess Merit Badge, and of course, Captain of the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps. She is a member of the Newton Local Council, and the past year has seen her as Chairman of the Camp Committee. The Annual Meeting has been produced under her efficient management. All Newton is very glad to welcome her in this new capacity.

Newtonville Scouts did another unusual and most worthy while bit of Community Service last week, when under the direction of Mrs. George Reche, Captain of Troop 22, and Chairman of the Newtonville Troop Committee, they made cookies for disabled soldiers. Home made cookies are something these men do not have and they appreciate them very much. The girls put up 100 bags of cookies, each bag having 6 different kinds in it. They then took them to the Naval Hospital in Chelsea and gave them to the men there, who received them with great glee.

THE STEVENS SCHOOL

The annual parents' meeting was held on Wednesday evening, April 23rd, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dresser, Hammond street, Chestnut Hill. A large group of parents was present to hear a most interesting discussion of Progressive Elementary Education as it is being carried on in our modern schools, both public and private.

Mrs. Helen W. Stevens, director of the Stevens School in Newton, which is an open air school for little children, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Eugene Randolph Smith, principal of the Beaver Country Day School. Mr. Smith contrasted the school of today in methods of teaching subject matter, of discipline, of character development. Subjects are made real to the child by relating them to every day life, so that learning becomes a joy rather than the painful process which was thought necessary under the old method. Discipline is from within rather than from without, and is therefore more permanent and constructive than the type which is inspired by fear.

Mr. Smith, finally, in discussing the use of so-called Intelligence Tests, urged that parents realize that there are many types of intelligence, and that the ability to absorb learning from books is only one of them. There are people who are primarily "doers," and their intelligence needs training which may come from other sources than the acquiring of a university degree.

There is a constant need for old linen for compresses. Any donations of old linen and old sheets to be used for this purpose will be greatly appreciated.
Three members of the administrative staff of the hospital attended the funeral of Miss Linda Richards, the first trained nurse. Miss Richards was the first applicant for admission, and the first graduate of the school of nursing at the New England Hospital established in 1873. She was superintendent of the Training School at the Mass. General Hospital, and of the Boston City Hospital. She later organized a school in Kyoto, Japan. Returning to America she headed schools of nursing in Philadelphia, Roxbury, Brooklyn, Kalamazoo, Hartford, and Worcester. In recent years she has been in ill health, and since 1925 confined to hospitals. She died on April 16, at the New England Hospital for Women and Children, at the age of eighty-nine.

Beginning the month of April with only 127 patients in the hospital, the number had increased last week to 169, and now has risen to 182. Of this number 73 are paying as much as cost of care, or more, 71 are paying partial cost of care, and 38, including babies are receiving free care. 16 babies were born during the past week, 8 girls and 8 boys. 111 patients visited the out-patient department, and 8 the eye clinic. 1 patient was visited by the social worker, and 3 transported by the social service car. 17 accidents were admitted to the emergency ward.

Eight of the seventeen accident cases admitted to the emergency ward during the past week were automobile accidents. Three of these were men; one with a laceration of his chin and lip, and a fractured knee cap; one with a laceration of his scalp and abrasions of his elbow; and one with a lacerated knee. One woman was suffering from a lacerated knee and lip, and contusions of her face, and another from a fractured arm. Two girls were treated, one for lacerations of her forehead, and one for a fractured collar bone. One boy was treated for an injury to his ankle bone received when he fell while taking a moving truck. Five men were treated for various injuries: one for a laceration to his forehead caused by a baseball bat, one for a dislocation and fracture of his left arm caused when he fell from a tree, one for a fractured toe caused when he dropped a cake of soap on it, one for a wounded elbow caused when he fell while taking a shower bath, and one for a bruised leg caused by a stone thrown by boys. One woman was treated for a foreign body in her eye and another for a fractured finger caused when she jammed it in a door. A girl was treated for a fractured arm caused while roller skating, and a boy for a lacerated hand.

PASSION PLAY

The Passion Play of Oberammergau will be reproduced in a dramatic picture lecture by Dr. Harvey Hadlock of California, at the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Hadlock is a noted preacher, national lecturer and world traveler. He is the man who found Anton Lang, Christus of the Passion Play alive when he had been reported killed during the World War.

Dr. Hadlock will reproduce the drama in colored pictures and dramatic expression as he witnessed it at the last production and as it will be given again at Oberammergau throughout the coming summer. The first presentation will be given on May 11, and the last on September 28. It will be given Sundays and Wednesdays beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning and closing at 6 o'clock in the afternoon with an intermission of two hours at noon. The Passion Play theatre has been enlarged at an expense of $250,000 to accommodate the great number of people from all parts of the world who will witness the drama this year.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Hadlock Sunday night and see his Passion Play pictures. The service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hadlock will conduct a select party to witness the Passion Play this summer on the invitation of Anton Lang.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

The officers and members of the Norumbega Union regret the loss on Easter Sunday of a true friend of Christian Endeavor, Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Congregational Church, Newton. Rev. Mr. Rae served as pastoral counselor of this Union for many years and was the first to conduct our Easter Sunrise Services. At the April Union meeting, held at his church, Rev. Mr. Rae brought a fine message during the devotional period, and his kind counsel will be greatly missed in the future.

Many young people from the North Congregational and West Newton Baptist Church were present last Sunday morning at the annual Sunrise service held under the auspices of the Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union at Waverley Oaks Reservation. Easter hymns were sung, accompanied on the trumpet by Lawrence Kinney of Newton. Following a brief devotional period, the Easter message was brought by Rev. Harry H. Upton of the Waverley Baptist Church.

Last Tuesday evening at the close of the regular Union Cabinet meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodman, 309 Lexington street, Watertown, a miscellaneous shower was given Miss Helen Lassman of Waltham. Following the shower of many beautiful gifts, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Woodman. Among the Newton young present were Walter Upham, George Blue, Newton Jones, Bessie McCasie, Susie Simmons and Norma Larson of the North Congregational Church will be in charge of the Endeavor meeting at that church next Sunday at which time the subject will be "What is a Useful Life."

Ralph Colby, vice-president of Norumbega Union, will conduct the Young People's Meeting at the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church next Sunday evening. All young people are cordially invited.

Over 800 Endeavorers of Middlesex County attended the annual County convention in Framingham last Saturday. Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton addressed the young people in the afternoon session at which time the officers for the year were elected as follows: Ralph Colby, Norumbega Union, president; Herman Decker, Sagamore Union, vice-president; G. Elizabeth Nelson, Cambridge Union, secretary; Mabel Grant, Progressive Union, treasurer; Walter Pingree, Sagamore Union, auditor.

The loving cup for attendance was presented to Sagamore Union, the large picture of Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of Christian Endeavor, being again presented to the young people of the Everett Congregational Church for having the largest number present from one church.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

There were nearly 300 children and other friends in attendance at the Good Friday services for boys and girls in Waltham. This program was a co-operative affair between the District Association and the Waltham Federation.

Plans are well under way for the Daily Vacation Church School to be held in Newton Centre this coming summer. This undertaking is sponsored, financed and supervised by the Newton Centre Council of Religious Education, of which Prof. James B. Berkeley is president. Another school is also being planned for Newtonville by the local Council of Religious Education.

The International Council of Religious Education, of which the State and District associations are auxiliaries, will hold a convention this year, June 23-29, in Toronto, Canada. Such a convention is held once in four years, and seldom as near to New England as this year. It is hoped that a goodly number may avail themselves of the privilege. Two Directors of Religious Education in the District, Miss Natalie Ham and Miss Isabelle Chute, plan to attend. Others may also be planning to go, but the District Secretary knows as yet of only these two.

This Convention is making special provision for the pastors who attend. Dr. F. C. Eiselein of Northwestern University is in charge of these conferences which will deal specifically with the pastor's relation to the church school. The "Call" for the Convention says, "It is the growing conviction of church leaders that the pastor is the key to successful religious education in the local church." The slogan of the Convention "Every Church a School in Christian Living" emphasizes the fact that all the enterprises of a church are educational to its youth and its children. Not only the Sunday School lessons, but the attitudes of the older members, their ideals, their activities, their actions, constitute a part of the religious educational program of the church—whether for good or ill, who can say?

MAYOR WEEKS COMMENDS POLICEMEN

Bernard F. Burke, Chief, Newton Police Department, West Newton, Mass.

Dear Chief Burke: I want to take this first opportunity through you to congratulate the department and particularly Sergeant King and Special Officers Burke and Feeley for the arrest of a notorious burglar reported in the press April 17th. This particular piece of work, together with one or two others of a similar nature occurring within the past month, must be very heartening to the people of our city and must demonstrate to them that the officers and men of the department are at all times striving to protect their interests and to produce satisfactory results.

It is a great pleasure to me to be able to write such a letter and in passing on a word of commendation to the men actually involved in the arrest I hope that they and the department as a whole will feel that I am speaking not only for myself but for all the residents of Newton as well. Very truly yours,

SINCLAIR WEEKS, Mayor.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BATHHOUSE

Ground was broken on Monday for the new bathing and skating pavilion at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, which will form a part of Newton's extensive playground system. This is the second major building operation announced by Mayor Weeks. Herbert W. Colby is the architect.

RESCUED AT RIVERSIDE

The start of the canoeing season at Riverside last Sunday saw the usual capsizing of a canoe. The two amateur canoeists comprising the crew of the overturned craft and a fair companion clung onto the frail boat until they were rescued by Patrolman Sanderson of the Metropolitan police who speeded to the scene in a launch.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

People like to have lawns and other people like to walk on them. Those who seem to delight in tramping where they are not supposed to are in the majority and include all ages. Many householders take pride in raising stretches of grass to ornament their grounds. It is part of the beauty of every place and one of the things that give us the right to call Newton the "Garden City". I haven't heard that anybody has been given the right to tread the greensward on everybody's property, but a lot of our population assume it. I'll say it plays the mischief with numerous places, large and small.

The man who does his own gardening, as well as the man who pays to have it done, always studies the lawn question in the Spring. He sees places where more grass seed may judiciously be sown and decides that a quantity of lawn dressing should be spread about. He pays for it, watches over it and takes pride in its growth. Why then should a number of people decide to ramble across it when they know it is displeasing to the owner and ruins the lawn itself?

The edges seem to be the target of people on the sidewalk. Youngsters are the worst offenders and although they may be excused on the pretext that they don't know any better, their parents should not be permitted to escape criticism or rebuke. The man who delivers from the store, the paper boy, the milkman and others are always in a hurry and some of them heedlessly scamper over the grass. That isn't so bad as the tramping down of the lawn edges. If you will notice as you pass through the streets of Newton you will find that apparently our sidewalks are not large enough, and that many folks must crush the edge of the lawn until it is bare. I doubt if widening the sidewalks would accomplish much. These same people would let their children run over the grass just the same and possibly would join them in a romp.

You will see those pitiful signs, "Please do not walk here," "Keep off the Grass," "No Trespassing," "Do not cross here," "Please Take Notice" and such. How hopeless are most of them. Nobody pays the slightest attention except to observe that the owner must be a grouch or he would not post such signs. Well, I don't know what you're going to do about it, unless use it as an argument that we are not so progressive in consideration of others as we try to make ourselves believe.

"It is no imputation on good behavior to become 70 years of age," says the Massachusetts Supreme Court. I have an idea, if one may respectfully comment on the highest judicial body in the State, that the distinguished justice who penned that phrase, with the approval of his colleagues, may have had his own private chuckle at the moment. If you don't happen to know, the court was answering a question of the Legislature as to whether the latter had the right to put judges of advanced years on part-time work as if they were chopping wood or something like that. But judges under our constitution are appointed to serve "during good behavior" and not (and this isn't in the constitution) at the whim of the 286 members of our Great and General Court.

So the speed age of which we so gleefully boast has had a temporary setback and some change will have to be made in our constitution before it may be decided off-hand that a venerable judge is "slipping" and not as "vital" on the bench as he might be. I am glad that we have a constitution for I don't know where we'd land without it. The notions that seize some people, many legislators included, would end in a state of—well, let's not think about it.

If the assertion that one is not open to censure because one happens to be 70 years of age is not the best line that you have read in a long time then I'm off this suggesting business. This is not the age to whack, metaphorically of course, the individual who has attained three score years and ten. In the opinion of some of the younger crowd it may be the finish, but they're all wet as they themselves would express it.

There is much serious attention given nowadays to proper living; much study of how to stay young and all that sort of thing. Gaze about you and see how many of 70 years are far from taking the count. Many men and women are going strong at 70. Some a bit better than that. I am reminded of a line recited by the late A. A. Milne, "The delightful cartoons were signed 'TAD.' Remember it? He said, 'Dear old grandma, we used to put her in bed at 9 o'clock. Now we let her in at 3 a. m.'"

All joking aside it is certainly good news to learn that Massachusetts is going after the mosquito. And as for jokes about mosquitoes they are as old as these insects themselves, which, according to Prof. Robert W. Wales, consulting entomologist of the State Reclamation Board, have afflicted mankind from the days of Herodotus. He says that they swarmed "in prodigious numbers in early Egypt" and he didn't mean Egypt, Mass.

If there is anything noble about mosquito lineage I for one fail to appreciate it and am not the least inclined to lay-off 'em just because "the army of Julian the apostate on one occasion was so fiercely attacked by mosquitoes as to be driven back." I have seen armies of mosquitoes myself and in fact I believe they are all trained fighters. That they should vanquish an army of human beings is no surprise. Neither is it astounding to learn from the writings of Pausanias that the inhabitants of cities in ancient Greece were sometimes forced to abandon their homes on account of mosquitoes making it impossible for them to remain.

Early writings cite other instances where the plague infested the host people of those times and created no of trouble. For all I know it may have been one reason that the human race decided to wear plenty of clothes in hot weather despite the uncomfortable and sticky feeling that goes with this kind of raiment.

My earliest introduction to apparently successful methods of combating these tiny winged creatures was on a farm. Over the bed in the chamber assigned to me as a city boarder I found a sheet of netting suspended. Its color was a deep but delicate pink and it hung something like a tent. In order to fully enjoy its benefits the sleeper lifted it up and crawled beneath. Once with the bed clothing adjusted he found himself protected by the liberal hangings of mosquito netting. In my case it produced a sort of smothery sensation.

As I recall the first night was the hardest. I could not persuade myself that I was not a fish that had been caught off the Grand Banks. So I decided to dispense with the netting. Shortly after I had dozed off I began to realize that if I wasn't a fish I was some kind of a meal and that there were many diners that evening. Well, you know the kind of a night it must have been and why I so well remember all the circumstances.

Now then as to the present hour and its needs. Prof. Wales says, "The so-called pestiferous or non-disease carrying mosquitoes provide the principal problem in Massachusetts." I am ready to stand with him on that. He further says, "There are several species of these mosquitoes so that generally wherever standing water occurs there are mosquitoes ready to utilize it." I agree with the Professor. "Pestiferous mosquitoes," he continues, "are found in all parts of the State, in some places numerous enough only to cause occasional annoyance; in others, such enormous numbers occur as to make the locality they infest untenable." I can testify that I have been in both places but more often in the latter.

I have seen a pleasant veranda group driven to desperation, if going indoors on a sizzling July night is desperation, and I think it is. When invited to occupy a chair and enjoy the company of friends one has a right to feel well satisfied with the world and those about him, particularly the people who have been so nice as to invite him to "come up and sit down." Under these delightful conditions one sits back in contentment. But not for long. Pretty soon somebody slaps his leg, or rather his ankle. Then another swats himself back of the ear. The guests try to conceal their sufferings as politeness demands. But a true host or hostess soon grasps the situation and observes, "Don't you think we'd be more comfortable inside." Thus everything is ruined as far as outdoor diversions are concerned.

If the State of Massachusetts will get rid of mosquitoes there should be a substantial reward paid out of the taxpayers' money to that individual or whatever body accomplishes such an end. Therefore, I am glad to be placed as an ardent supporter of the State's plan of "mosquito control." I would go further, if invited, and join a movement for "mosquito annihilation."

It seems they are trying to arrange a spelling bee, or a hive of them, to celebrate the tercentenary of Massachusetts Bay Colony. Well, they're got a good word right there to start. I'm so cagey about my own spelling that I've got the dictionary open before me and this is the way they're been spelling tercentenary since the time of Noah, according to that man himself. He ought to know because he's supposed to learn all the words having strung them together with care and patience.

I don't seem to remember that I was so fast as some people when we used to line up on sides to try out our individual skill at spelling. As I recollect my name was among the very last to be called when the "captain" was supposed to say, "I choose Saunders." Furthermore, I never suffered from remaining on my feet for a great length of time. Usually I was among the first to collapse and take a front row seat to watch the rest of the show. You could never have made me believe that part of my life would be given over to the job of correcting the spelling of other people. Anybody who told the teacher, "Some day this Bentley boy will be editing newspaper articles" would have been put down as feeble-minded. You never can tell about those things. Well, I just had to learn spelling. The only difference was I put it off as long as I could. And I'm not bragging now. Anybody who handles "copy" and insists that he is independent of the kind offices of the compositor and the proof-reader is a descendant of Hans Andersen, although he may not admit it. The good old composing room has presented many a casualty in the editorial department. Therefore, let me give you a tip. Get into these tercentenary spelling bees to be held next Fall and have a good time. But don't expect to run away with an armful of prizes if you have to compete with a printer.

Plans for the exhibition and sale of art to be held at the Copley Plaza Hotel from April 28th to May 3rd are nearing completion. The proceeds of the sale will be applied towards the debt incurred by the School of the Museum of Fine Arts with the construction of the new building in 1927. Paintings, etchings and drawings by noted European and American artists, several pieces of sculpture and a variety of important textiles, including a large Flemish tapestry, have been collected.

Ethel Barrymore, who comes to Boston for a theatrical engagement, has accepted an invitation to be one of the pourers on Monday.

Newton

The Annual Meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held on Wednesday afternoon,
April 16th, at the Parish House of the Unitarian Church. Contrary to the former custom the business meeting followed the luncheon. The Easter luncheon was served by a special committee, of which Mrs. George S. Fuller was the able chairman. At its close a beautiful basket of flowers was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Francis Newhall.

Because of the limited time, the reports of the officers and committee chairmen were condensed. It is always interesting to look back over a year's accomplishments, so these reports proved once more the feeling that the Club year has been a full and useful one.

The Nominating committee reported the results of its labor, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Thomas Weston; vice-presidents, Mrs. Henry
Weston, Mrs. George Lane, Mrs. Austin Decatur, Mrs. George P. Hatch,
Mrs. Edward Payson Drew, Mrs.
George Larcom; recording secretary, Mrs. Rudolph F. Koops; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Elder; treasurer, Mrs. Ethel P. Leach; clerk, Mrs.
Jennie M. Thompson; auditor, Mrs.
George H. Fernald, Jr.; and Federation delegates, Mrs. Ralph Hatch, chairman; Mrs. Everett L. Upham, and Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones.

At 2:30 o'clock the Music committee, of which Mrs. Grace F. Rice is chairman, presented Mr. David Blair McClosky, Baritone, who gave to the Club a very varied and interesting program. He was accompanied by Mr. Willis Fay.

West Newton Junior Women's Club

The Junior members of the West
Newton Women's Educational Club held their Annual Meeting at the Oriole restaurant, in Wellesley, on April 8th. After a most enjoyable dinner, served in the room at the rear of the restaurant, which was reserved for them, a business meeting was held. The secretary, Barbara Lester, read her annual report and also a prophecy in verse. Jeanne Wolley read the annual report of the meetings for this year, which report was given recently at the Junior Conference, in Dorchester. Priscilla
Bacon read her report of the Fourth Annual Conference of the Junior members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mary Alice Eaton gave the treasurer's annual report.

The Juniors decided to have the girls who become members of the Club after the January meeting pay only one-half the usual dues. Next year the Juniors expect to vote on their own new members instead of having the Senior Club perform this task. Although the age limit has been raised from 21 to 26 years of age, any girl over twenty-one may join the Senior Club if she wishes.

The officers for next year are as follows: president, Jeanne Wolley; factotum, Priscilla Hartwell; recording secretary, Alice Batson; corresponding secretary, Julie Bacon; treasurer,
Doris Jones; auditor, Phoebe Giles; press correspondent, Bernice Macdowell, and scrap book keeper, Barbara Lester.

The Juniors presented to Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley a bouquet of sweet peas, and thanked her for her helpful and inspiring leadership for the past year. Mrs. Fred Blanchard was welcomed as the director for the coming year.

They were glad to have many of the old members back for the Annual Meeting and get-together. All of the Juniors pledged their support to the new president, Jeanne Wolley, and hoped that she would be as successful in the coming season as Constance Dori has been this year.

After the business meeting was adjoined the Juniors danced to the music of the favorite portable victrola.

The Auburndale Woman's Club brought the year 1929-1930 to a close last Thursday. Luncheon served at the Auburndale Club House was attended by two hundred members. The usual entertainment, which is one of the features of the Annual meeting was in charge of the Program committee, and the chairman, Mrs. Charles Floyd, conducted a most amusing meeting of her committee, with the usual tardiness in arriving and profuse apologies for such. Beneath the humor was the under-current of responsibility invested in the Program committee of a large Club. Mrs. Floyd will continue as chairman for another year.

The annual reports and election of officers followed immediately at the close of the little skit, with the president, Mrs. Charles Carter Wilson presiding. There were reports from all committees, from the Business and Professional Group, the Chorus and the Juniors, closing with that of the Nominating committee, Mrs. George S.
Amant, chairman. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. C.
Carter Wilson; first vice-president,
Mrs. Walter Van Pattensteiger; second vice-president, Mrs. Arthur L.
Shaw; recording secretary, Miss Florence L. Bridgman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson; treasurer, Miss Anne E. Bulken; directors for the three years, Mrs.
Charles Valentine and Mrs. Warren
Bucknam.

REAL ESTATE

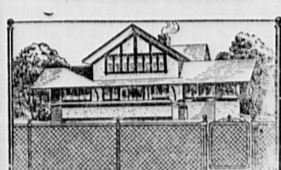

Four lots of land embracing an area of 35,000 sq. ft. on Brackett road, Newton, have been sold by P. Cetrone to Ralph N. Crowell of Auburndale.

Mr. Crowell has started the erection of four modern English type houses which will be completed about August 1st, in time for the fall market.

This land is a part of the estate of the late Miner Robinson and is situated in the Park avenue section of Newton, near Sargent street, and is valued at $10,000.

The Mather Class

"The Life Everlasting" was the subject of Prof. Kirtley F. Mather's lecture on Easter Sunday morning before the Mather Class at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the seventh lecture in the series on "The Reconstruction of Religion."

When the subject of everlasting life is brought up, it is not at all uncommon for people to say that they have plenty of trouble to look after in this life without bothering about any other.

In times past there have been some people who have given so much thought to the future life that they have neglected the present life. They have withdrawn from this world and kept their eyes steadily on their heavenly mansions in the skies, with the result that they have diverted their attention altogether from the economic life of those about them.

Although we should not concentrate our attention on the future life to the neglect of our common duty to our fellow man here, that does not mean that we should go to the other extreme and ignore it. A boy very properly plans what sort of man he is going to be. Those very plans may contribute materially to his welfare and efficiency as a boy. Similarly the adult can contribute to the welfare of the present by an appropriate consideration of the future.

A firmly founded faith in future existence, or in what is going to happen in the hereafter, will make better citizens. But the truth must not be pushed too far or it will become ridiculous. The balanced position of the happy medium is best. Then values will result.

Easter comes at a favorable time to consider these things. It is the spring of the year. We are making plans for the coming season when most of our pleasures come and when weather conditions are most attractive to look forward to. There are many avenues of approach to this subject of the everlasting life. Some of them have been surveyed to the end and found fruitless.

The facts about the future life after the death of the body cannot be ascertained by an autopsy of the body. There's nothing to be learned that way. Many attempts have been made to locate the soul. It can't be found. No organ of the body can be shown to contain the soul. The soul's location is still unknown. Every attempt to discover anything about man's eternal life by physical or material means has failed. Every expression of energy which we can perceive with our senses is temporary and local. There is nothing eternal about man that is externally apparent. A material expression of anything, is not eternal.

Seances, occultations, and incantations of mediums are no good. Every attempt along that line has, for most individuals, failed. You cannot in that way demonstrate to man the continuity of his personality after the death of the body. That is no way to prove the life everlasting.

And now for the proof of history. We have the Bible and other documents, but Prof. Mather confined himself to mentioning these other documents without telling what they were. The reports of the Resurrection are not absolutely identical. This is natural, because several people will not normally report anything just alike. Variations are expected. Prof. Mather said that, historically, the Resurrection was attested no more than other events which are frequently doubted historically. Again, he did not enumerate the other events.

Prof. Mather allowed that something happened on that first Easter but he did not know what it was. He could not explain it or even describe it. He did not think that life everlasting was fixed by a particular incident that occurred at a particular moment of earth history.

Now what is it that we are trying to prove? We desire, of course, to continue an existence which, for the most part, has been pleasing and satisfactory. Our egotism and natural, normal selfishness make us hate to give up the attempt to finish what we have set our hands to do. It is hard to say precisely what we do want, because we want such different things. However, all the world unites in one thing. We all demand of the world that it must be reasonable. There must be some sense to the scheme of things. We do find a rational response to the world round about us. Things happen in a reasonable, rational, and consistent way. The world is integrated. There is a fundamental principle of unification, a part of which we find at every turn.

People display individuality and personality. They have the ability to recognize value in the world. They estimate the worth, in a spiritual way, of works of art, buildings, organizations of society, kinds of conduct, attitudes toward life, and ideas. They recognize value in existence. The most valuable thing yet created in the universe is personality. You must believe this or else deny that there are any differences in value in the star, the quartz crystal, the amoeba, and man.

Prof. Mather said he was not concerned with the street number of his mansion on the pearly street of heaven or how far from the gate it was. The great thing to him was the preservation in the universe of the most valuable thing that the universe has, and this is personality. It must be GARDEN WEEK. National Garden Week has been observed during the past week—April 21st-27th, but its recommendations may well carry over into many coming weeks. In response to the request of the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. John F. Sippel, President Hoover gave the following endorsement to National Garden Week: dated at the White House, Washington, D. C., March 17th:

"I cordially commend the observance of Garden Week for the purpose of creating interest in more and better gardens, from the health and contentment that comes from contact with Mother Earth, for the conservation of our native trees and flowers; and because of the satisfaction that comes from an appreciation of the beauty that trees and flowers add to our homes, school grounds, and city parks.

HERBERT HOOVER."

The chairman of the Committee on gardens, Mrs. W. I. Higgins, of Butte, conservable and it must be conserved. It would be senseless for God or the world order or the curvature of the cosmos (whatever name you wish to apply) to expend the energy and time necessary to produce personality, only to destroy it, especially when it is produced out of such unpromising materials as star dust, the 92 elements, primeval slime, and Devonian lung fish. There is no reason to doubt God's ability to preserve that which has been thus produced. To produce personality in the first place is far more difficult than to preserve its value, once it is produced.

If there is no life everlasting, we must conclude that the world is senseless, insane, and devoid of reason, or else that personality has no value whatever. Neither conclusion is desirable or true. There is life everlasting. What is it? That we cannot tell. There is no hope that we shall ever discover what it is, any more than the unborn child can ever discover what his adult life is going to be. There are many working hypotheses. One is that there is a dissolution of the individual personality and a contribution of it to cosmic personality. Another hypothesis is the continued existence of the distinct and separate entity of each individual. We cannot reach a logical selection. Faith enters in. Faith is required when we commit ourselves to a definite scheme of things, as to belief in the nature of the life everlasting.

Something happened that first Easter. Prof. Mather said he was not interested in the mechanics of a rolling stone or the biology of a resuscitated body. That is strictly personal with him. To him the spiritual reaction of the disciples is the big thing. They had thought Jesus would save the nation. They were broken-hearted at having trusted what to them was the wrong man, who had failed. Then whatever it was that happened resulted in a complete revolution in the spiritual lives of the disciples. They knew that Jesus had not failed.

Jesus was now nearer to them than ever. Whenever we commit our lives to Jesus, we are convinced that He lives today. Jesus said, "Into Thy hands I commend my spirit." That was man's greatest faith and that makes Easter possible today. God will preserve all our values. It is necessary for us to build values into our lives so God will have something to preserve.

We expect a response because Jesus displayed the character of God, demonstrated great faith, and expects us to do the same.

GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

Montana offers the following practical suggestions.

"Have talks on gardening and tree planting and on bird sanctuaries broadcast by radio and press. Ask the management of the moving picture theatres to show films and colored slides of parks, gardens, trees, flowers and birds.

Request every Women's Club, Church, School, Fraternal and Civic organization, Boy and Girl Scout troops, and Camp Fire Girls' groups to plant trees, and have talks on gardening and on nature's beauty spots at their meetings during that week or the week following.

Organize Junior Garden Clubs.

Encourage the children to have gardens of their own, by offering prizes for the best flower and vegetable gardens, apple trees, rose bushes, etc. Adopt for your city some flower that grows easily in the locality, and ask for a general planting of that flower. Urge the conservation of your native trees, shrubs and flowers. Plant evergreens in your home gardens, school grounds and city parks to illuminate next Christmas. Scatter seeds of your State flower along the highways, and, when the Nation's flower has been selected, urge everyone who has a garden to cultivate that flower to perfection.

Illustrated lectures may be obtained from the Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural Colleges, the Art in the Home and Garden Division of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the American Garden Association, Garden City, N. Y.; the American Rose Society, West Grove, Pa., Better Homes & Gardens, Des Moines, Ia., and from local landscape artists.

Have an exhibit of bird houses, bird feeding stations, and bird baths in the shop windows to encourage the building of a bird sanctuary in every garden.

Organize a Garden Club that will have for its object: to stimulate interest in gardening, promote civic improvement, conserve native trees and flowers, protect the birds, hold flower shows and conduct garden contests.

This last suggestion is a city project that could become one of the finest methods of celebrating the Tercentenary, for it would make for all time a city beautiful that would be a lasting Memorial of delight and pride for citizens.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

For the coming week the Paramount theatre will have two of the greatest stars and two of the best pictures ever shown in any one week at the local theatre, Ruth Chatterton in "Sarah and Son" and Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie."

Sarah and Son is a deeply moving story of mother love, effectively dramatized by and played by Ruth Chatterton, quite different from the usual interpretation. There are no heroines, no false appeals to sentimentality, etc., but instead, simplicity and later on a sophisticated outlook on life. It is a picture with appeal for young and old, a stirring story that will live long in the minds of those who see it.

On the same program will be seen Van and Schenck the former vaudeville headliners in "They learned about Women". They sing ten new song hits. Bessie Love plays opposite these two popular stars.

"Greta Garbo talks" that was the flash all over the United States from the studios when this popular silent star broke her silence and spoke before the microphone and they discovered she had a marvelous voice for the screen. In "Anna Christie" she does a marvelous piece of acting and a picture that is doing capacity business everywhere it is shown. In the cast of Anna Christie will be seen Maria Dressler, Charles Bickford, James T. Mack and Geo. F. Marion.

With this program Mary Brian and Gary Cooper will be seen in "Only the Brave" one of the best romances ever written around the civil war. The love of a southern belle for a northern spy is entangled in the great conflict of the North and South, and yet there is not a battle scene in it.

The fourth Pupils' Musical Rehearsal was held in Bragdon Hall on Wednesday evening, April 23.

Miss Avelina Lorenzano, director of children's work of the Philippine Council of Religious Education, will be the speaker at the vesper service on Sunday, April 27.

To Europe for $6, Maybe Japan in South America. Bigger and Faster Ships. Eat Vitamin D.

HERE is real flying news, important to all interested in moving about the earth.

Henry Ford has perfected an all-metal airplane driven by 3 Packard-Diesel motors, burning crude oil. The machine is expected to carry 11 passengers one hundred miles at a fuel cost of $2.16. This means the fuel cost of taking 11 passengers across the continent or across the ocean would be $64.80, less than $6 each. There is no cost for right of way, little for terminals and for wear and tear.

What is more important, in Ford's opinion, is the fact that fire hazards, explosions, carburetor adjustments, electric ignition, all dangerous elements in flying, are eliminated.

"The pilot sits in front of an instrument board like that of an automobile and talks over a radiophone without interference from the motors."

Concerning flying, it is apparently true that "we haven't seen anything yet."

Japan's plan for extensive colonization in Brazil is proceeding energetically. Hashiro Fukuhara, who organized and manages the "Japanese Colonization Company of Plantations in Brazil," has secured 2,500,000 acres.

Hundreds of thousands of Japanese can live and grow prosperous on that fertile soil.

The crops will include cotton, rice, tobacco and the cocoa bean.

Intelligently managed, Brazil's Japanese colony will sell supplies to its members below usual prices. Three million cocoa trees will be planted in the next two years.

The development of cotton lands will, of course, influence world prices established in Europe. Coupled with energetic British development of cotton in Africa, this interests American cotton growers.

Hashiro Fukuhara's idea interests North and South America.

There are fertile lands and opportunity for tens of millions of Japanese in Brazil. There may also be some problems in the Asiatic settlement.

But it is Brazil's problem and business, not ours.

After Germany launched the great steamship Bremen, it was said that British and Americans could not afford a 50,000-ton ship. It would cost more to build and run than it could earn. But launching of the German super-ship Europa, has stirred up the old Cunard Line and it will build two passenger ships of 70,000 tons, each faster than any passenger ship on the ocean.

The first one will be ready in 1933. The British do not mean to lose control of ocean traffic.

The wise Germans announce a merger of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd Lines. The two big companies will "retain their identities," while cutting off needless overhead expense.

W. K. Whitfield wants everybody to know that the Mediterranean fly has disappeared from Florida, only two samples of the larvae found in the entire State since last August. Mr. Whitfield represents 70,000 acres of Florida citrus fruit.

W. J. Hovey, representing 60,000 citrus fruit acres in Lake County, Florida, says the fly has vanished, anyhow it wouldn't amount to much. They have had it in Spain for nearly a century, yet today Spain produces 30,000,000 boxes of oranges against Florida's 9,000,000 to 13,000,000 boxes.

Good news from one part of the country is good news for all of the country.

Sir Thomas Lipton launches his sailing yacht, Shamrock Number Five, to take the cup from America, if he can. A bottle of champagne starts Shamrock the Fifth on her way.

Simultaneously three Americans, Vanderbilt, Aldrich, Astor, launch the cold water boat Enterprise, one of four American boats that will defend the title.

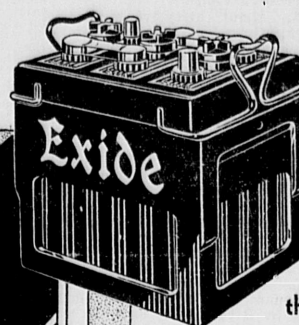

Sailing races are now as unimportant as greyhound races. Excessive depth of centreboards, and reliance on them to offset heavy sail area, make the hull design unimportant.

The interesting fact is that Britons, building sailing boats for centuries, cannot compete with modern American boat builders. Youthful inventive genius is better than aged experience.

Dr. Price, scientist, of Cleveland, says "Vitamin D" prevents diseases called "degenerative," such as cancer, heart disease, influenza and pneumonia.

Dairy farmers will be glad to hear that Dr. Price recommends Spring butter, from the milk of cows grazing in sunshine. This Vitamin D he calls the "Sunlight Vitamin." Cows get the vitamin, stored up by the sun, in Spring grass, and return it in their milk.

NEWTON CORNER

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, April 21, at the Woodland Golf Club, President Charles D. Ansel presiding.

Visiting Rotarians were welcomed at this meeting from Lexington, Watertown and Boston.

Harry H. Hanson, Chairman of the Program Committee, introduced as the speaker of the day Edwin B. Worthen of the Lexington Historical Society who was also a member of the Rotary Club of Lexington.

The speaker, owing to his connections with the Lexington Historical Society, was well qualified to tell us many interesting points about Lexington, Concord and Acton, which many of us had not heard before and the personal touch that he brought into the activities of Revere, Daves, and Dr. Prescott on that memorable April 19th, were most interesting.

He stated that the real Battle of Lexington took place in Arlington where most of the fighting occurred and referred to the Battle of Lexington as "The sacrifice," on Lexington Common, instead of the "Battle," as seventy-seven Lexington men could not show battle against four hundred trained British Redcoats.

On May 5th, the Rotary Club of Watertown will be the luncheon guests of the Newton Rotary Club, at the conclusion of the attendance contest between these two Clubs, which was won by Watertown by a small margin.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included 210 cases of measles, 12 of scarlet fever, 22 of mumps, 45 of whooping cough and 28 of chicken pox. Of the measles victims 96 reside in Ward 3 and 90 in Ward 5.

The Health Department investigated 15 complaints during March and abated 40 nuisances. Thirty samples of milk were tested during March, and inspections made of 13 dairies, 9 bakeries, 155 markets and provision stores.

SERIOUS FIRE AT CHESTNUT HILL

Fire which caused damages estimated at $8000 occurred early Saturday night in the two-family house at 105 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill. The lower apartment of the dwelling is unoccupied. The family of Edward H. McCarthy, occupants of the upper apartment, went to Maine Saturday morning. Neighbors saw a man around the house about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. At 7:30 a passerby saw flames in the upper part of the house and pulled an alarm from Box 85. Rooms in both apartments were badly damaged and the firemen had to work over an hour before the blaze was extinguished.

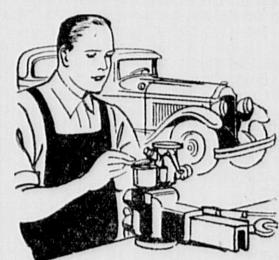

COMPLAIN AGAINST DOGS

Patrick Mitchell of 34 Clarendon street, Newtonville complained to the police last Friday that his son William, 10 years old, had been bitten by a dog owned by Florence Hennessy of 33 Fairview avenue. The animal was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine it.

Thomas Silke of 58 Walnut street, Newtonville complained to the police last week that his household is being annoyed by a dog owned by Harold Skinner of 306 Linwood avenue. The dog was ordered restrained.
